AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Officials Give Facts in Connection with Alleged Plot.

MYSTERIOUS DEED NO MYSTERY

New Top on Sheep Market Reached When Lambs Bring $9.50—Everybody Urged to Clean Premises Today.

The facts of an alleged plot recently discovered by the office of the city treasurer with reference to the O street viaduct are given by city officials as follows: A deed of gift was drawn August 7, 1907, by J. W. Thomas and Idella E. Thomas, his wife, in favor of the city of South Omaha, its successors and assigns. The deed conveys a certain strip of land sixty-six feet wide, running east and west, to be used as the continuation of O street, and running in the same general direction from the right-of-way of the railroad on the west to the section line on the east.

The deed of grant further specifies that "in case the aforesaid strip of land is not improved as an extension of O street to the west bank of the Missouri river before January 1, 1912, the conveyance is to be null and void."

Further, the deed provides that the grantees specifically reserve "a sixteen-foot right-of-way under the viaduct, which the city of South Omaha is to maintain next to the railroad right-of-way." The deed was filed November 3, 1907.

In the recent alleged discovery an attempt is made to clothe the appearance of the deed with mystery and by insinuate a reflection is cast upon the present department of the city government.

As a matter of fact, the deed was obtained from the office of the city clerk by an attaché of the city engineer's office some weeks ago. The deed had been in the office of the city clerk since the time of its filing, which, on good authority, occurred while City Treasurer John Gillin was city clerk. It is the opinion, therefore, of those who are conversant with the facts that the treasurer's office had some hidden reason for playing up as a mysterious document something which they as sworn officers of the city had been called upon to file in 1907.

Further than the mystery the office of the city attorney had this to say yesterday: "The filing of the document occurred under the term of H. B. Fiehrly as city attorney. As to the loss of the land in question it is to be noted from the deed of gift that the reversion of title occurs only in case the land is not made an extension of O street to the river. Long before the close of the year 1911 a contract was sent to improve a roadway to the river from the Burlington tracks to the banks of the Missouri. It was done. The land, therefore, belongs to the city. The afterthought of the viaduct may best be explained by understanding that at the time the grant was made it was confidently asserted that a viaduct was to be built at the crossing of the tracks. The building of the viaduct was not, however, the cause of the donation."

Both City Attorney H. C. Murphy and Assistant City Attorney Sam Winters were up in arms at the attempt to cast reflection on their office.

Clean Up Today. Today is housecleaning day in South Omaha. From the jolly and rotund Mayor Tom down to the latest arrival in town all are expected to aid in the general cleanup. Old rags, and bottles, old shoes and hats, empty pails and tin cans, ashes and trash of whatsoever degree are grist for today's cleanup.

Yesterday the proclamation of the mayor was made and all the children of the city were especially asked to aid in the work of making the city beautiful. Sanitary Inspector Ed Buran will patrol the highways of the city on a white horse and his three assistants have been assigned to special duties in order to aid in the cleanup.

BROTHER OF SWEDEBURG MAN SAVES LIFE IN DISASTER

SWEDEBURG, Neb., April 27.—(Special.)—By clinging doggedly to a floating door until he could be rescued by a passing lifeboat, M. Manstadet, a brother of Eric Manstadet, who resides near this place, escaped from the wreck of the Titanic. Mr. Manstadet, en route from Sweden, arrived in Swedeburg Thursday. About ten minutes before the explosion of the ship's boilers Manstadet jumped from the vessel into the ocean just as parts of the wreckage neared him. He is a large, robust man, but his experience was like the rest, terrible. His feet were partly frozen, but otherwise he escaped injury.

GENERAL COWIN THINKS THAT TAFT WILL WIN

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, April 27.—(Special Telegram.)—General J. C. Cowin of Omaha, who arrived in Washington today, said that President Taft would be re-nominated and re-elected. He had never any doubt of the outcome after Roosevelt had sailed his hat into the ring as candidate for a third term, and then after the Columbus, O., speech he knew it was all over with "T. R." and he says that is the feeling of business men in the lobbies of hotels tonight since Taft's speech of yesterday in Massachusetts.

STOLEN GOODS UNCOVERED

Police Make Raid on Clue Furnished by Bluffs Officers.

EFFORT TO SELL PROPERTY

Two Men and Two Women Taken as Suspicious Characters in Roundup of McKenna Grocery on North Eleventh Street.

Two women and two men were arrested yesterday afternoon by Omaha police headed by Chief of Detectives Devereaux in a raid on the I. J. McKenna grocery store at 142 North Eleventh street, and in the roundup, the police believe they have in custody the gang that has been looting box cars both in Omaha and in Council Bluffs railroad yards for several months.

Jacob Schmidt, a butcher, at 186 North Sixteenth street, identified McKenna and Dennis as two of the three men who held up him and his two assistants, Roy Guther and Julius Peterson, the night of March 8, and after taking $30 from them, locked them in an ice box for thirty minutes. The third man is believed to be L. B. Dredge, under arrest in Council Bluffs. The men made no statement regarding the hold up of Schmidt's store.

The raid was made just before 6 o'clock and all of the prisoners were booked under the elastic charge of "suspicious character," with the exception of McKenna, who is charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. The others arrested gave the names of May Jackson, Emma Tucker, William Dennis, alias Roy White, and Wesley Irwin. A large amount of loot was recovered, which consisted mainly of underwear, shoes and dry goods.

The first clue was obtained in Council Bluffs when L. B. Dredge, a Council Bluffs chauffeur, attempted to sell a gunny sack full of shoes that were identified as part of the box car loot. Further investigation led the Bluffs officers to the home of Mrs. Roy White, alias Mrs. William Dennis. At Mrs. White's home a quantity of the stolen property was also unearthed.

Follow Clue on This Side. Both the woman and the chauffeur were locked up in the Council Bluffs jail, and Detective Callahan and Chief Fromm of Council Bluffs came across the river to assist the local police in the hunt for Dennis and McKenna, who were implicated by the information found in the Bluffs.

McKenna's place was raided and much stolen stuff found, and his arrest followed. The Jackson and Tucker women were taken also upon the suspicion that they might know something of the robbery. The Council Bluffs officers say that they have evidence that will also convict McKenna, Dennis and Dredge for the holdup of the Clark drug store in the Bluffs at Broadway and Thirty-fourth street. The Omaha police say that the same gang has also been suspected of street holdups. All of the property recovered, both here and in the Bluffs, was taken from a Northwestern box car in the Bluffs.

Jurist Endorses Recall of Judges

CHICAGO, April 27.—Unqualified endorsement of the recall of judges was given by Judge H. M. Wamamaker of the court of common pleas of Summit county, Ohio, in an address before the Illinois State Bar association tonight. He based his position upon that section of the federal constitution which gives legislatures the right to impeach. The legislatures, he continued, had failed to perform this function, so the right now reverted to the people.

Judge Wamamaker said that much was wrong with the courts. What he classified as the seven most serious grievances against the courts today follow:

- Too much idolatry of ancient precedent; the more ancient the more sacred. If the ancient condition had long since passed, the precedent should go with it.
- Too many trials and appeals; to the disadvantage of the poor and the advantage of the rich.
- Usurpation by the courts of legislative right and power.
- Too much regard for rule; too little regard for reason.
- Too much jugglery of the technical pleading; too little justice for the client.
- "Who is responsible for this?" queried the speaker.
- "The judge, the court, chiefly the courts of last resort, whose decisions and judgments must be followed by the inferior courts, else the judgments below forthwith will be reversed and another trial had."

CITIZENS UNION SEVEN vs. The Gang's Big Four. ONE MORE VICTORY AND GOOD GOVERNMENT FOR OMAHA IS ASSURED. DO IT FOR OMAHA. ELECTION MAY 7.

Your Vote May Decide the Election. Omaha faces a crisis. A serious situation must be met by serious men. The most important election ever held in Omaha will occur Tuesday, May 7th. The Commission Plan will give to the incoming administration enormously increased power. That power in the hands of the Dennison-Dahlman machine would be a calamity and a disgrace to Omaha. That power in the hands of such men as the Citizen's Union Seven would be used to protect the people's welfare, heretofore seriously neglected. Regardless of personal preferences or friendship, let us meet the situation and vote to make Omaha the city that she should be. Our taxes are squandered; our streets are dark and filthy; our property and lives unprotected; our civic pride humiliated. A change is due to take place if the people will do their part on election day. A VOTE FOR THESE MEN WILL BE A VOTE FOR A BETTER, BIGGER, CLEANER OMAHA: M. F. Funkhouser, John A. Swanson, Geo. H. Thummel, John L. Neble, Alfred C. Kennedy, Frank A. Furay, Wm. A. Redick. The Citizen's Union is fighting for good government, but the voting must be done by the people. Vote This Ticket Straight. Do It For Omaha.
