

SHERMAN SHOWS GRANT'S FATE IS NOW A WARNING

Vice President Recalls Republican Convention of Eighteen-Eighty and Its Result.

WISE TRADITION SYET RETAINED

Great Leader, Counseled Badly, Lured into Grievous Blunder.

THIRD TERM OBJECTION VITAL

Safeguard Against Permanence in Authority Overcomes All.

NEVER TRIED TO STRAIN POWER

No Inordinate Desire for Office Was Arousing Confusion.

ONE OF THREE REAL PATRIOTS

Among Illustrious Americans Whose Lives Are Ended, Washington, Lincoln and Grant Hold Highest Place.

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—Vice President James S. Sherman spoke in behalf of President Taft's campaign for re-nomination at the Grant day banquet of the American club here tonight. Mr. Sherman spoke as follows:

"The Chicago convention of 1890 set forth clearly how strongly the American people cling to the wise traditions of the fathers. General Grant was content with the popular favor accorded him and had no further political ambition. Certain party leaders, however, dragged him into allowing the use of his name as a candidate for a third presidential term. Seemingly he was lured into the grievous blunder of his life. The minority of 300 on the convention roll by no means included all the admirers of the warrior-statesman. The safeguard against permanence in executive authority was deemed vital, overrode personal regard and esteem and forbade compliance with individual desire. Devotion to the republican principle prevailed and the famous hero went to defeat in the home of his friends.

"The opponents of a third term for Grant never charged that he strayed or tried to add to the power of the executive. Congress and the judiciary suffered no assault from him. His loyalty to the constitution and the laws was absolute, too absolute ever to be questioned. He did not deem himself the sole reliance of the republic. The spirit of a Caesar or a Cromwell was not within him. No greed for despotism led him astray. He tried an iron-fist rule against the altar of the national sanctuary, its constitution and its courts. He aroused no mad confusion or chaos. Inordinate desire for power did not smother in him the high attributes of consistency, constancy and fairness. He was an architect of concord, not discord. He was quiet and content, not boisterous and discordant. Yet, even for him, the precept and example of Washington could not be ignored by the American people.

"Among illustrious Americans whose lives are ended, three shine out in the firmament of history like the brightest stars of heaven. The schoolboy and the sage, the laborer and the prince of finance, with accord, name Washington, Lincoln and Grant. The union is safe and will endure so long as the citizens following their footsteps and take inspiration from their characters and teachings.

"Shall we for a moment or two give thought to what all this signifies in the affairs of today. The danger of any approach to permanence in executive authority was emphasized by Washington, and Jefferson repeated the warning. By long time custom and by almost universal opinion of the thoughtful of the past, wisdom limits presidential service to eight years. Save only with President Hayes, who forbade consideration of his name for a second term, the republican party has tendered to its presidents a renomination. The wisdom of this act has been demonstrated with Lincoln, Grant and McKinley. President Taft has not fallen behind any predecessor in fidelity, efficiency, constancy and force. He has done no juggling, has practiced no deception, has sought no personal advantage. He has enforced the law, has respected constitutional government, has been the advocate of stability. His administration has been conspicuous for honesty, economy and real progress. The parallel of his case with Lincoln and Grant is striking and prophetic. And as

MOVE TO AVOID ALL PARTIALITY

State University Senate Would Make Accepting Degree Mere Formality.

LATIN IS BEING DISPLACED

Faculty Agrees to Plan to Permit Teaching of Modern Languages Instead of Latin to Students Who So Desire.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—A move to abolish the requirement of graduates walking across the stage to get their diploma was the object of a prolonged discussion at a meeting of the state university senate this morning. As proposed by several of the instructors, hereafter the graduates would only be required to stand up in their places and have the whole bundle of sashkins presented to them, afterward calling at the chancellor's office to get their certificate of graduation.

In past years it has been the custom to have the one receiving his degree walk clear across the stage on commencement day before he receives his diploma. This has brought forth considerable criticism because the audience has been known to give some of their applause for some as they appear on the stage. Sometimes they have even gone so far as to applaud only the negroes, cripples and foot ball heroes.

The matter was finally left entirely in the hands of the chancellor, who will talk with the seniors and their parents with a view of obtaining their wishes as to whether or not the custom shall be abolished. Many of the parents are said to favor the old plan because it gives their sons and daughters a good deal of desirable publicity, but students and others are thought to be in favor of the new move. If the sentiment is overwhelming for a change the new plan will be followed at the graduation exercises this spring.

The senate confirmed the appointment of Prof. Fred M. Hunter to the interfraternity council to succeed Prof. J. R. Pool.

KENTUCKY DISTILLERS WILL CURTAIL OUTPUT

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 27.—Production of Kentucky whiskey, similar to that during the four years from 1907 to 1910, inclusive, which was followed by several years of depression, is feared by local distillers, who have agreed that curtailment in the output is imperative. The trade has produced about 90,000,000 gallons in the last two years, more than 20,000,000 gallons in excess of the demand.

Distillers say a tremendous impetus was given the production of Kentucky bourbon by the pure food rulings as to what constitutes real whiskey, and many increased the capacity of their plants in anticipation of a big demand. The over-tour of Dr. Wiley's conclusion later cut into the consumption of their whiskey. Jobbers all over the country, they say, practically have ceased buying anything younger than 1907's, and when they buy goods of older vintage the purchases are altogether for immediate wants.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL ROAD IS BLAMED FOR WRECK

IOWA FALLS, Ia., April 27.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury summoned to investigate the wreck on the Illinois Central here last Sunday afternoon, returned a verdict yesterday after several days' careful investigation of the causes of an accident that cost three lives and the loss of thousands of dollars' worth of property. The verdict holds the Illinois Central Railroad company and the engineers of the double-header guilty of gross carelessness. The conductor of the rear train was censured in the verdict for failure to use precaution when he found that the train had passed the yard limit at an excessive speed.

Taft Returns to Bay State Monday for More Speeches

BOSTON, April 27.—At the Taft headquarters arrangements were perfected today for the second visit of the president to the state on Monday, when he will take up the Roosevelt trail through Bristol, Plymouth, Essex and Middlesex counties.

With speeches scheduled in six large cities in Massachusetts this promised to be a day of activity for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. His first address after leaving Boston was to be a rear platform speech at Quincy, Brockton, Middleboro, Taunton, New Bedford and Fall River also were on the list for speeches. The closing rally of the day will take place tonight at the Boston arena, where, it is believed, Colonel Roosevelt will reply to the charges delivered from the same platform by President Taft Thursday.

Leaders of the Roosevelt campaign in this state had arranged rallies in more than a score of cities and towns, with several prominent speakers included in the list, to give addresses to the voters. The cheers for Roosevelt in the South station had scarcely died away when they were renewed by the advent of Governor Woodrow Wilson on his way from the rally here last night for additional speeches today in Worcester, Springfield and Holyoke.

A statement was issued today by the supporters of Winona La Follette claiming that the Wisconsin aspirant for the presidency would poll 30,000 in the presidential primaries on Tuesday.

At the Clark headquarters it was stated that former Senator Towne of New York Governor-elect Robertson of Arkansas and ex-Senator Fred Dubois of Idaho would report here late tomorrow and speak in several Boston wards, as well as at Brockton and Chelsea tonight. Copies of the "hour's dawn" song are being given wide distribution.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., April 27.—A fourth attempt through the agency of the law to liberate Harry K. Thaw from the Mattewan state hospital, where he has been imprisoned for the slaying of Stanford White six years ago "because of insanity" was made today before Justice Keogh of the supreme court in New Rochelle. Thaw was brought down from Mattewan this morning.

The hearing on a writ of habeas corpus was expected to be preliminary in character and it was understood that no witnesses would be examined or exhibits produced. An adjournment for several weeks in order that counsel for the state may go over the voluminous records in previous proceedings was granted.

FORT DODGE, Ia., April 27.—(Special.)—Because he wanted to keep an engagement to be best man at the wedding of a college chum, Dr. A. E. Schupler of Emmaret, N. D., canceled his passage on the Titanic for her maiden and disastrous trip and took an earlier boat to the United States after several years' study at medical schools in Germany. His friend, as that wedding he acted as best man, was Bert B. Burnquist, county attorney of Webster county, who this week wed Miss Grace Starna, daughter of W. W. Starna, a prominent banker at Humboldt. The young people have gone east for a wedding trip after which they will be at home in Fort Dodge.

Charges Trusts Control Papers

Presidential Politics Again Holds Attention of the House During the Afternoon.

Postal Laws Under Debate

Mr. Barnhart Alleges that Harvester Combine Controls Chicago Tribune—Flatly Contradicted by Mr. Mann.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Presidential politics again held the attention of the house today. Representative Langley of Kentucky, a republican, took Representative Campbell of Kansas, republican, to task for his recent attack on Colonel Roosevelt.

"I do not think it proper for gentlemen who may have gotten the worst of it on the stump or in the newspapers to come into the house and air their grievances," said Mr. Langley. The Kentuckian a little later declared that if the republican leaders continued to fight each other a democratic victory in November might be expected.

The postoffice appropriation bill was under consideration. Representative Barnhart of Indiana, democrat, speaking on his amendment to the postal laws to require the names of owners, stockholders and publishers of newspapers to be printed daily, contended there were many rumors that the International Harvester company controlled certain New York papers and that he "knew it controlled a certain Chicago paper."

"I don't think the gentleman knows that," interrupted Representative Mann of Illinois.

"Do not the McCormicks control the Chicago Tribune?" asked Mr. Barnhart.

"Not the same McCormicks who are in the International Harvester company," said Mr. Mann.

"Are they not the same family?" asked Mr. Barnhart.

"No, not even the same family," said Mr. Mann.

"My information has been that the same family that is the principal stockholders in the International Harvester trust controls the Chicago Tribune. If that is not true, I will not make the statement."

"That certainly is not true," said Mr. Mann.

"Well, I happen to know it is true. It is also reported that Mr. Perkins, head of the Harvester trust, own the New York Mall and owns it by subterfuge," declared Mr. Barnhart. "The company reorganized and issued bonds and Mr. Perkins holds the majority of the bonds and dictates the policy of that paper in behalf of the Harvester trust and a certain great reform candidate for the presidency."

Taft Spends the Day Playing Golf

NEWARK, N. J., April 27.—President Taft laid aside his political clothes, put on an old gray cap and a sweater and relieved his feelings by knocking a golf ball around the course today at the Balausac Golf club near Orange. The president played with Ogden Colgate of Newark. There were many other players on the links, but out of respect for Mr. Taft there was no gallery to watch him play. The president was the guest over night of Clarence P. Kelsey of South Orange.

Railway Taxmen Form Association

CHICAGO, April 27.—A national organization to be known as the Railway Taxmen's association, composed of a membership of tax officers and attorneys of twenty-five railroads entering Chicago, has been formed here.

The object of the organization is for the consideration of the various taxing problems which arise in different states with the purpose in view of devising accurate and adequate methods of determining the assessable value of railway property. In the case of interstate roads methods for apportioning the ascertained value of railway property to the different states and lesser taxing bodies will be devised.

The following officers were chosen: President, Frank P. Crandon, Chicago & Northwestern; vice president, W. W. Baldwin, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; secretary, Alfred E. Patten, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy; treasurer, J. W. Mulligan, Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific; executive committee, G. G. Tunnel, Ashland, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway system; M. T. Sanders, Northern Pacific and the above named officers.

Wilson Sees Great Opportunity for the Democratic Party

Worcester Mass., April 27.—"This preliminary campaign which centers on the nomination of candidates for the presidency has a significance which cannot easily be exaggerated," said Governor Wilson in an address here today.

"If it engenders personal rivalry which is too bitter; if it divides the party, now united, into jealous and contesting factions, it will embarrass every subsequent process of our politics.

"It is too late to unite the warring elements of the republican party, but the democratic party can make itself the center and instrument of all these opposition forces.

"The democratic party ought to tolerate no man who introduces like bitterness into its own debates.

"Our task is one of pooling and concentrating the free thinking forces of the United States. No party ever had a higher mission than this, to fall in it is to fall upon permanent disaster."

Ray Wyman of Wicks, Iowa, Confesses to Murder of Father

DES MOINES, Ia., April 27.—Ray Wyman, 17-year-old youth, was arrested here today charged with the murder of his father, John Wyman, at their home near Wicks, Ia. The body of the dead man, with four bullet holes in it, was found on the kitchen floor of the house early today by Mrs. Wyman.

The boy was placed in custody while the coroner's jury investigated the automobile. With him was his sister, Mabel, 15 years old, who is in charge of the police station.

The sheriff this afternoon stated that Wyman had confessed to killing his father. The boy claimed he and his father were quarreling.

First Arrest Made in Black Hills Wolf Bounty Scandal

PIERRE, S. D., April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—The first move in what promises to be a sensation in this state was made this morning in the arrest of County Auditor Joseph Tierman of Fall River county on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses in relation to the wolf bounty claims in that county which have run into many thousands of dollars in the last two years. Attorney General Johnson and Deputy State Auditor Murphy have been in the Black Hills several days on this work and the arrest of Tierman this morning was the first move.
