Illustrated Ads Supplant Samples in Promoting Wares

C. R. Docherty of the Baker Bros. Engraving company was the principal speaker before the Omaha Ad club at the weekly luncheon at the Paxton hotel yesterday noon.

"The use of illustrations in Advertising is the topic taken by him. 'Illustrations,' he said, 'make it unnecessary to send samples to the consumers or to the retailers, as was the custom before the advent of photo engraving. Even before a thing is made orders can be forced into the factory by the selling power of the illustrated advertisement. It shows the consumer what he will get. The picture attracts his eye. It is through this medium that the mail order houses have built up the business they have. Their catalogues are littered with illustrations.'

Robert Manley advertising manager for the Brandeis stores, talked to the ad men on the work of advertising the Brandeis thirtieth anniversary. 'From what I am told by the advertising agencies about the country,' he said, 'our advertising campaign of the last week was the greatest of its kind they know of. We published in the local papers sixty pages. Closest to that record is one made by The Fair of Chicago, with thirty-two pages.'

Mr. Manley announced a competitive contest for the best page advertisement of Omaha to be published in Voice, the national advertising men's magazine. Prizes of $15, $10, $5 and five $1 awards will be made in the contest.

The annual "Beehive" of the Omaha Ad club will be given early in May in the Pompeian room of the Brandeis store, according to an announcement made by Mr. Manley.

Commissioner J. M. Guild of the Commercial club closed the program with an appeal for new members to the club.

New Beer Placed on Market by the Jetter Brewing Co.

The Jetter Brewing company of South Omaha has just placed upon the market a new beer called "Old Age," an exact reproduction of the "Old German Style Double Beer." This beer is put in amber bottles because science teaches that beer held in amber glass will not deteriorate and that daylight will not impair the minute particles of albuminoid matter in such a degree as in the case of beer in light bottles. Our forefathers were well aware of this fact, hence they used the old-fashioned stoneware and amber glass in which to place their wine and beer.

"Old Age," the "Old German Style Double Beer," is a master brew, brewed under the close observation of a German graduate brewmaster, who has learned his trade thoroughly, working for years in the foremost German breweries before coming to America. The most skilled workmen in a scrupulously clean brewery, serve this brewmaster. After the beer leaves the kettle it is stored in hermetically sealed glass cased tanks, under its own pressure of fermentation gas, excluding any contact with atmospheric air.

The ingredients used in the manufacture of this high grade "Old Age" are of the highest grade. Nothing but the choicest malt and the finest imported Bohemian hops and sparkling, clear spring water are used in this exquisite beer. In "Old Age," the "Old German Style Double Beer," the Jetter Brewing company has succeeded in putting on the market a beverage that promises to be the delight of every lover of a good, clean, healthful beer, for either the home or the club.

STATE LODGE CELEBRATES FORTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

State lodge No. 1, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, celebrated the forty-fifth anniversary of its institution Monday night before a large and enthusiastic crowd of Odd Fellows and their friends. L. V. Crum presided and introduced the speakers and musicians who took part in the program.

C. A. Baumgardner talked on Odd Fellowship; Dr. E. H. Patton told about the Odd Fellows Home at York; Albert Hillinger sang a tenor solo; C. L. Worthington played a violin solo; W. R. Huntington did some clever sleight of hand stunts; Jack McConna gave a monologue; talk; Mrs. Geisselman played a piano solo, and Edgar and Hazel Laverone wound up the program with a violin duet.

Following the program supper was served in the banquet hall and dancing was carried on until midnight.

State lodge was instituted March 25, 1867, and is today the wealthiest lodge in the jurisdiction of Nebraska. Thomas H. Easters was to have spoken on the "History of State Lodge," but was unable to be present.

You judge a man not by what he promises to do, but by what he has done. That is the only true test. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy judged by this standard has no superior. People everywhere speak of it in the highest terms of praise. For sale by all dealers.

CANDIDATES BUILD PLATFORM

Citizens' Union Favorites Declare They Will Camp on the Job.

FRED SCHROEDER WITHDRAWS

General Disaffection Exists in Opposing Camps Which Have Undertaken to Select Ideal Slate.

Councilman Fred M. Schroeder announced his withdrawal from the commissioner race yesterday. He will contest for nomination for county commissioner from the First district against William Cowger and Henry McDonald. Schroeder, a republican, referring to his decision to withdraw said:

"The fact is I would rather hold the office of county commissioner. There are now two other Schroeders in the race for commissioner anyway and a third will simply add to the confusion."

Charles Daughton, a stationery engineer, endorsed Monday night by the Labor league, took out his petition yesterday. Henry Fischer and Thomas E. Allen filed, making seventy-three candidates who have filed and 16 who have taken out petitions.

A mass meeting of the Labor league will be held this evening at the Lyric theater. Mayor Dabman, C. M. Pfeiffer and H. H. Phearty will speak. An invitation has been extended to the public.

Platform of Candidates. Candidates for city commissioner endorsed by the Citizens' union, depriving the executive committee of the task, have adopted a platform of their own, in which among other things they promise to refrain from the practices of the old regime, "vamp on the job" and "exercise a close scrutiny of all contracts."

If elected we will "vamp on the job." A level-headed business policy will be our aim, unswayed by politics or personal considerations.

We will exercise a close scrutiny of all contracts. We will centralize the purchase of all supplies in one department, under a competent man, properly bonded. Existing duplication of offices and duties will be cut out at once, and no unnecessary employe will be kept on the city payroll.

Inspection and strict regulation of weights and measures will be made effective by all the power granted under the law.

We favor liberal public improvements and we will exercise a lively and thorough supervision of improvement district bonds, to save the money of the taxpayers.

We will continue the improvement and extension of parks and boulevards and the lighting system of the city; and we favor the establishment of public playgrounds, free baths and public comfort stations.

We will organize the street commissioner's department on strictly business lines, to the end that street cleaning, flushing and repairing may be quickly and effectively done.

We pledge ourselves to make an earnest and persistent effort to better the moral and honest work for fair wages will be the sole test in making our appointments.

"City business our business," will be the motto.

To these specific things, and to an open, straight administration of the laws, we pledge ourselves sincerely and without equivocation.

All Not Satisfied. "Their platform is an indication of what some of these endorsees could be expected to do," said a member of the Citizens' Union who withdrew because the executive committee displeased him in that the members would not hearken to the voice of the majority. "But the policies advocated would be carried out with as great certainty by candidates who have not been endorsed by a business men's organization or an association of laboring men."

Disaffection with the slate of the Citizens' union as well as the manner in which the Labor league candidates were endorsed is freely expressed by members of both organizations. Members of the executive committee of the Labor league are firm, however, in their declaration that the slate they have named is the slate for which the members voted in the preferential contest.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the P. A. Stuart Co., 38 Clerkenwell Road, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of opinion that they are admirably adaptable for the purpose for which they are intended.

(Signed) John R. Brooke, F. L. C., F. C. S. There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendations of 49,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper digestion and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.
