Primary April 8. Formerly assistant city engineer.—Adv.

If you approve of my fearless and businesslike administration of the City Comptroller's office, tell your friends. I need your vote. Mine is the longest name on the Commission Ballot, Frederick H. Cosgrove.—Adv. Wilton Bug Stolen.—The Hartman Furniture of Thirteenth and Jones streets says it has been robbed of a Wilton rug, size 9x12, which disappeared from the warehouse some time Wednesday.

Gives Birthday Party.—To commemorate the birthday anniversary of his intimate friend, T. J. Lavelle, J. M. Silver of the Union Pacific will give a theater party at the Orpheum Friday night, to be followed by a stag party lunch. Some twenty friends have been invited.

Swanson Buys Lot for Home.—Sidney Swanson, manager of the Calumet restaurant, has bought a lot on California street between Thirty-ninth and Fortieth streets. He made the purchase from the Merchants National bank through A. F. Tukey & Son company. He will build a residence on the lot this spring.

Fogg Has New Scheme.—John Grant Fogg, city inspector of weights and measures, has devised a system of bookkeeping which he thinks will eliminate much of the work and confusion now attached to the duties of his office. The system has been approved by the mayor and stationery is being prepared.

Fined for Kissing Gun.—Twenty days was the sentence meted out to Ira Brown, a Mexican, for carrying a concealed weapon around the Third ward saloons and pulling it out and frightening those nearby by brandishing the gun in the air. He refused to say where he was from, just happening to "drop in" and was intoxicated.

Parish Social Postponed.—St. Stephen's Episcopal mission will have the planned congregational meeting on April 15 instead of April 8 in Barstow hall, Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue, in order to give the men's club an opportunity to further consider the choice of a building site for the proposed mission church. The money asked for the purchase of a site has been fully pledged and the purchase will be a cash transaction.

New Realty Company.—There has recently been organized in this city the Ben B. Wood Realty company, to which the entire estate of the late Ben B. Wood has been conveyed. Its officers are Irving F. Baxter, president; Roy Wood, vice president; Ben B. Wood, Jr., secretary; W. H. H. Cramer, treasurer.

All officers with Robert Wood constitute the directors. The company has its office in the Omaha National bank building. Burning Straw Brings Department.—Smoldering straw packed in a load of the on a vacant lot at Fifteenth and California streets brought the fire department to the scene shortly after noon. Sparks from a passing switch engine is believed to have started it. Two carloads of building tile in which the blaze started were piled there by the National Supply company, which has a contract on the new Woodmen of the World building. There was no damage to the tile.

Sanborn Advocates Farm for Prisoners

Prisoners in the state penitentiary should not be made to compete with the manufacturers of the state, according to the belief of former Senator John H. Morehead, voiced at the weekly meeting of the Omaha Manufacturers' association. Mr. Morehead believes that prisoners should be classified according to the length of their sentences and those with the shorter terms to serve be made to improve the public roads. Mr. Morehead touched on the proposed workmen's compensation and employers' liability bill, saying that he knew no other way of adjusting differences between employes and employers than by the establishment of a commission to investigate all cases. Following Mr. Morehead's speech, President F. E. Sanborn of the Manufacturers' association, said he believed the state should have a farm of 2,000 acres, which would be worked by prison labor and which would supply all the public institutions of the state.

Manawa Will Have Plenty of Water

Indications are that there will be plenty of water in Lake Manawa this summer and perhaps some to spare. For weeks Mosquito creek discharged all of its waters into the lake. This brought the stage of water up to the normal. Then the channel of the creek was diverted and the waters turned out of the lake. About this time the snows melted and the lake was filled bank full. That was enough water, but it keeps coming right along. Within the last few days the Missouri river has been backing up the creek that furnishes an outlet to the lake, until the water in this stream has almost reached the level of the lake. South of Council Bluffs the Missouri is beginning to slip over the lowlands a little and the water is gradually creeping toward the lake. No fears are expressed of any damage being done, but it is certain that Manawa will have plenty of water for bathing and boating.

FRAIL BRIDGE STANDS AND EXPENSIVE STRUCTURE FALLS

Engineers are puzzled by some of the freaks of a flood. And the manner in which the recent flood treated two bridges over the Platte is the biggest puzzle of them all. Last summer the automobilists of Omaha and Lincoln clubbed together, raised $7,000, and built a frail structure over the Platte near Ashland, a mile above the bridge of the Burlington, constructed at a cost of $100,000, and supposed to be a model of engineering skill and strength.

OLD HAT SEES LOTS OF TRAVEL ON LONG JOURNEY

The hat without a head in it, the one that has been traveling all over the country for the last six months, arrived in Omaha yesterday morning, remaining a few minutes and started out for Chicago. Some six months ago, from some unknown point in the east, an express messenger who had nothing else to do, picked a battered derby hat from the gutter, put a shipping tag on it and sent it to Chicago, with the request that it be passed on. It was passed on when it arrived over the Rock Island, although badly dilapidated, to it was attached more than 100 tags. An agent at the Union station, figuring out the distance estimates that since the old hat started on its journey it has traveled better than 20,000 miles.

BOYS HIKE TO MISSOURI VALLEY AND RIDE BACK

Eight high school lads, all members of the Nu Sigma Theta club of the First Presbyterian church, hiked to Missouri Valley Wednesday, returning early in the evening by train. The youthful pedestrians made the entire twenty-four miles in six hours, part of the way being led through mud ankle deep. Those in the party were Dwight Evans, Gilbert Kennedy, Douglas Burns, Kenneth Martin, John Over, Byron Robinson and Earl Moore.

AUTOMOBILE IS STOLEN IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

The Interstate company has lost one perfectly good automobile, and has asked the police to help hunt for it. The car was taken out Wednesday afternoon by W. S. Weaver, sales manager, to demonstrate its advantages to a prospective buyer at 2113 Spencer street. Mr. Weaver went in the house for a few moments to check his arguments and when he came out he saw two men speeding away with the machine. It has not been seen since.

NEW WORTHLESS CHECK GAME WORKED ON SCHOOL

A clever trick in the way of passing forged checks was reported yesterday. Boyles college being the victim. A man giving his name as H. A. White Wednesday enrolled at the school and gave a check for $100 in payment of tuition. White was given $30 in change. The check was on the Citizens State bank of Blair, Neb., signed by F. C. White in favor of H. A. White, and was found to be worthless.

Meet Me at the "Y" is the Newest Idea for Young Women

No more meeting on the corner for Young Women's Christian association maidens. The "meet-me-on-the-corner" habit is disappearing and the young women are meeting their men friends in the association instead. The association heads want the girls to have their escorts to meet them in the association building and contend that one of the purposes for which the building was established was to make street corner meeting unnecessary. The reception room at the south end is especially for those who wish to meet friends, and the building is kept open until 9 o'clock in order that the young women may entertain their friends there. "It is much better for the girls to meet their men friends in the building than at the corners," says Miss Lily Strong, general secretary. "And they are coming more and more to do so."

HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENT OF WOMAN'S CLUB RE-ELECTS

All the officers of the household economics department of the Omaha Woman's club were unanimously re-elected at the annual business meeting yesterday at the Metropolitan building, as follows: Mrs. F. J. Burnett, leader; Mrs. C. H. Townsend, honorary leader; Mrs. W. O. Paisley, assistant leader; Mrs. T. H. Tracy, secretary and treasurer.

Roundhouse at Hinawatha Burned

HIAWATHA, Kan., April 4.—The St. Joseph & Grand Island roundhouse here burned last night, with a loss of more than $50,000. A locomotive, several tenders and a motor car were consumed. Lives were endangered by the explosion of two tanks of gasoline buried near the building, but there were no casualties.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

W. D. Maxwell, assistant observer at the local weather bureau, has gone to Cairo, Ill., to assist the forecaster there during the present flood difficulties. He will be gone about a week. F. P. Shelly, general freight agent of the Union Pacific thirty years ago, but now a resident of California, having retired from active business, is in Omaha visiting relatives and friends.

BANQUET BY CLUB BOOSTERS

Membership Committee Plans to Entertain New Members. WILL TAKE IN TRAVELING MEN

Plan is to bring them into the fold under the same rules by which nonresident members are handled.

The membership committee of the Commercial club will confer with the executive committee next Tuesday to make plans for a big reception for the new members brought in during the recent campaign. No definite idea has been voiced, but it is probable that a big dinner will be given by the club, perhaps in the Auditorium.

The membership committee has decided not to disband, but each man, with a clean slate, will start out "even with the board" to gather members until November 20.

The members brought in during that time will pay the $10 initiation fee, which will include the first quarter's dues. This makes the price in reality only $22.50.

Besides the reception to be accorded the new members as a body, arrangements have been made to receive each new member as he makes his appearance at the club rooms. John Steel, with a corps of assistants, form the reception committee in order to make sure that no new member will be overlooked.

La Follette's Tour of Nebraska Has Many Short Stops

Senator La Follette comes to Plattsmouth this morning for his first meeting in the state. He goes down the Missouri Pacific to Falls City and up the Burlington to Lincoln Friday, speaking at each stop from the rear platform.

On Saturday morning he will be in Omaha and will go to Fremont and West Point for day meetings. If the bridges are repaired so that trains are running regularly, at night he will speak in the Auditorium in Omaha.

On Monday he will go from Lincoln to Fairmont for forenoon meeting and dinner. Then he will take the local train to Minden, arriving there at 4:35 o'clock for afternoon meeting, speaking at each stop on the way, including about half an hour at Hastings. The Holdrege committee will come to Minden with automobiles and take the party to Holdrege for the night meeting.

On Tuesday the party will go from Holdrege to Kearney on the morning train, take dinner at Kearney and hold early afternoon meeting there. Another afternoon meeting will be held at Lexington and night meeting at North Platte.

Wednesday morning the party will be at Grand Island and will take the 10 o'clock train for York, where there will be a midday meeting. Starting west again on the local, with short stops at every station, the night meeting will be at Broken Bow. From there the senator goes direct to Oregon.

It is planned to have two tennis courts and a canvassed covering under which the young women may have supper. The supper will be put up at the association building on St. Mary's avenue, according to order either for groups of girls or individuals.

Miss Strong says that associations in other cities make a special feature of the recreation centers and that one is needed in Omaha, particularly since there is so little chance for outings for business women.

Mothers' Club Has Plan for Kiddies During Meetings

The problem of clubs versus kiddies, which is troubling so many women at present, has been solved by the North Side Mothers' club. The club at this week's meeting inaugurated a scheme by which mother may attend her club without neglecting her offspring. Mother may go forth to the discussion of literature, politics and reform, unworried by visions of young Johnny falling from the maple tree or small Mary swallowing pennies and buttons. And the kiddies by this scheme are given an outing as well as mother.

Mother takes her kiddies to the club, which hires a competent nurse to look after the small boys and girls at each meeting. While the mothers are improving their minds in the front parlor, the youngsters are romping in the play-room or outdoors under the direction of a paid attendant.

The scheme worked well at the last meeting and will be used again at the next one Tuesday, April 9, at the home of the president, Mrs. E. L. Barr. The North Side Mothers' club is for the purpose of promoting good motherhood, and all of the members have from one to three children. The club studies how to train children, how to co-operate with the school teachers, what stories and songs to teach children and other related subjects.

Change of Time. Effective Sunday March 25. Train No. 1, leaving Webster street station, via Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railway at 6:30 p. m. and No. 5, arriving from Emerson at 9:25 p. m. are discontinued. Train No. 2 will leave for Sioux City at 2:50 p. m. instead of 2:35 p. m.

Recent Floods Are Quite Expensive to Railroads of State

The recent flood was an expensive one for the railroads, and while the estimates on laying new track and repairing old, rebuilding bridges and reconstructing those damaged have not all come in, it is believed that the damage will be about $1,000,000, to say nothing of the loss of business, the extra expense of running trains and the charges of one railroad against another for handling equipment, which it is figured will run close to another $1,000,000.

To put its road back in the condition that it was before the flood will cost the Northwestern more than $100,000. The Union Pacific will be taxed around $200,000, the Burlington nearly as much, the Omaha line about $50,000, the Rock Island, $100,000; the Great Northern, $50,000; the St. Joseph & Grand Island, $50,000, and the Missouri Pacific, $25,000.

BOUQUET TO BE SENT TO DAVID COLE, WHO IS SICK

The Omaha Manufacturers' association will send a huge bouquet of flowers to its president, David Cole, who has been ill at his home for more than a week. A resolution was adopted at the weekly meeting of the association to send the flowers to the sick room with the best wishes of the organization.

The best procurable anywhere These are only a few of the many features of The Omaha Sunday Bee. No Nebraska paper has nearly so many exclusive features as The Bee. The great comics and all the magazine features are supplied by the Hearst Syndicate, an organization that employs every great writer and artist in the country. No sooner does a man develop talent that is worthy a high price than the Hearst Syndicate gets his services. Other papers have to take what is left—they cannot pay the money that the famous Hearst Syndicate can. So always remember that what you see in The Bee is the best that money can buy, and that no other paper in Nebraska can possibly equal The Sunday Bee's great features.

Omaha Sunday Bee readers number thousands more than those of any other Omaha Sunday paper. The advertiser who wishes to reach the greatest number of Omaha homes unobtrusively places his "copy" in The Sunday Bee
