Twenty-Five Are Hurt When Floor in Distillery Falls

PEORIA, Ill., April 13.—Twenty-five students of Bradley Polytechnic institution were injured today when the second floor of the big Woolner distillery, which they were inspecting, gave way under the weight of seventy-five members of the party. The accident occurred while the young people were standing around a big fermenting vat, the workings of which were being explained by the superintendents of the plant.

The accident came without a second's warning. Loosely grouped around a big vat stood the seventy-five persons when suddenly there was a crash and roar and the whole party was precipitated to the ground. Partly buried under the debris of broken timber, boxes, machinery, the young men and women were thrown into a state of excitement.

Those most seriously injured were placed in rows on the prairie by workmen, where they remained until the ambulances arrived. The party was on a trip made annually by students of the school. The injured: Miss Olin Hillman, Shelbyville, Ill.; rib broken back, sprained ribs, fractured arm; Miss Jessie Cardiff, Galva, Ill.; internally; Miss Florence Smith, Winnebago, Miss; spine injured, ribs fractured. HILL DOES NOT OWN ALL ORE IN MESABA RANGE

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Thomas F. Cole of Duluth, former president of the Oliver Mining company, and now engaged in copper mining in Arizona and Montana, was a witness today before the house committee on inquiry into the United States Steel corporation. His testimony was expected to conclude the inquiry, which has been in progress since last May.

Asked by representative Young of Michigan, for his estimates of the ore holdings of the Steel corporation on the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges in the Lake Superior region, he said that exclusive of the Hill ore leases, the holdings would exceed 100,000,000 tons. He said cars in the Mesaba range owned by independent operators, including the Hill lease cars, nearly equalled the Steel corporation holdings. The value of all the cars on the cars and the Mesaba ranges, when held as a reserve, Mr. Cole declared, would range from 30 to 50 cents a ton, "an inert mass lying in the ground," he said "the value of the ore is little."

Policemen Rescue a Kidnaped Bride at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Policemen with drawn revolvers rescued Mary Curtis, a pretty 19-year-old girl, here today from a wedding celebration in which Mary said she had been an unwilling principal.

A hundred countrymen were brought in to celebrate. The girl's cousin informed the police of the alleged abduction and the rescue followed. The federal authorities today will investigate the case.

Winter's first call was made while the president was at breakfast. The man said he was known at the German embassy and that he had business with Mr. Taft that required a personal audience. He was turned away, but a short time later slipped through the doors and was several feet inside before detected. It was then he was induced to accompany an officer to the "German embassy." Knox County Man Dragged to Death Under Harrow

BLOOMFIELD, Neb., April 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Jake Ross, a farmer living two miles northeast of this city, was killed yesterday afternoon while harrowing on his farm. He went out to work after dinner and about 6 o'clock his wife went out to the barn and found the team standing near a fence and the body of her dead husband lying on the harrow with his head bent down under two bars of the harrow. He had evidently been dead for several hours as the body was cold and stiff. It is not known how the accident occurred, but the supposition is that he must have stumbled and fell over the harrow, stunning him and while in this unconscious condition his team walked off towards the barn, dragging his head under the harrow. The deceased was an exemplary German citizen and leaves a widow and several small children.

Grand Circuit Races Arousing Interest

NEW YORK, April 13.—Trotting horse breeders, owners of high class horses, trainers, drivers, followers of the harness sport and men generally interested in light harness horses have every reason to congratulate themselves on the strength of the Grand Circuit and the rich purses its members have offered and will offer for the sport. Seldom in its entire history has the big racing line included thirteen of the country's most important mile tracks in its membership, and never with as much money for purses and favorites as will be offered this year.

Grand Circuit Races Arousing Interest

The start of the season this year is at least two weeks earlier than formerly, which is certainly the most encouraging feature of the season's harness sport. Compared with 1911 only one member, Indianapolis, is out, while in its place there are two newcomers—Salmon, N. H., and Pittsburgh. Columbus returns to the lineup with its two weeks' meeting and will soon announce early closing events amounting to over $40,000, while Lexington is a member for the first time, adding great strength to the line and saving serious chances of dates in the future. A certain racer as early as July 3, with a meeting worth $7,000 at Grand Rapids; fifteen weeks of continued racing with a weekly sum never less than $25,000, and a meeting at Lexington will surely give breeders and breeders great confidence in the present and future of the industry of racing and sport.
