Strong Vote Out in City in Spite of Early Apathy.

SOUTH OMAHA WINS DEBATE

Weening Water Outclassed in Contest Waged in League-Charity Workers Confer Over Condition of the City.

Last night proved a surprise to party leaders in South Omaha for the exceptionally strong vote cast at the primaries. Early in the day it was conceded genlight and this opinion prevailed up to voters began to show some interest in the matter.

The total vote cast amounted to about crats cast 1.216 and the republicans 1.181.

n all. agreed that it would be most difficult to forecast the result of the vote. There was considerable talk of Rooseveit, but for the rest the party slate seemed to be generally accepted.

The returns were slow in coming in and up to '12 o'clock none had been received. South Omaha Wins.

South Omaha High school debating team last night proved in the debate with he Weeping Water team that the Magic City was a laboring man's town when it downed the visiting team on the question of closed shop. The home team won the decision unanimously and it was agreed that the closed shop should receive the Sutton presided and the judges of the George Martin of Nebruska City and

That South Omaha was over-populated for the amount of labor to be had in the city and that the result of the strike of today was the conclusions of the charity conference held yesterday aftersoon in the council chamber of the city

Present at the meeting were well known clergymen of the city, Mayor Hoctor, Superintendent of Schools N. M. Graham and all the school principals of the city.

Mayor Hoctor opened the meeting with a few words of welcome and then plunged the city, on which rubject he manifested a fund of information which indicated that he had studied the matter closely. The mayor spoke of his intentions to clean up the town. He declared that he would appoint a day upon which all the gathered and disposed of in a sanitary way. The mayor spoke of the necessity for play grounds for the children of the His honor's remarks met

Rev. Father James Aberne of St. Agnes' the First Preabyterian church echoed and re-school the opinions of one another as to the cause of the poverty and want in South Omaha. Both speakers blamed the differences between capital and labor as the cause of the hardships that now prevail in South Omaha, Father Aherne said the cause went back to the strike of 1882, when he had impartially told the capitalists and laboring men that the strong necessity was mutuality of intersutting the dollar above the man. Drink was specialized as one of the great causes of the evils of the city, but Father Aberne remarked that if great poverty laboring people then the way to do away with the drink evil was to do away with great poverty.

Others also spoke, including Revs. Haley and White. Mr. White declared that Mrs. Lord's paper was brave and deserving of criticism only because it was truthful. He added that he had been warned by a former pastor of South Omaha that he must not tell all the truth to the people of South Omaha. Truth in the Magic City, he said, had
