THE UNITED STATES NAVY aims to make a successful man of every boy who enlists and to return him to civil life a useful citizen.

The development of the untrained boy into an efficient man-o'-waraman begins at the time he enlists. The instruction given apprentice seamen at the big training stations is continued after the men go on board navy vessels, and to young men who have the necessary qualifications special instruction is given in the trade schools for electricians, machinists, musicians, seamen, gunners, yeomen, etc.

The great variety of duties in the navy makes it possible for young men to do the work for which they are best fitted. The pay is graded according to the skill and ability required; and, whether a young man remains in the service after serving one enlistment, or decides to return to civil life, four years' experience in the navy with an honorable discharge is the MOST VALUABLE ASSET HE CAN POSSESS.

Call at the Navy Recruiting Station, Postoffice Building, Omaha, Neb., and inquire fully about pay, hours, promotion, etc.

Or write for "The Making of a Man-o'-Warsman," an illustrated booklet explaining fully all the advantages offered in the navy, free. Talk this over with your parents and send for this book. Address Bureau of Navigation, Box 208, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.
