HOT DEBATE ON ROOSEVELT

Williams in Senate Calls Colonel a Modern Caesar.

SUGGESTS CREED FOR T. R. MEN

Bristow Charges Collision Existed Between Senate and Department of Justice in Bringing Out Harvester Letters.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The first sensational political debate in the senate at this session of congress broke yesterday over Colonel Roosevelt's official correspondence about the International Harvester company when he was president in 1907.

Senator Bristow of Kansas was the principal speaker in support of Colonel Roosevelt and Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi was the former president's principal assailant.

Mr. Williams characterized the former president as a "modern Caesar willing to seize power by any means," while Mr. Bristow defended the colonel as the modern tribune of the people and warmly criticized President Taft's administration.

The debate became almost ultra sensational when Senator Williams read to the senate a parody of the apostles creed as follows:

"I believe in Theodore Roosevelt, maker of noise and strife, and in ambition, his only creed (My Lord). He was born of the love of power and suffered under William H. Taft; was crucified, dead and buried. He descended into Africa. The third year he rose again from the jungle and descended into favor and stichth on the right hand of his party whence, he shall come to scourge the licked and the dead.

"I believe in the holy Outlook, the big stick, the Ananias, the forgiveness of political activities, the resurrection of presidential ambitions and the third term everlastingly—amen, amen, amen."

Bristow Makes Charge

The debate was precipitated by Senator Bristow's return to his charge yesterday that collision had existed between the senate and the Department of Justice in the sending of the official correspondence yesterday and that partiality had been shown in the proceeding in that only correspondence regarding the course of President Roosevelt's administration had been sent to the senate while the papers relating to the Taft administration's proceedings had not.

Senator Johnston denied there had been an understanding and declared he had seen neither the attorney general nor the president for a month. Senator Clark of Wyoming pointed out that the Johnston resolution differed from the others in that it called for certain specific information.

Senator Bristow remarked that evidently there was no disposition on either side of the chamber to criticize President Taft, to which Senator Williams protested vigorously.

"If the senator can show me that the present president has traveled in the same way as the former president, I will condemn him as strongly as I would Roosevelt," he declared.

"It would have to be a matter of grave public concern in which vital interests of the country were affected," returned Senator Bristow, "before I would dig up the confidential correspondence of my predecessor's secretary and his cabinet officers in regard to matters which he has a perfect right to believe would be kept within the confidence of the department and print them for political campaign purposes."

Williams Delivers Lecture. With that Senator Williams stepped out from his desk and took a position in the center aisle of the senate, where he said he "could be more impartial as between parties and factions," and entered into a good-natured lecture to the republicans.

Senator Bristow he referred to as one of the chief uplifters of the present time who was still opposed to lifting the lid from administration secrets. Mr. Bristow insisted that he had been misunderstood.

Senator Williams discussed the correspondence made public yesterday and then touched on the "third term."

"Are you going to come out for a third term?" he demanded. "Are you going to forget what Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln and McKinley did and said? Are you going to put all that behind you because of a little keynote phrasing?"

Senator Nelson interjected that his sympathies would be with the democrats if Colonel Roosevelt should be elected.

"You will get the worst of it," he said. "Not the democratic party only, but the entire American people will get the worst of it," retorted Mr. Williams. He declared that if Americans were not careful they might sink into Caesarism. He referred to the former president as "Saint Theodore," and said that when Mr. Roosevelt had spoken of good trusts and bad trusts he had meant to imply that the trusts supporting the administration must be dealt with leniently, while those which fought it must be treated severely.

A Tremendous Purchase!! A Startling Sale!!

ORKIN'S DOUGLAS STREET STORE
