INDICT SOUTH OMAHA MAYOR

True Bills Against Trainor, Good, Fivonka, Caldwell and Ryan. FOUR ARE CITY OFFICIALS. One Other is Also Indicted—Charges Are of Giving and Accepting Bribes on Liquor License Cases. Bribery indictments against J. J. Ryan and Joseph Fivonka, South Omaha fire and police commissioners, and Mayor P. J. Trainor, who, by virtue of his office, is the third member of the Fire and Police board, were returned by the Douglas county grand jury shortly before noon yesterday. The men are charged with accepting a bribe. Indictments charging giving the bribe were returned against three persons, two of whom are City Clerk Frank H. Good of South Omaha and former Justice of the Peace P. C. Caldwell of South Omaha. Because all the indictments were kept secret, the men not being in custody, details were difficult to obtain and the identity of the third man indicted for giving a bribe could not be learned. Son Goldstrom, agent of the South Omaha retail liquor dealers, several weeks ago was grilled by the grand jury and confessed that a slush fund to "fix" the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners was made by the dealers and paid to Good and Caldwell, who were to pass it on to the board members. Goldstrom Tells of Bribes. Goldstrom at first was reticent and gave evasive answers. Special Prosecutor Goss fairly took his breath away by telling him he knew he had perjured himself. Goldstrom almost collapsed and asked how he could save himself from prosecution for perjury and was told he could do so by telling the truth. He then told what he said was the whole story. Whether or not Goldstrom is the third defendant on the indictment for giving a bribe could not be learned this afternoon. One other indictment against two men was returned. Whether it has to do with the South Omaha graft investigation could not be learned. Result of Campaign. The indictments are the result of a campaign against alleged graft waged by South Omaha men. J. Dean Ringer, an attorney, has been in charge of the campaign, and directed the securing of evidence and the laying of it before the grand jury. The indictments are for alleged bribery in connection with the fire and police board's handling of liquor license and other season matters. Chief of Police John J. Donahue of Omaha was the principal witness before the grand jury yesterday. The chief was examined regarding charges against the Omaha Fire and Police commissioners and against the Omaha police department.

PRETTY FIGHT AT FLORENCE

Election Will Be Held Today to Select City Officials. DEMOCRATS CIRCULATE REPORTS. Declare F. S. Tucker is Running for Mayor, but He Denies It—Entire Republican Ticket is Safe. City officials will be elected today at Florence. The democrats, centering all their strength on the councilman from the north ward, are in such desperate straits that Sunday they circulated the report that F. S. Tucker was campaigning for the mayor, asking his friends to write his name on the ballot for that office. In a signed statement Tucker absolutely denies he is a candidate or would take the office if elected. He says he has been elected nine times and if he wanted it again he would put up a fight and win it in the open. There are no republicans on the ticket as republicans this year owing to the disfranchising action of the central committee. They are all on the ticket by petition. The present mayor, John S. Paul, a republican, is slated for defeat owing to his sell out to the democrats last year. Otherwise the republican ticket is sure of election from top to bottom. The question of wet or dry does not enter into the election, but the old badge of the paving of Main street is again injected.

NO CAMPAIGN STATEMENTS IN

Candidates Fail to Recognize the Corrupt Practices Act. BARLOW WITHDRAWS HIS NAME. Candidates on the Citizens' Union State Maintain It is Permissible to Make Individual Campaigns. No campaign contribution statements have been filed in the office of County Clerk Frank Dewey, though the corrupt practices act requires that such a statement shall be filed by every political committee fifteen days before the primary election. The law requires statements of all contributions over $25. Either the officers of the Citizens' union have overlooked this requirement or else the contributions have not been heavy. The Labor League has filed no statement. Its contributions are said to have been small. Candidates Work for Selves. The candidates on the Citizens' union slate may be hitched together, but they are working an individual campaign already wherever they think they can get votes. The question was put to J. J. Ryder, in charge of the slate's publicity, as to the fact that one of the Citizens' union candidates had appeared and made a speech for himself before the Loyal club, and that another who was sick had spoken by proxy. "It is allowable, so far as I am concerned," said Mr. Ryder. "Some candidates will get invitations to meetings, as in this case, where others cannot break in, and I think they would be foolish to turn down such invitations. When you are in a campaign you must meet the voters where, when and how you can, and to attempt to enlist all of them solidly for any one ticket would be futile. The Citizens' union literature will carry the names of all the candidates indorsed in a group, but it is up to the individual candidates, under existing conditions, to get up and hustle individually just as hard as they know how."

Doctors at Hospital in Fistic Encounter

Dr. Ralph P. Higgins, house physician at the county hospital, and Louis Storlin, house druggist, shed their coats and engaged in a fierce fist fight a week ago. County Commissioner Frank C. Best, chairman of the county hospital committee, today decided to permit the men to remain in the service of the county, with the understanding that any further trouble between them will be followed by their dismissal. Higgins and Storlin are appointees of former Superintendent Tom McClenehan and were retained when the republicans took charge of the hospital and other county institutions. There had been bad blood between them almost since they first met at the hospital. Storlin has resented the authoritative tones employed by the doctor when talking to him, and the doctor has been dissatisfied with the druggist because he seemed unwilling to do as he was asked. The relations came to the breaking point and the men tried to settle their differences in the good old-fashioned way. Superintendent E. F. Robinson separated them before either had been greatly damaged.

U. S. GRAND JURY MONDAY

Petit Jury Convenes at Same Time and Adjourns for Week. FORTY-FIVE CASES ON DOCKET. Hearing of Water Works Cases Probably to Be Reached About April Tenth—Same Cases Taken Up. The United States district court of the District of Nebraska for the April term convened at 9:30 yesterday morning with Judge William H. Munger presiding. The trial calendar was gone over and the order in which cases will come up was fixed by the judge. There are forty-five cases to come before the April term of the court. The hearing of the Omaha Water company against the city of Omaha will be the nineteenth case to be tried and will in all probability be up for hearing about April 10. Motions, demurrers and notices for hearing were taken up this morning and will also occupy the most of tomorrow. Thomas W. Blackburn asked for a new trial for Mrs. Mary Jones, who was convicted at the last term of the district court. He produced affidavits from witnesses whom he did not know of at the time of the trial. Judge Munger, however, overruled the motion. The federal grand jury has been ordered to report next Monday morning. The petit jury will also report next Monday morning, but will then be discharged to report on April 1, when jury trials begin.

Fine Dogs Poisoned in Farnam District

Strychnine poisoning of seven valuable dogs within two blocks on West Farnam street has been going on for about two months. Among those whose dogs have been poisoned are: D. C. Bradford, O. T. Eastman, Arthur F. Smith, Dr. Donahue and John Daugherty. Mr. Bradford offers a reward of $100 for information leading to conviction of the guilty person. These dogs were all children's pets the loss of which is of great distress to them.

Huge Cake of Ice Cuts Tree in Two

While Engineer Simpson stood by a tree on the bank of the Missouri river near the water works Sunday afternoon watching the ice swirl round the bend in that place, a huge cake of solid ice crashed into a tree a few feet from him, cutting it off as if it were a splinter and tearing ten feet of dirt out of the bank. A surge had broken not far up the stream and Sunday afternoon the floating cakes of ice menaced the intake at the Florence station. Ice is piled six feet high near the intake, and since it has begun breaking up the crib along the works have been in danger. Engineer Simpson has been watching the river anxiously.

Barlow Withdraws.

Milton T. Barlow, running on the republican ticket for re-nomination to the Water board, has withdrawn from the race, leaving E. F. Bralley and F. H. Weed the only republicans after the nomination. Dan Horrigan, William P. Lynch and D. J. O'Brien are the democratic candidates. The primaries will be held April 23. Two members will be elected to the board.

Dunn is Disturbed by Nocturnal Joker

"Is this you, Cap?" inquired an anxious voice over the telephone at an early hour this morning, addressing Captain Dunn of the police department, whereupon the voice said that the inquirer was an electric light inspector, desiring to know whether or not the lamp near the captain's home was burning. "Sure, it's lit!" "Well, go blow it out." It then dawned upon the captain that Monday was Ah Poo's day, and he padded back in his bare feet to his warm bed. Practical jokers seem to have saved up their energy for the police department. This morning the burglar alarm in the library was tripped and the police made a hurried call only to find everything in shipshape. "A dead man at Sixteenth and Harney streets," was another canard.

Mrs. Hunt was born in Omaha and lived here all her life. She is survived by her husband and two children from her former marriage, George Rowells, with the Burlington freight department, and Mrs. T. T. Day of 1912 Lathrop street, both of this city. A brother, Edward Spillet, is superintendent of the depot postoffice of this city. Funeral services will be held from her home, 3061 Ohio street, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. W. Savidge of the People's church attending.
