MAYOR NAMES HIS HELPERS

No Material Change Made in List of City Employees.

ELGAN UPON POLICE BOARD

Named to Succeed B. M. Sargent, Whose Term Has Expired—Sewers for West End Matter of Discussion.

Mayor Maloney's prediction that there would be a very few changes in the personnel of his official appointees was more than made good. There were no changes whatever in the heads of departments. The only material change was in the makeup of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners by the appointment of Frank Elgan to take the place of B. M. Sargent, whose term has expired.

There was greater interest evinced in the appointments than any other part of the council's business last night, and the greater part of the large number of people who filled the room left immediately after the mayor read the names. They were: Dr. E. B. Tubbs, city physician; E. J. McKinley, city electrician; C. M. Crippen, street commissioner; William Higson, superintendent of markets; C. P. F. Froom, chief of police and city marshal; Peter Smith, police, health and market inspector; Warren Hough, poll-tax collector; Andrew Hansen, custodian of the city building; Charles Davis, poundmaster; Leslie Zornmuelien, member of the Board of Fire and Police Commission for the short term, and Frank Elgan for the full term of six years.

Boyer Makes Inquiry.
Alderman Boyer came very near starting something when he innocently asked if it was necessary for the council at once to confirm the appointments. Mayor Maloney said it was not necessary for the council to confirm the appointments at all, although it had been done, as the new law of 1908 held the mayor personally liable for the conduct of the appointees and gave him absolute power in selecting them. Alderman Boyer explained that he had no objection to any of the appointees, although some of them were strangers to him, but he only wanted the appointments held up in accordance with the excellent suggestion contained in the mayor's message that all matters should be talked over in private, and he thought these appointments were proper subjects for consideration at a session of the mayor's cabinet. Alderman Evans, who made the motion to withdraw his motion, offered to withdraw his motion if the approval was not necessary, and it looked as if there might be a chance for some argument, but when the law was read by the mayor and his position declared to be correct by former City Solicitor Kimball and City Solicitor Stuart, the motion was renewed and the matter carried unanimously as an effort to show that no disrespect was intended to be shown the mayor.

Engineer's Force.
City Engineer E. F. Stimson also announced his appointments for the next two years, as follows: Ernest E. Cook, assistant engineer, salary $25 per month; C. A. Walters, instrument man, $20; W. Lee Hough, rodmann, $20, and Mahlon B. Brown, paving inspector, $20.

The tabulation of the bids for the construction of the North Main street and Myrtle street bridges showed that E. A. Wickham was low bidder, and he was awarded the contract. His bid of $13,750 for the entire work, including the double retaining walls, was more than $1,000 less than the next lowest bidder. In some of the bids the estimates for material exceeded the total amount of the Wickham bid. The contract calls for the work to be done by April 1, 1912.

The question of constructing storm sewers on Sixth street from Main as far down as Sixteenth avenue before the new paving is laid was brought up by City Engineer Stimson, who estimated that the work would cost about $40,000. It was referred to the committee on police, health and sewers, with instructions to report at the next meeting owing to the necessity of immediate action in relation to Willow avenue, which is to be repaved at once.

Sewers Are Discussed.
The question of the sewer on Fifth avenue was called and its discussion led to a general talk on the necessity of providing sewerage for the whole west end of town. Dr. Tubbs spoke in favor of such action, and told the council that it was a bigger problem than the water works and one that demanded the most intelligent consideration. He said it would be only a question of time when a serious epidemic would result from the present conditions. The Fifth avenue sewer was referred to the committee of the whole, which will meet on Thursday afternoon. In this connection Mayor Maloney submitted a lot of things he wanted considered at this committee meeting, among them dumping refuse into the streets and into Indian creek, throwing bottles and glass on the pavements and waste paper in the alleys. The committee will endeavor to devise some new punishment and find some means of enforcing it.

Controversy between taxpayers and the Council Bluffs Concrete company over alleged poor work done in sidewalk construction was partially settled when the certificates were ordered issued to the contractors for all work except where protests had been filed. It was asserted that large sections of the newly laid cement was permitted to freeze last fall.

Nelson Gibbs, E. D. Thompson, R. B. White, C. E. Taylor, L. E. Brinckman, C. B. Aronick, John Walsh, J. H. Schickelans, H. S. Alexander and Robert Deming asked appointment as paving, sidewalk and sewer inspectors, and all applications were referred to the city engineer.

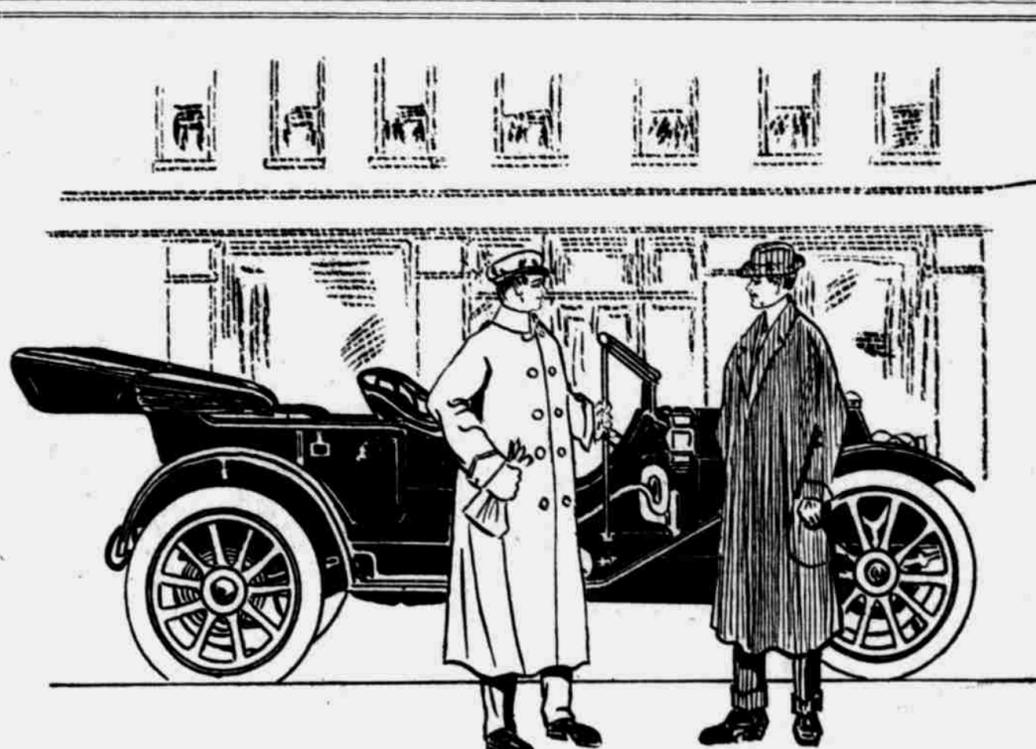

WELL-KNOWN TRAPPER FOUND DEAD AT HOME

Ike Canary, one of the best-known trappers, fishermen and trappers, living in the vicinity of Honey Creek lake, was found dead in his little shack last evening. Death is believed to have been due to natural causes, but Coroner Cutler ordered the body to be taken in charge by local officers until an inquiry could be made today.

"Uncle Ike" was very old, but had not been known to have been ill for the last twenty years. He had lived alone in a little house for many years, and was very popular among hunters and fishermen who made regular visits to the lake. He is not known to have any relatives.

"I am going to drive my old Chalmers another year."

"I have watched a number of my friends trade their cars in each spring for a new make at an average difference of a thousand dollars or more, while I continued to use my original Chalmers car.

"The other day I purchased a house and lot with the money I have saved in this way and the rental I will receive this year will more than keep up the property besides paying all my yearly motoring bills.

"I recently had my car thoroughly overhauled at a total expense of $45.30, and will give you my word that it runs as good today as when I bought it two and a half years ago.

"I have found the one place where a man can save money in buying motor cars. You know, most men suffer a greater loss from depreciation than from all of the other motoring expenses combined. I find that this loss can be reduced tremendously by purchasing a good car and then keeping it.

"Just remember, that an automobile dealer can do much more for you than cut his price. He can sell you a long lived car. In fact the dealer who has the best car is the least inclined to vary his selling prices.

"I will continue to drive this car, a duplicate of which can now be bought for $1,500 for at least two more years and let the other fellow keep on buying a new machine each year at a loss of a thousand dollars.

"When I finally sell my car I shall buy a Chalmers 'Thirty-Six' which, you understand, has some nice improvements over an early Chalmers model like mine."

This is the gist of an actual conversation which occurred in Omaha the other day between an attorney and his friend. It does not illustrate an unusual case—it simply clearly points to you the average satisfaction afforded Chalmers owners.

They actually do keep their Chalmers cars year after year at a great saving of money. They positively are pleased with and proud of their Chalmers cars and find more satisfaction than they would enjoy from the use of a new automobile, in proving to their friends that their judgment is good.

No, these men do not want to trade for a new automobile. They are motor-satisfied; and at the same time they enjoy a substantial saving.

Better look this car over early as there is apt to be another Chalmers shortage this spring.

How to be Certain of Curing Constipation

Prejudice is a hard thing to overcome, but where health is at stake and the opinion of thousands of reliable people differs from yours, prejudice then becomes your menace and you ought to lay it aside. This is said in the interest of people suffering from chronic constipation, and it is worthy of their attention.

In the opinion of legions of reliable American people the most stubborn constipation imaginable can be cured by a brief use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Purgative. You may not have heard of it before, but do not doubt its merits on that account, or because it has not been blazoned in every newspaper, without credence on word of mouth recommendation. Parents are giving it to their children today who were given it by their parents, and it has been truthfully said that more druggists use it personally in their families than any other laxative.

Letter recently received from Mr. Harry Hachsenberg, Edinet, Iowa, and Mrs. E. Goding, Dix, Neb., are but a few of thousands showing the esteem in which Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Purgative is held. It is mild, gentle, non-gripping, not violent like salts or cathartics. It cures gradually and pleasantly so that in time nature again does its own work without outside aid. Constipated people owe it to themselves to use this grand bowel specific.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 66 Washington St., Menasha, Wis. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

TALKS TO FRUIT GROWERS

Prof. Greene Outlines Plans for Increasing Apple Crop.

PUSHES WORK STARTED IN 1911

Indications Are Good for a Big Apple Crop This Year if Orchards Are Given Proper Care.

Prof. Laurent Greene of the horticulture department of the state agricultural college at Ames, was the guest of the local estate exchange at the noon luncheon yesterday. He was invited to be present and outline some plans that have been in contemplation for advancing the fruit growing interests of this section.

The state has two experiment stations located near Council Bluffs, both under the management of Prof. Greene and other members of the faculty of the college. One is of a general agricultural character, operated in connection with the county farm at McClelland, and the other is confined exclusively to fruit development and is located on the Boyer farm, east of the city, including the orchard, where experiments are being carried out. This part of the work is almost exclusively under the care of Prof. Greene, assisted by Profs. Beach, Bliss and others.

The location of these two stations makes Council Bluffs a central point for a large territory in which are many people interested in the work carried on. It is for the purpose of disseminating the information acquired that plans under consideration have been formed.

One of the schemes talked of yesterday was a horticultural institute for the special benefit of fruit growers in Pottawattamie and Mills counties, that will be held for several days, and at which practical demonstrations can be given along various lines.

Prof. Greene announced that Dr. A. B. Cooper, the Hood River apple packing expert, had expressed his willingness to come here again this fall and conduct another school of instruction similar to that of last year. Apple growers who took advantage of the complete course of instruction in sorting, grading and packing apples found it was the most profitable information they had ever obtained and was worth many times its cost in application last year. Every orchardist who picked his apples in the manner taught him, disposed of his crop early in December at better prices than have since been paid. Such a school this year would be attended by a much larger number than took advantage of the opportunity last year.

Prof. Greene stated yesterday that the prospects for a big apple crop in this vicinity this year was chiefly confined to those orchards where modern methods of culture and protection against insect life were followed last year. Several of the orchards near by which bore big crops last year and were properly cultivated are now showing a normal crop of fruit

is, indicating another crop equal, if not better, than last season. This is particularly so in the Keelie orchard, where exact scientific methods were scrupulously followed by Prof. E. K. White, who came here from the Ames college to take charge of the orchard.

Congregationalists Meet in Convention

The fifty-eighth annual spring meeting of the Council Bluffs Association of Congregational Churches and Ministers will be held at Tabor, beginning next Tuesday and concluding Wednesday evening. The association represents the churches in Council Bluffs, Harlan, Antis, Farragut, Atlantic, Tabor, Durbin, Avoca, Creston, Shenandoah, Grinnell, Stanton, Cromwell, Corning, Exira, Lewis, Oakdale, Red Oak, Glenwood, Gomer and Orient. Each church is entitled to three delegates and this will make the gathering of a considerable importance in point of size. A large delegation is expected to go from Council Bluffs, including also a number of clergymen from Omaha.

The convention is for the purpose of considering matters of general interest to the church. A feature of the gathering will be the presence of Rev. Mr. Rice of Council Bluffs, the oldest Congregational minister in the state, who founded the first Congregational church in Council Bluffs nearly seventy years ago. Following is the program.

Tuesday Afternoon.

Organization and business.
"The Church, Its Work and Organization," J. M. Cummings, Farragut.
"The Church, Its Ministry in the Training of Youth," C. F. Fisher, Tabor.
