

NEW SCHOOL OF COMMERCE

Department to Open in Leavenworth Building Next Fall.

GRAFF HUNTS FOR TEACHERS

Large Attendance is Expected from the Start and Relief for the High School is Anticipated.

Superintendent E. U. Graff of the public schools is scouting for commercial teachers for the staff of the new Omaha High School of Commerce, which will open in the Leavenworth building next fall.

"We will need about six new teachers," said Superintendent Graff, "and they are hard to find. Our commercial teachers generally are either commercial men without teaching experience or teachers without business experience."

Mr. Graff thinks one of the needs of modern education is a training school for commercial teachers. There is now nowhere a commercial normal school where teachers are trained to teach commercial courses. The commercial course in high and normal schools has been so much in demand in recent years that a large number of teachers are required.

It is believed the Omaha High School of Commerce will open next fall with a large attendance. Teachers at the high school have been asked to find out how many pupils in that institution have planned to take up work at the new school. Many have responded.

As soon as school closes work of remodeling the Leavenworth school will begin. A few changes will be made, with the equipment that is installed. As there are about 300 commercial students at the high school that institution, now congested, will be relieved, but even with the new addition will not have an unoccupied seat.

Steel King Stops a Short Time Here

Traveling in his private car, Loretta, and accompanied by a party of friends, Charles M. Schwab, multi-millionaire steel trust magnate, went west yesterday, arriving on Northwestern No. 1, and going out on the Union Pacific's fast mail.

Mr. Schwab was in Omaha an hour and during that time remained at the Union station. He paced up and down the railroad tracks and remarked on the growth of Omaha. Relative to politics, Mr. Schwab was totally ignorant, or at least professed to be so. He had heard nothing about presidential preferences and did not care to express any opinions relative to what the nominating conventions might do.

According to Mr. Schwab, business is very good with the steel industry and much is being done in the way of putting out railroad and structural steel for building and other construction.

Mr. Schwab and the members of his party have come direct from New York and will go to San Francisco without making a stop. The trip is one for pleasure and not for business.

EXPERTS GO TO WORK ON GAS COMPANY BOOKS

Three expert eastern accountants began work yesterday on the books of the Omaha Gas company, securing data to be used in the suits of the company to prevent the enforcement of the dollar gas ordinance. W. D. Marks, expert on physical appraisals, will complete his appraisal within a few more weeks and his findings, as well as that of the accountants will be presented by the city as evidence that dollar gas would not be confiscatory.

SHORT WEIGHT PEDDLERS ARE TO BE PROSECUTED

John Grant Pez, city sealer of weights and measures, has issued an ultimatum to hucksters and peddlers who have been operating without having their measures approved and stamped. Complaints have been coming in from residents who say peddlers are giving them short weight. Two offenders were caught by the inspector and yanked into his office and compelled to comply with requirements. Hereafter those caught violating the ordinance will be arrested.

RECEPTION PLANNED FOR MISS EMMA WHITMORE

Teachers of Lake school will give a reception May 4 for Miss Emma Whitmore, who will go on the retired list of Omaha teachers at the close of the year. She has taught for twenty years in this city. The entertainment will be from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Commercial Club is to Entertain Its New Members

Arrangements are going ahead for the big meeting for the new members of the Commercial club, which has been postponed from April 23 to May 6. The date was changed because of conflict with the beefsteak vaudeville scheduled by the Ad club.

Committees have been appointed to arrange for the Auditorium meeting. A program of speeches and vaudeville stunts to last two and a half hours is being planned by the following committee: T. B. Coleman, H. W. Pierpont, W. S. Wright and C. G. Campbell on invitations; S. W. Smith, W. M. Burgess, F. E. Zeller and J. J. DeWight, arrangements; Joseph Barker, Sam Burns, Jr., G. E. Haverstick and G. H. Kelly, speakers; and J. F. West, F. J. Paffendorf and F. T. B. Martin, entertainment.

It is intended to secure two men of prominence, either locally or nationally to address the gathering.

Mrs. Georgia Paxton Married Yesterday in New York City

Mrs. Georgia S. Paxton, widow of the late William A. Paxton, Jr., was married yesterday in the Strathallan apartments, 250 West Eighty-eighth street, New York City, to Martin Saxe of New York.

The families of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. Saxe left at noon for the south. They will spend some time in Omaha during the summer, but their home will be in New York.

Mr. Saxe is an attorney and a member of the firm of Saxe & Powell, 51 Chambers street, New York. He is a prominent lawyer of that city, has been a member of the state legislature for two terms, is president of the Phoenix Cap and Cork company and president of the Metallurgical Decorating company of Chicago and New York.

County Board Will Look Over Samples of Steel Furniture

At a committee meeting of the Board of County Commissioners held yesterday looking to the acceptance of one of the several bids offered by different manufacturing companies for steel furniture for the vaults in the new county building, action by the board was postponed until after it could look over the samples presented by representatives of two of the concerns. The other four companies who have entered bids have not samples here.

Bergquist Dies from His Injuries

Gus Bergquist, aged 42 years, who has been foreman of the foundry department at the American Smelter and Refining company for many years, died at a local hospital late Saturday night from injuries he received last Wednesday in an explosion at the plant. An official of the smelter company said that moisture or gas caused an explosion of a mould about 4:30 o'clock last Wednesday night while Bergquist was in the room with two other workmen. His legs were broken and he received internal injuries. The other men were not hurt. Bergquist lived at 102 North Eighteenth street, South Omaha. He is survived by a widow and several children.

Indians Riding in the Best of Trains

A full blooded Indian traveling first class in one of the Pullmans of Northwestern No. 1, caused any amount of annoyance among the passengers of one of the cars at the Union station yesterday morning.

John Wilson, alias John Rainbow, is a full blooded Sac Indian, living on the reservation over in Tama county, Iowa. He with his squaw had decided to take a trip to California and having money, concluded to ride on the best train that the Northwestern runs west. From Omaha, they went on the Union Pacific's Overland Limited, occupying a section, perfectly satisfied with surrounding conditions, regardless of the fact that their near neighbors were rich white people.

Contractors Pay for Broken Walk

Assistant City Attorney Lambert has received word from Lincoln that the decision of the lower courts in the case of the City of Omaha vs. Yancy and Redman and F. A. Nash had been confirmed. This suit arose out of injuries sustained by Mrs. Wright while walking on a broken sidewalk. She sued the city for $5,000 and secured judgment. The city sued the contractors for the $5,000 and the lower courts awarded judgment in the city's favor, which action the supreme court confirms.

Funeral Directors to Put On Show Here

Something interesting for Omahans in the way of conventions has been secured by E. V. Parrish of the publicity bureau of the Commercial club. It will be three days of sessions for the State Association of Funeral Directors, June 12, 13 and 14. The embalmers will present a show in the Auditorium, which probably will be free to the public. What kind of exhibits will be shown has not been announced, but it is said there will be something quite interesting.

OLD MILLER PARK SCHOOL BUILDINGS BEING RAZED

Work of removing the old two-room school building on Miller park site has begun. The old building will be replaced by a modern $75,000 school, authorized at the last meeting of the Board of Education. Two buildings, each of two rooms, at Miller park site will be put out of commission by the new structure, which will make room for Twelfth ward students for several years to come.

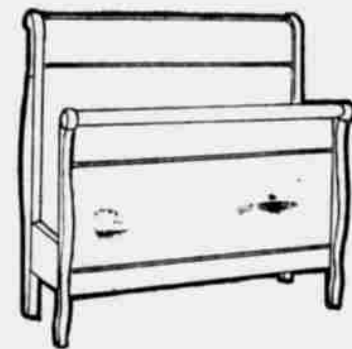

Permits to smoke, 5 cents. All dealers.

Spring Home Furnishers Exposition

Visitors are welcome at this great exposition

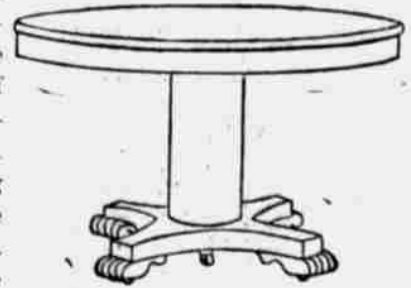

This large establishment is now in the midst of the most important event of the year, the Spring Home Furnishers' Exposition. We invite all Omaha to view the various displays on every floor. Hundreds were here yesterday.

Furniture that strongly influences the happiness and cheerfulness of the home

One cannot be too particular with the furniture that goes into the bedroom. Taste is reflected by the furnishings of this apartment, and every young bride realizes this, for she is very particular about her sleeping room surroundings. The Sligh line of bedroom furniture has a refined appearance and reflects the mood and disposition of young women. It also is sold at moderate prices. These two assets, substantial character molding qualities and smallness of price make it the satisfactory furniture. It is in all woods and patterns. Be sure to see the Sligh line at the Exposition.

In the dining room surrounded by furniture that radiates comfort

The charm of a dining room is secured through the choice selection of furniture that creates harmony. A cheerful dining room makes the meals seem better. No young couple will neglect the furnishings of this room, but will inspect closely the chairs, buffets, tables and China closets that are to be placed in this part of the home. The Rockford Standard dining room furniture is suited to the needs of the home that wants the best furniture for the least money. Thoroughly constructed, highly finished, Rockford Standard pieces are demanded by the most discriminating. We show a beautiful line of this dining room furniture in golden oak. It is attracting hundreds of visitors during this exposition.

The sleep is not good if the mattress is poor

No matter how substantial the bed springs are, one simply cannot enjoy a good night's rest on a non-resilient mattress. But you get up refreshed and invigorated after you have spent the night on an Acme or Perfection mattress. They are built up of cotton felt, excellently constructed, and everlastingly serviceable. You get the cleanest and purest and softest sleeping mattress in the Acme and Perfection. There are a hundred or more points about these mattresses that will interest you, but we would rather show these mattresses and explain the details then. You will grasp all the many superior points of these magnificent makes if you will visit our Exposition this week.

The call of summer is here in Rest Haven

Rest Haven has been erected on our main floor. It is full of summer furniture, swings, chairs, settees, tables, and suggests the cool summer evenings on the porch, the delightful visits on the lawn or in the summer living rooms. All the desirable summer furniture, in all the best grasses and woods, is here displayed. Rest Haven is a place of beauty. Look in upon it during this Exposition.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Yates Round Out Half Century Married Life.

SURROUNDED BY RELATIVES

Big Reception at Hillside Last Evening, When Old Friends Gathered to Extend Felicitations.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Yates celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday at Hillside and were showered with congratulations and gifts by other pioneers of Omaha. The old settlers were especially interested in the occasion, since Mr. and Mrs. Yates have spent all but one year of their married life in this city and have taken a prominent part in its commercial progress, its social life and its church interests.

Mr. Yates came to Omaha in 1861 from St. Joseph with the Navy-McCord wholesale grocery firm. With him was Mrs. Yates, whom he had married about a year before as Miss Eliza B. Samuels at Savannah, Mo. He soon became cashier of the First National bank and in 1882 organized the Nebraska National bank, of which he has ever since been president and of which his son, Henry W. Yates, Jr., is vice president. For forty-seven years Mr. Yates has been a vestryman of Trinity cathedral, where his family are active workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Yates' first home in Omaha was a little cottage on Sixteenth and Harney streets where the City National bank now stands. Their next home was the house they built and which is still standing on the corner of Nineteenth and Capitol avenues. Here their children were born. Twenty-two years ago next month they built their handsome stone residence which occupies several blocks and faces on Thirty-first and Davenport streets.

Perhaps no Omaha home has been the scene of more hospitality than Hillside. And the culmination of the social affairs given there will be the big reception which Mr. and Mrs. Yates held last evening from 8 until 11 o'clock and to which 250 guests were invited.

With Mr. and Mrs. Yates who were present at their wedding fifty years ago were present last night with Mr. and Mrs. Yates. They are Mrs. Yates' two sisters, Mrs. John Lemon and Mrs. J. T. Johnson, both of St. Joseph, and Mrs. James McCord of St. Joseph, who is here visiting her son, W. H. McCord.

With Mr. and Mrs. Yates are also their daughters, Mrs. Rebe Morgan, Mrs. Florence Voss and their son, Henry W. Yates, Jr., all of whom reside at Hillside, and their daughter, Mrs. Edward C.

Smith of Kansas City. Their other daughter, Mrs. C. C. Allen, of San Francisco cannot be here. Their grandchildren here are Miss Dorothy Morgan, George Voss and Mrs. George Prouditt of Lincoln and Betty Smith. Mrs. Prouditt's daughter, Dorothy Alice Prouditt, is the one great grandchild. Mrs. William Siple, a niece from St. Louis, is also of the house party at Hillside.

FRENCH LINE BOATS TO TAKE SOUTHERN ROUTE

As a result of the recent disaster of the Titanic, W. E. Bock, local representative of the French Line Steamship company, is advised that "all steamers of the French line will take the most southerly course across the Atlantic to avoid all possibility of danger and although we have always carried a sufficient number of life boats we have increased the number to the maximum."
