Holdup Men Tackle Policeman Morgan

Officer Eddie Morgan almost experienced the feeling of being held up early yesterday morning, but his police instinct got the better of him and instead of waiting for the thrill, he added a couple of more arrests to his April record.

Morgan was returning to the station from a downtown restaurant, and as he passed a staircase on Eleventh street between Farnam and Douglas, two men called out to him to halt. Morgan did, but he presented the would-be robbers with a gleaming .41 calibre Colt's revolver, muzzle first, and then he marched the men to headquarters, where they gave the names of Stanley Pickwick and J. W. Daniels. They explained their actions by saying that they mistook Morgan for a friend whom they wanted to scare. The men resemble somewhat two of the stickups who plagued E. P. Gamble last night, and they are being investigated.

MISS LATHROP RESPONDS TO CONGRATULATORY NOTE

Miss Julia Lathrop of Hull House, who was appointed chief of the Federal Children's Bureau by President Taft, was sent congratulations by Mrs. M. D. Cameron on behalf of the Omaha Woman's club, which was one of many federated clubs in the country which have been working for the bureau. Mrs. Cameron heard from Miss Lathrop Tuesday morning as follows:

Once more I will write you of my progress under your treatment. I am doing fine, have not felt better in several years, am able to do a good day's work every day, and all the square meals regular. Do not be afraid that some great pain or pain in my stomach any more, and only one dizzy feeling in six months. Before I took your treatment it was quite common for me to have a dizzy, fainting spell, but now none of that, and my family would not permit me to go anywhere alone. But now I go everywhere alone, do all kinds of work and no more worrying about bad spells.

I am very thankful to you for what you have done for me, and would like to thank you to several of my friends, most of whom, like myself, had no faith in doctors any more.

I am as well, healthy and strong as any man could be at my age, and I shall not need you for you, whatever I can. Now if you wish to use this letter to help someone else suffering as I have suffered, you are at perfect liberty to do so.

Respectfully,
C. H. DAVISON.

BUMPER YIELDS PREDICTED

Railroad Officials Talk with Farmers and Elevator Owners.

GRASS IS COMING ON RAPIDLY

Tour Over Northwestern in Dakota and Wyoming Ranges Indicates that Losses of Stock Were Not Overestimated.

Railroad offices are unusually optimistic over the crop outlook, and although the growing season has hardly commenced, are predicting bumper yields of small grain this year in Nebraska.

Northwestern officials are just back from a tour that covered most of the Nebraska lines and after talking with farmers and elevator men, declare that there has never been a time at this season of the year when the outlook was so promising. From Fremont through, southwest to the Kansas line, on the York and Hastings, on the Scribner and Oakdale and on the Omaha and Lincoln branches, the condition at this time is estimated to be 100 per cent. All over this territory the ground is reported to be in the best possible state, with plenty of moisture. The winter wheat acreage is larger than during former years and owing to the recent heavy rains, is farther advanced. Farmers are sowing their oats and in some instances, plowing for corn has commenced.

DAMAGE IS DISCOUNTED

The report that the winter wheat through the southern part of the state was damaged by dry weather and high winds is discounted, the reports indicating that there were but two or three counties in southeast Nebraska and a like area in Kansas that sustained any damage.

The grass is coming on rapidly and cattle are picking their living in the pastures. This applies equally to the sandhills of Nebraska, the ranges of South Dakota and Wyoming.

On their tour the Northwestern officials learned that the live stock losses throughout South Dakota and Wyoming during the winter were not overestimated. In many localities, north and east of the Black Hills and in eastern Wyoming, the cattle loss is put down at 25 per cent and that of sheep much greater.

The Burlington's first crop report of the season is out and has arrived at the general manager's office in Omaha. It is gathered by superintendents and agents in Nebraska, who get their information from observations and from talks with farmers. This report shows that the soil contains an unusual quantity of moisture, largely accumulated from melted snow.

ACREAGE IS INCREASED

The Burlington's report says that after the snow melted, the sun and strong winds tended to form a hard crust on the fields. In most cases the fields have been harrowed and the crust broken. And taking into account the damage done after the snow disappeared, the winter wheat crop starts the season with a prospect of 80 per cent of the maximum. The acreage is put down as being much larger than in former years.

A general rain fell last week over most of the grain raising area of Nebraska and it is predicted that if rains occur and reasonable weather prevails, the crop prospects will be up to 100 per cent within the next few weeks.

Girls Sell Papers for Benefit of the Titanic Victims

Three of the finest looking girls of the Columbia Burlesques, now playing at the Gayety theater, have been picked by Manager Johnson to sell Evening Bees on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons. The proceeds will be applied to the Titanic steerage passenger fund.

The young women are Miss Nellie Flordio, one of the principals, and Misses Ray Lynne and Marje Allen, members of the chorus.

They will cry their wares in the lobby of the theater at the conclusion of the matinee performances on the afternoons mentioned. In organizing the girls have decided that no change will be returned to patrons. They will hold to every penny that is offered to them.

SHRINERS TO CROSS THE PLAINS TO CALIFORNIA

A special committee to secure legislation regulating the irresponsible outside concerns that are taking Omaha capital was appointed by the executive committee of the Commercial club yesterday.

Endeavors will be made to secure a law similar to the famous "blue sky" law of Kansas which keeps under the strict regulation the promoters of spurious business propositions which inveigle home capital into foreign concern.

The Commercial club has been moved to action by the many foreign concerns which recently have come into the local field and supplied their wants with money which the club feels should have gone into worthy and needy home institutions.
