

Great Sale of Women's Linen and Wash Dresses

BRANDEIS STORES

This was a special purchase of 1100 very pretty wash dresses, which we secured at about one-half the price we would ordinarily pay. A New York manufacturer took a big loss when he sold us these dresses. They come in all sizes for women and misses—every correct new style for 1912 is represented.

The dresses in this purchase, made of linens, plain and striped voiles, striped and fancy tissues, fine lingerie cloth, embroidered nets and voiles. All the dainty summer colors that will be popular this season are here. Many of the dresses are prettily made with lace and embroidery combinations, and we have never shown a more attractive lot at special sale.

FLOWER DAY IS PROCLAIMED
Today is Designated Under Official Seal of the City.

FUND IS FOR A WORTHY CAUSE
Ladies of Omaha Musik Verein Will Sell Flowers on Streets to Raise Money to Be Applied Toward Big Music Hall.

Mayer Dahman has proclaimed Saturday "Flower Day" and he asks all citizens to assist a worthy cause advocated by the women of the Omaha Musik Verein. His proclamation follows:

The music has prevailed during many years in various European and American cities to designate a certain day in spring, usually the first of May, as official "Flower Day" of the city. The beautiful custom has been the means of making the people more susceptible to the beauties of nature, and to be thoroughly appreciative of the arts. The celebration of Flower Day has oftentimes been consummated with a charitable intent; also frequently with the purpose of aiding social enterprises of recognized merit.

The ladies of the Omaha Musik Verein have decided to inaugurate a Flower Day in May, the proceeds of which will be used toward erecting an auditorium on the grounds recently purchased by the Omaha Musik Verein, dedicated exclusively for musical and educational purposes, and the arts in general.

I therefore proclaim Saturday, May 4, 1912, as Flower Day, and request all citizens of Omaha to assist in the worthy cause advocated by the ladies of the Omaha Musik Verein.

JAMES C. DAHLMAN, Mayor.

A Ton of Gold
could buy nothing better for Omaha residents, than such and will benefit them. Therefore, please, only sell flowers on this day. The beautiful

Flynn is Swamped With Calls to Haul Off Rubbish Piles

Street Commissioner Flynn has announced that after this week he will take no more orders to remove rubbish, because he now has orders to remove more than fifty teams and 300 men can handle within the next two weeks.

Within the last two days 2,000 people have telephoned the office of the street commissioner saying they had cleaned up their premises in accordance with the proclamation issued by the mayor, and would like to have all rubbish at once removed.

Mr. Flynn has listed all the houses he could get and they are working early and late, but faster than they work the telephone calls come in, telling of the co-operation of the citizens in the "city beautiful" move.

It is with difficulty that the street commissioner has found places to dispose of all the rubbish. Every "hole in the ground or designated dumpground" has been utilized, but in many instances the rubbish must be hauled many blocks, which delays the work of clearing it away.

MAN WHO BLOWS OUT GAS IS IN CRITICAL CONDITION

G. E. Bailey, the Iowa farmer who was found in a dying condition at the Palm hotel Thursday afternoon, is reported in a critical condition. Bailey is thought to have blown out the gas in his room. He is at St. Joseph's hospital.

Permit to appear, 5 cents. All others.

Harvard Professor Speaks of Pedagogy to University Club

"Interchangeable Pedagogy" was the topic taken by Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart of Harvard university in a speech before the University club Friday noon.

Dr. Hart talked on the new system inaugurated by Harvard, whereby its professors are sent out to the western colleges to instruct classes for brief periods at a time. He is one these instructors, whom he designates as peripatetic professors. He explained that he is on his way to Colorado university, where he will instruct history classes for a month or more, when he will move to another college.

Dr. Hart began his remarks by saying that New England was now watching the western states and taking its cues from them.

"We had our eyes on you at the recent primaries and your stand was justified lately by Massachusetts," he interjected.

Dr. Hart is a staunch Roosevelt advocate. He was one of eight delegates instructed for the former president at the Massachusetts primaries.

Prof. Hart spoke to the seniors of the Omaha High school in the main study hall at the school Friday morning. His topic was "Conditions for a High School Education."

NEIGHBORS TO HOLD MASS MEETING FOR J. J. RYDER

All residents of the Fifth and Twelfth wards in the north part of the city are invited to attend a John J. Ryder meeting at Magnolia hall, Twenty-fourth street and Ames avenue Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs Colfax Smiles as Life Ebbs Away

After remaining unconscious for many hours, Mrs. Elizabeth Colfax, aged 86 years, mother of Mrs. W. L. Selby, 408 Davenport street, became conscious yesterday and recognized those about her bedside. She was unable to speak, but was content to smile to them. The physicians hold out no hopes for her recovery, and say her death is only a question of hours.

Mrs. Colfax suffered a stroke of apoplexy Tuesday morning. Mrs. Colfax has resided in Omaha for many years. Her husband who died several years ago, was a cousin of Schuyler Colfax, vice president under President U. S. Grant.
