Robbed in South Omaha Car—Two pickpockets "dipped" $12 in money from the person of William Kalfreal, 1717 Castellar street, while he was enroute home from a show. He was on a South Omaha car when the theft occurred.
Iowa Woman Runs Away—A quarrel with her husband caused Mrs. Ruby Pike, aged 20, to leave both husband and a 3-year-old baby in Creston, Ia., and come to Omaha. She was found with friends by G. C. Chestnut, a brother-in-law, and influenced to return home.

Dinning Succeeds Penfold—R. J. Dinning has been chosen to the directorate of the Omaha Loan and Building association to succeed H. J. Penfold, who will go to California. Others elected on the board are E. A. Parmelee and M. M. Robertson.
Imitating a Tom Cat—While walking his beat early in the morning Officer Schwanger saw the form of a man upon the roof at 1216 Burt street. He arrested the nocturnal visitor, who gave the name of Frank Stewart. Stewart was fined $9 and costs in police court. He could not explain his presence upon the roof.
Lives in Graveyard—Noticing a man skulking about his house at night L. Edwards, 295 Sprague street, telephoned the police. Before Officer Russell arrived Edwards procured a revolver and prevented the man from running away. The prisoner gave the name of Cecil Robb and his residence at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Central Candidates Speak Friday—The mass meeting at Washington hall, Eighteenth and Harney, Friday evening will be the most important one of the campaign as far as the Citizens' union candidates are concerned. It is presumed that Mayor Dahliman's tirade against the Citizens' union delivered in the same hall Wednesday night will be answered and a lively meeting is expected. Aside from the Citizens' union candidates, who will be called upon to speak, there will be addresses by Sophus F. Nebel and Charles A. Alden.

Saturday night: Sixth and Pierce streets, 7:30; Tenth and Marcy streets, 8:00; Thirteenth and Vinton streets, 8:20; Eighteenth and Vinton streets, 8:40; Twenty-fourth and Vinton streets, 9:00.

WOULD STEAL THE ELECTION

This is the Charge Made by Dahliman Against Citizens' Union.

GREAT DISORDER LOOKED FOR

Dahliman Says He Held the List of Judges and Clerks Until the Last Minute for Names from the Other Side.

Mayor Dahliman, in a signed statement, charges the Citizens' union with attempting to steal the election from the plain people by delaying the voting on the morning of May 7 until workmen have gone to their day's work. This is what will result, he says, if an attempt is made to elect judges and clerks at the polls on election day, as the Citizens' union desires and for which purpose they prevailed upon the council to reject Mayor Dahliman's appointments.
Further Mayor Dahliman declares there will be no "riot" on election day if this plan is carried out and all the disorder will be induced by the Citizens' union in an attempt to discredit the seven opposition candidates.
"The attempt of the Citizens' union candidates and executive committee," the statement begins, "to have rejected by the city council the list of judges and clerks submitted by me, absolutely in compliance with the law in every particular, is nothing more or less than an attempt upon the part of the Citizens' union managers to steal this election from the plain people of the city of Omaha.

Treachery Planned.
"I was informed several weeks ago by an active member of the Citizens' union, who is a good friend of mine, that the organization intended to present to me a list of judges and clerks that it wanted to have appointed for the primary with the hope that I would reject the list and give them campaign capital. For that reason I held back sending my list to the city council until 7 p. m. of the very last day, waiting for them to come in and then, intending to surprise the Citizens' union managers by appointing part of their number.

"But instead of carrying out their original plans they evidently feared that I would do something of the kind, so waited this time until my list had been sent to the city council and was out of my hands, knowing full well that I, as any man of principle would do, would refuse to change my appointments when made. And I serve notice now that I will make no change unless they show better reason than they have in the past.

Brand Officials Crooks.
"Did they come to me saying that this man was not a voter of the precinct, or that any other man was incompetent, or, in fact, make specific charges against any man? No, sir. The Citizens' union managers, and by that I mean the sacred little bunch which runs the union, and not the hundreds of honest citizens who have been misled into affiliating with the organization, has deliberately branded 320 judges and clerks of election of the city of Omaha as crooks and not to be trusted, without giving a word of proof against one of them. If the Citizens' union is trying to get friendly with judges and clerks by any such tactics they are liable to fail. That is not the way I make friends.

"As I have said before this rejection of regularly and legally constituted election boards is nothing more than a deliberate attempt to steal the election from the people; to give our city a bad name by inducing disorder and riot at the polls Tuesday morning next in the organization of election boards on the spot, and to so delay matters that our friends, the men who earn their living by the sweat of their brow, will have been forced to go to their work before voting, while the silk-stockings who can go out in their automobiles to vote any time in the day will do the big voting on election day."

The Citizens' Union says Mayor Dahliman is wholly responsible for the serious complication brought about. In a statement the publicity committee makes the following assertions:

"Mayor Dahliman is wholly responsible for the fact that no election officials have been appointed for the city election next Tuesday. Solely because the mayor and his allies undertook to secure the appointment of a list of men, some of whom are not trustworthy, and because he refused to include in his list any names suggested by the Citizens' Union candidates, who have a right to representation, Mayor Dahliman has brought about a serious complication.

"The Citizens' Union has forced the hand of the mayor and he stands before the people today in the position of undertaking to dominate the entire election insofar as he can use, to his own advantage, untrustworthy election officials. Where is the mayor's self-heralded 'square deal' and 'fair play' policy? He is neither square with the people, nor fair to his opponents, and yet he is the mayor of this city running for a third election."

In his statement Mayor Dahliman says he held the list of judges and clerks until 7 p. m. of the last day, expecting a committee of Citizens' Union men to come, when he wanted to surprise them by showing them the names of several of their number in the list. He says it is evident they changed their tactics for one of the Citizens' Union "active members" had told him they would present him with a list for which he was waiting.

"It Saved My Life"

"In the winter I became greatly run down and troubled," writes Miss Nancy Scott, of Brown Creek, Mich. "I lost my appetite, I could not sleep, and I was in bad shape. The doctor said I had inflammation of the liver and kidneys, and I was to have an operation, but I would not listen. I had purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I started to take the remedy I could not walk across the floor. After I had taken three bottles I could feel myself getting on my feet. The doctor said I was cured. Only for it I think I would have been dead. I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than I do in twenty years."

To Formulate Plans for Boosting the City of Omaha

Committees representing the Ad club, the Real Estate exchange, the Manufacturers' association and the Commercial club will meet with E. V. Parrish of the Commercial club publicity bureau Saturday to formulate plans for the "Know Omaha Better" campaign.

Many ideas for a general advertising campaign are coming into the publicity bureau and a week of real live events is expected.
