NEW YORK, April 28.-Representative journalists from all over the country were brought together tonight at the annual banquet of the Associated Press and the American Newspaper Publishers association, held in the ball room of the ment provided for them, which was in teresting throughout, was novel in the character of some of its features.

The telephone played a prominent part in lending both variety and novelty to actually in Boston, addressed the assem wires of the American Telephone an Telegraph company, his voice being distinctly conveyed to each guest by phone from Hot Springs, Va.
Intermingled with these addresses were songs over the telephone wires from Josie

orated with draped flags, and masses of flowers and foliage.

Seven Hundred Guests. At the tables were seated more than 700 guests, those at the table of hono including President Frank B. Noyes and other directors and officers of the As other directors and officers of the As-sociated Press; President Haideman of the American Newspaper Publishers' as-sociation; President Findley of the Col-lege of New York City; Augustus Thomas, the playwright; Talcott Williams, head of the Pulitzer School of Journalism of Columbia university ,and Dr. Alexander Graham Bell and other guests of note.

The surrounding galleries and boxes were filled with many women in handsome evening costumes. quet that the novel features were inter-spersed. Lively airs from the orchestra started the banqueting. The announce ment shortly afterwards from Congress man Victor Murdock, editor of the that the voices of President Taft and the pm bill is an great distances as separated the speakers taking first place in each and landing from the diners was greeted with enthusitive points for his class.

RETURN MADE IN SUIT FILED BY WOMAN BASE BALL OWNER

president of the local team of the National Hase Ball league, filed a return today in the suit brought by Miss Sarah Robison to restrain him from voting her stock at meetings of the club's directorate. Miss Robison set forth in her petition stock from M. Stanley Robison and alleged that although she had received certificate, Steininger refused to transfer the stock to her name on the books. She asked that he be ordered to make the transfer.

Mrs. Britton, who is the owner of he other three-fourths of the stock, filed similar suit. Steininger in his return alleged that, as administrator of the estate, he is legal wner of the stock and has a right to vote it for two years after the death of the testator. He asks that the temporary restraining order issued last Priday be dissolved. A meeting of the board, called for last Saturday, was postponed after the lasu-ance of the injunction. The case will be heard Monday and Mrs. Britton's suit
