Taft Republicans Capture Monona ONAWA, Ia., April 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Taft republicans were in complete control of the Monona county republican convention held here this afternoon and will send down Taft delegates to the state convention at Cedar Rapids. The roll call was made by townships and resulted ninety-five favorable to Taft and forty-nine progressive. The same list of delegates will represent the county in the district convention. Following the announcement of the election of Taft delegates it was moved that the selection be made unanimous. The greater part of the progressive delegates fell in line. All efforts of John Briar, senator Cummins' manager, to swing enough delegations into the progressive camp proved futile. The delegates are E. L. Hogue, R. W. Cassady, W. H. Edgar, A. C. Thorsen, T. B. Lutz, Olaf Luff, Charles Fischer, Charles Worrell, J. W. Howe, S. D. Cray and T. S. Thorsen. WATERLOO, Ia., April 4.—The third district republican convention was an apparently hopeless deadlock here to-night over the election of two delegates to the Chicago national convention. Cummins adherents won the temporary organization, but Taft followers made a vigorous contest. At 11 o'clock the convention adjourned until 9:30 a. m., being unable to unite on delegates. Throughout the balloting the vote was 72 to 72. We Offer Men Most Advantages in Buying Clothes for Easter...

That this "big clothes store" enjoys buying advantages which are beyond the range of smaller stores, stands as indisputably true as that a steam shovel has advantages over a man with a spade. Here are some of the advantages—facts as undeniable as 2 plus 2 make 4.

AUTHORITATIVE STYLES—From the big tailoring houses of whom we buy clothes emanate the styles for American men. These makers originate and their styles are copied by makers who lack creative ability. But a copy is always wanting in the quality that makes the original a masterpiece. That's why styles you see elsewhere lack the masterpiece touch you see in our clothes.

LARGEST VARIETIES—An acre is larger than a city lot—no normal person will presume to dispute it. So our acre-like men's clothes floor compares to others. Have you seen all the styles in all the blues—all the styles in all the browns—all the styles in all the grays—all the styles in all the popular weaves and colors—all the models from all the leading makers? Then come to this store.

LOWEST PRICES—Every man—every woman—who buys supplies or merchandise of any kind knows—buying in larger quantities gets lower prices. The makers we buy from get lowest prices from the mills because they buy in largest quantities. The low prices of these makers are lowered to us because we buy from them in largest quantities. Largest purchases—lower prices—it's a fundamental business law that cannot be disputed.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Magic City Men Form Company to Establish Woolen Mill.

SKILLED LABOR IS NECESSARY

Former Mayor Ed Johnson Pays Visit to Old Home—Congressman Leutz to Talk Today for Governor Wilson.

South Omaha men are forming a company in order to establish a woolen mill in this city. Mayor F. J. Trainor, who is one of the men interested, has been in correspondence with Mayor W. A. Scanlon of Lawrence, Mass. Other woolen dealers heard from to date include Ivar L. Skostrom, James R. Bailey and H. A. S. Reed of the United States Worsted company and the Plymouth mills of Lawrence.

The intent of the men interested is to start a small woolen mill here in South Omaha as soon as the required number of skilled laborers can be gotten here. It is calculated that South Omaha, being a large sheep market, will easily become a woolen center for the west and northwest.

"There is nothing certain yet," said Mayor Trainor. "We have been in correspondence with different woolen mills of the country. Skilled labor is one of the necessary features of the proposition, and until we are assured of that we can go no further."

If the plans of the company materialize it is the intention gradually to enlarge the venture in accordance with the increase of experience gained.

FURTHER TROUBLE BREAKS OUT AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

Resignation of Frank McGuckin, night engineer at the county hospital, is the latest development of the strife at the hospital. McGuckin had nothing to say except that things were not going to suit him at the hospital and he could not work under unsatisfactory conditions.

The fight between Druggist Storcken and Interns Higgins at the hospital served to further divide the hospital employees into two factions and each side's opinion of the other is expected to be aired this afternoon, when the board of county commissioners investigates the Higgins-Storcken fight.

It has become known that one of the causes of the battle was a dispute between Storcken and Higgins as to the doctor's right to enter the drug room. Storcken ordered the doctor to keep out. For what he considered good reasons the doctor one night entered the room, but the electric lamps had been removed and cork had been stuffed in the socket so that no lamp could be attached. Higgins blames Storcken for this, but Storcken denies responsibility for it and knowledge of it.

OMAHA LAND SHOW STANDS WELL IN ANY COMPARISON

"Omaha has Los Angeles beat to a frazzle on the land show," said R. B. Wallace, advertising manager of the Payne Investment company, who has recently returned from a trip to the coast.

"I attended the land show in Los Angeles largely as a matter of curiosity and for the sake of comparison, and am free to say that it in no sense compared with any of the shows which have been held in this part of the country. However, the attendance was good, as the people of the coast cities are great for entertainment, and willing to liberally patronize exhibitions of this character. The city of Los Angeles is at present flooded with eastern visitors, nearly 1,000 arriving in the city the day that I was there."

MEDICAL SCHOOL TO OMAHA

Dean Wolcott Makes Arrangements with University of Omaha.

TWO YEARS IN LIBERAL ARTS

After Year 1914 Student May Do All Work for Medical and Scientific Degrees in City of Omaha.

As a result of his visit to Omaha, R. H. Wolcott, dean of the Medical college of the University of Nebraska, has completed arrangements with the University of Omaha so that when the new medical school brings the regular four-year course here in 1914 it will be possible for a student to do all of his college work in Omaha. The state university gives no degrees of M. D., except the applicant take a six-year medical course. Of this work four years is done in the school of medicine and the other two years must be taken in the College of Liberal Arts.

According to the new arrangement, it will be possible, after this year for a student to supplement the work that is ordinarily taken at Lincoln by taking a course that has been introduced at the University of Omaha. The work offered here will be the same as that given in the arts course, and is classified under the department of medicine.

The collegiate work which is required for entrance into the medical school consists of sixty credits, thirty-two of which must be science and the remaining twenty-eight are electives. The Omaha institution is at the present time giving the required science, general and advanced, analytical and organic chemistry, general and advanced physics, botany and zoology.

Prof. F. H. Currens of the chemistry department of the city school says that next year all of the required courses will be added to make the work equivalent in every way to that given at Lincoln. The subjects which will be added are vertebrate anatomy, human physiology, advanced botany and zoology, general bacteriology, volumetric and gravimetric chemistry and analysis of foods, water and milk.

Dean Wolcott, in speaking of the scheme, said that they are in hopes of drawing up a close relationship between the University of Nebraska and the University of Omaha, and that the courses at the Omaha school will be taken in lieu of the regular work at Nebraska and that at the end of the six years anyone who has taken two years at Omaha and the other four in the medical school will be given the degree of bachelor of science and doctor of medicine at the same time.

The directors of the local institution expect that because of the splendid opportunities which will be given for clinic and hospital visitation and because of the advantages of listening to lectures at the medical school that a number of students will be attracted here. The same arrangement will also be made with the faculty of the Creighton Medical college.

In canvassing the work, Dean Wolcott visited classes, inspected laboratories and conferred with Dr. D. E. Jenks, president of the University of Omaha, and F. H. Currens, professor of chemistry.

Following out the plan of adding more science to the curriculum, Dr. Jenks announced that next year a four-year course in domestic science will be given. This will enable those graduating from this department to secure certificates to teach domestic science in Nebraska.

Two Killed in Fight in Railroad Shops

HOIRINGTON, Kan., April 5.—Two men were killed and three others were injured, one probably fatally, at the Missouri Pacific railroad shops here tonight, when "Bud" Smith, a discharged negro employe, engaged in a revolver battle with shop employes. Mortally wounded, Smith was rescued by officers from a crowd intent upon lynching him.

The dead are Smith and Charles Lovin, a watchman. C. W. Layman, a time-keeper, will die from wounds.

Smith was discharged yesterday. Tonight he appeared at the shops and announced he was "going to kill somebody." Watchman Lovin warned him to remain away from the shops. For reply Smith shot the watchman and wounded Layman, who was standing nearby.

Shop employes, attracted by the shots, rushed to the aid of their fellow workmen. Smith was shot several times and fell mortally wounded. Despite his condition, leaders of a crowd that gathered helped him to his feet and amid cries of "Lynch him!" were hurrying him away when officers arrived and, assuring the crowd the negro would be given a speedy trial if he recovered, took him in charge. Smith died a few minutes later.

POLICE TAKE FARRINGTON AS SUSPECT IN HOLDUPS

In the arrest early this morning of Pearl Farrington, who claims Bancroft, Neb., as his home, the police think they have in custody one of the three men who held up three persons late Wednesday night.

The description furnished by H. H. Haaker, Curtis Henley and E. W. Whitaker of Farrington, especially so with his hat, coat and shiny revolver found upon his person. Officers Rinn and Mansfield arrested him at Fifteenth and Dodge streets.

Farrington says he came to Omaha with a stock train and was en route to the Webster street station to take a train home when stopped by the officers. He denies being implicated in the holdups.

Farrington will probably be released from custody this afternoon, as two of the men robbed failed to identify him as one of the trio who held them up.

WOODMEN SEE HEAD CONSUL

Officers of Nebraska Insurgents Hold Meeting at Lincoln.

DEMAND CALL OF HEAD CAMP

Take Steps to Be Prepared for Legal Procedure Should New High Rates Be Placed in Effect.

The officers of the Nebraska Insurgent Woodmen association at a meeting in Lincoln yesterday adopted resolutions protesting against the advance in insurance rates which the society recently ordered. Demands made upon the head officers were presented to Head Consul A. R. Talbot. They asked that the question of an increase be submitted to a vote of the entire membership of the order and that Mr. Talbot call a special and newly-elected head camp to reconsider the rate enactment. An answer to these demands is requested not later than April 15.

Prof. Nathan Bernstein returned to Omaha last night, declaring that there were evidences that the propaganda was receiving wide distribution. The executive committee called upon Head Consul Talbot who received them cordially, but was inclined to think that the present agitation would cease with a fuller understanding of the meaning of the new rate system.
