WORKMEN RACE AT TASKS

Strife is On in Demolishing Two Large Burned Buildings.

EMPLOYERS DENY KNOWLEDGE

But the Laborers Are Engaged in a Merry Battle to See Which of the Gangs Can Accomplish the Most.

Workmen under two contractors have entered into a tacit agreement and a race in raising buildings is on at Sixteenth and Farnam streets. Pedestrians now are interested in the two bodies of men coming into the "home stretch." The work of tearing off the two top stories of the United States bank building started into the fourth week Monday, while workers on the walls of the old Ames building have been busy a little longer. Neither Phil Kunz, the contractor in charge of raising the bank's burned property, nor Walter Peterson, in charge of work on the Ames building, know that there has been a race in progress, but both admit that their workmen have moved faster than they ever have on other buildings. While keeping their employers out of the secret, the laborers on the two buildings are watching each other closely and a foot of brick work torn away from one building adds zest to the work of the men on the other. And with all the fast work there has not been an accident on either job.

When the second story is taken from the bank's property, in accordance with the building inspector's orders, the men will quit work unless by that time the directors of the bank have decided to tear the structure entirely down for the immediate erection of a new one. Some of the directors are out of the city now and it is expected plans for the new bank building will be started as soon as the directors can get together.

W. B. HOWARD HAS CLOSE CALL IN WIND STORM

W. B. Howard, republican nominee for state auditor, who lives in Omaha and owns a large ranch near North Platte, had a close call at his ranch Friday night when the heavy wind did considerable damage. On the ranch are some fine buildings, including one of the finest barns in the state. This was not injured but the wind tore off the corrugated iron roof from one of the houses, blew it quite a distance and killed a mole belonging to Mr. Howard. A section of a hog barn was also demolished, but none of the hogs was injured. Mr. Howard was at the ranch at the time but was in one of the houses which was not injured.

Bloom of Youth Now Easily Attained

(From Popular Science.) You no longer need to "doctor" that sallow, freckled, blackheaded, rough, blotchy, pimply or over-red skin. You can remove it, instead—easily, painlessly, inexpensively. By a new scientific process, which anyone can use without assistance, the dead and near-dead surface skin, with all its imperfections, is gently, gradually absorbed—and a radiant youthful and beautiful complexion comes forth! Go to your druggist, get an ounce of pure merciolized wax; at night apply enough of this to completely cover the face; don't rub it in. Next morning remove the wax with warm water. The result after a few days is astonishing. You wonder why this secret wasn't discovered long ago. Let the wrinkled, puffy, checked, double-chinned folks also take hope. Put an ounce of powdered saxolite into a half pint witch hazel, bathe the face in the solution and—say!—there's nothing that will so effectually, so promptly, smooth out the hateful lines and draw in the sags and bags. You'll find this lotion, as well as merciolized wax, works equally well on neck and hands. —Adv.

Helps on Care of the Hair and Skin

The subtle charm and elegance so noticeable in brilliant, fluffy hair is possible for every woman to have and enjoy if she will but shampoo occasionally with a canthrox mixture, made by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a cup of hot water. This creates a wealth of rich, white lather that cleanses thoroughly and completely. The stimulating effect of this shampoo on the scalp will encourage a bountiful growth of beautiful hair.

Women who safeguard their beauty do not use powder or greasy creams, because of their injurious effect upon the skin. Instead, spumax lotion is used. This is made by dissolving 4 ounces of spumax in 1/2 pint witch hazel (or hot water) and adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine. The spumax lotion protects the skin and gives to the faintest complexion a rare charm and elegance. To rough, oily, faded skins it lends a velvety smoothness and exquisite tint.—Adv.

PRaise GIVEN SAMUEL KATZ

Rabbi Franklin of Detroit Shows Value of Life Now Ended.

SERVICES AT TEMPLE ISRAEL

Invocation by Rabbi Frederick Cohn Expresses Devotion Due Dead Man—Laid to Rest

An assemblage which filled Temple Israel last night heard tribute paid to the church's former president, Rabbi Samuel Katz, by Rabbi Leo M. Franklin of Detroit, Mich., a life-long friend. The evening was given over to memorial services in which the life and work of Samuel Katz were eulogized in speech and song.

The invocation by Rabbi Frederick Cohn expressed the devotion in which he held the memory of Mr. Katz and the regard in which he was held by the people of the community.

An introductory address by Isidor Ziegler, who introduced Rabbi Franklin, spoke of the courage and devotion which Mr. Katz gave to his work and his never ceasing efforts to build splendid men and women.

Miss Laura Goetz sang two solos, favorites of Mr. Katz, entitled, "My God and Father, While I Stray," and "The Everlasting Hills."

A large portrait of Samuel Katz stood on the rostrum draped with crepe and an American flag.

Grateful for Valuable Life.

Rabbi Leo M. Franklin spoke in part as follows:

"We are deeply grateful that such a man as Samuel Katz was sent to touch your life and mine. In reverential spirit therefore we are come this night not to pay to our beloved friend the idle tribute of words, but rather from his manner, helpful, heroic and triumphant life, to take inspiration for our lives and from him to catch the spark that shall set our souls aglow, as was his, with the fire of love, of faith, of idealism and of duty."

"In a word, it was, above all, the deep human sympathies of Samuel Katz that made him the man beloved in life as he is now revered and honored in memory. In every relation of life this human sympathy made itself manifest, in his home, among his friends, in his business relations, in his social affiliations, everywhere men turned to him instinctively as to a wise counsellor, a true adviser, a trusted friend. He seemed to have the ability, only too rare with most of us, to put himself into the attitude of the other person, and so to judge every case and every man as he himself might have wished to be judged. Mere intellectual judgment with him, clear though it was, was always offset by the warm humanity that permeated his being. It was for this that men loved him and trusted him with a love that was never unworthy, and with a trust that was never betrayed."

Speaking on the course that Mr. Katz pursued in shaping his life, the speaker dwelt on the dominating influence of his faith in Judaism, which, he said, proved broad and widening to the life of Katz and imbued others who were influenced by him and his work. Samuel Katz held to one standard of morality, Rabbi Franklin asserted. The man to whom he paid tribute, he said, was not one who had a dual code, but was one who held to one standard in both his public and private life. He characterized Samuel Katz as a "very hero of righteousness."

Outlaw Allen III From Pain of Injury

WYETHVILLE, Va., May 5.—The Allen jury went to church today and on returning to its room in the court house held a song service. The hearty voices of the twelve stalwart countrymen blended in the harmony of an old hymn, "Are You Ready For The Judgment Day?"

Across the court house green, Floyd Allen, the prisoner on trial—first of the gang which shot up the Carroll county court on March—heard the song. Tomorrow his trial will continue, with the prospect that it may not be ended before two weeks. Eighteen witnesses have been examined and the prosecution still has forty-seven to swear. The defense has as many or more.

Allen's mental strain and the physical agony he has endured from his broken leg, which was improperly set, have made him a sorry sight. He is now little like the rugged mountaineer, who once spread fear over a countryside.

Girl's Dance Program Causes Street Fight

Because Jim Donast took exception to the arrangement of a girl's program last night at the ball and dance given by the Star Dancing club at the Hipp hall, Fifteenth and Harney streets, V. D. Quickenbush and several other youths gave him a severe drubbing. The fight started in the dance hall over the Hipp theater and ended in the street. A large crowd gathered to witness the mixup. Officer Risk happened along as the combatants were rolling on the ground and took them to jail, where Quickenbush was later released on a $10 bond.

Slashed with a razor, wounded with a gun, or pierced by a rusty nail, Bucklen's Arnica Salve soon heals the injured part. Guaranteed. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

FEDERAL JURY HOLDS TWO

Special Body Ordered by Judge Morris Finds Two True Bills.

FORTUNE TELLER IS HELD

Man Charged with Robbing the Postoffice at Sioux, Neb., is Also to Face Trial in the Federal Court.

The special grand jury ordered by United States District Judge Morris reported two indictments at noon yesterday. They were at once excused by the court. In the case of Charlotte H. Moore, alias Mrs. C. H. Moore, alias Mizpan, Madame Charlotte, Madame Karma and known by several other names, the grand jury found that the woman fraudulently devised a scheme to defraud several persons through the United States mails and fraudulently pretending to be a clairvoyant, palmist, astrologer and a trance medium.

Mrs. Moore was arrested a week ago last Saturday at her home at 1302 Dodge street, at which place the postoffice inspectors rifled a voluminous pile of letters, circulars, etc., which will be used against her at her trial.

In the case of George Parker, alias Tony Lewis, alias Tony Alexander, and like Mrs. Moore, possessor of many other cognomens, the grand jury returned two counts, charging him with feloniously breaking into the postoffice at Sioux, Neb., and robbing the postoffice of $427 in stamps and $5 in money.

Both Mrs. Moore and Parker are in the Douglas county jail. Their hearings will come up sometime in the present term of court.

Briggs and Hyers to Ask for Change of Venue Tuesday

Motion for change of venue in the case of Chief of Police John Briggs of South Omaha and Sheriff A. A. Hyers of Lincoln, Lancaster county, charged with manslaughter for the killing of Hoy Blunt in the Sarpy county convict case, will be filed in the Sarpy county district court at Papillion by counsel for the defendants Tuesday afternoon. At the same time affidavits in support of the motion will be filed. Judge Travis will hear arguments on the motion on May 14. In compliance with the order of County Judge Wheat, holding the defendants for trial in district court, County Attorney W. N. Jameson has filed manslaughter complaint in district court.

Briggs and Hyers will be arraigned Tuesday and will plead not guilty. The change of venue motion then will be made. Attorneys for the defendants have nearly a score of affidavits of Sarpy county men that they do not believe Briggs and Hyers could secure a fair trial in the county, popular prejudice being against them.

POSING AS INSPECTOR, THIEF PLAYS OLD GAME

The police are looking for a well dressed man, who has been riding around the city in a large touring car posing as a pure food inspector. He entered the Brandeis store Saturday and ordered a suit of clothes sent to 208 Davenport street. When the boy arrived at the house the man met him at the door and told him to wait until he went in and procured the money. The boy stood around for a half hour, and when the man failed to appear with the money, inquired of the occupants of the house and found that no man answering to the description given by the boy lived there, or that anyone living there had ordered any clothes.
