

Desperate Desmond

Claude Kicks the Villain's Hat, but That's All the Satisfaction He Gets.

By Hershfield

I-TO THE RING. Claude and Desmond are both in the powerful grasp of the pugilist who is instructing the Russians in boxing.

II-TOSSING IN HIS CASTOR. To show his supreme contempt for Claude, he tosses his hat into the ring. It is an old customer for a challenger to throw his hat into the ring.

III-KICKING IT OUT. It is but the work of a moment for the handsome athlete, Claude Clair, to vault lightly over the ropes and with a well directed kick send the villain's hat spinning through the air.

IV-THE PASSPORT. Imagine the chagrin of Desmond when he remembers that he has left his precious passport in the lining of his hat. Claude's vigorous kick has dislodged the paper.

V-THE RIT. The scene has suddenly changed into one of terrible riot. As the crooks in the audience catch sight of a passport a mad scramble for it takes place.

VI-AFTER HIM, BOYS. "Im the boys!" cries Desperate Desmond. "and I've got the girl!" The villain has indeed captured the beautiful Rosamond once again and is on his way with great speed.
