To the Thrifty Buyer

A few hundred dollars down will handle the following attractive proposition: Two dwellings, one consisting of 5 rooms, modern except heat, renting for $17$; the other a 2-room house, strictly modern in every way. Owher occupies six rooms and has an income of $21$ from the other thres; another -room could be rented, bringing the total income up to around $60 per month and still leave the purchaser ample room to five in. Outside of the payment required down, the property would pay itself out, besides giving the buyer his rent free. Owner yould take desirable Sloux City property in exchange, as he expects to remove to that city. This proposition will bear close investigation. ity. This proposition cestigation.

The drowned were:
ANNA PEARSON, EDITH PEARSON
AND GUST PEARSON, sisters and HANNAH DUNNING.

The little Pearson boy, who was 5 years of age, was wading when he got beyond his depth. The three little girls, who were playing on the bank, rushed to his assistance, and in attempting to save him, all were drowned. Men from the vicinity of the quadruple drowning sent to Sloux Falls for grappling hooks and are making an effort to recover the bodies. Owing to the high water in the river and the unusually swift current it is feared the bodies will not be imme-

ARCHBALD'S DEAL IS TOLD

Charges Against Judge of Commerce Court Revealed by Testimony.

COAL DEALER ON THE STAND

Williams Tells of Getting Culm Property Option from Erie -Railroad Party to Cases Before the Jurist.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2.-Charges mmerce court were unfolded today before the house committee on judiciary, which is to determine if impeachment proceedings shall be brought against the

How Judge Archbaid, in partnership with Edward J. Williams, a Scranton coal dealer, while deliberating as a judge on the "lighterage cases," to have negotiated an option from that rail-road for 42,000 tons of culm preperty to be sold at a SILOD profit, was told to the committee by Williams himself.

Judge Archbald, accompanied by his two sons and his counsel, A. S. Worthington, heard the testimony and occasionally llooked at photographic copies of letters bearing on the case, one of them letters bearing on the case, one of them being a letter in which the judge told of his connection with the culm bank negotiations in his own words.

In addition to that transaction Williams told of another deal in which he said Judge Archbald acquired an interest with him in an option on 1,000,000 acres of Venesuelan timber land for which the judge gave a note for $500. Williams tried to discount this note with C. J. and W. P. Boland of the American Coal and W. P. Boland of the American Coal company of Scranton, who at that time baild in the federal court. The Bolands recused to discount the note and later lost their case. Williams admitted telling W. P. Boland that if he had discounted Judge Archibald's note the case might have resulted differently, but he depled that Judge Archibald knew anything of his making such a remark to Boland.

his making such a remark to Boland.

Judge "Silent Party."

The testimony relating to the culm bank transaction included reference to an assignment by Williams of an interest in the options secured to W. P. Boland and a "silent party," whom he admitted and a "ellent party," whom he admitted under examination was Judge Archbaid. When asked why Judge Archbaid had been referred to as a "zilent party" Williams said he thought it was not lawful for a jurist's name to be used in such transactions?

Williams related how the option for the culm bank property was nagotiated for in offices of the Erie railroad and told how a sale for the property was negotiated and he and Judge Archbaid were of divide the profits. Judge Archbaid to divide the profits. Judgo Archbaid, during the negotiations with the Eric told him that the lighterage case was then before his court. Williams said.

"Judge Archbaid showed me the briefs in the case," said Williams, "and told me it was about the lighterage case in which the Eric was interested. I did not know what lighterage meant and he told me. Then he gave me a letter to Mr. May of the Eric and also told me that Mr. May of the Erie and also told me that he would see the general counsel for the Erie, Mr. Brownell, about the option."
How the option was given soon thereafter and a deal was later frustrated to sell the property at a 112,000 profit to the Lackawanns & Wyoming Railroad company was described by the witness in detail. Another transaction which the committee did not get to, but will inquire about when the hearing is resurned Friday, involved an alleged transaction for other cuim bank property, in which Judge Archhald, a man named Dainty and the Lehigh Valley railroad were said to be interested. This deal, it is said, was interrupted by charges filled with the Department of Justice against Judge Archbald in connection with the other cases.

Letter from Archbald.

The following was introduced as a letter Judge Archbald wrote to Vice Precident Conn of the Laurel line of the Lackawanna & Wyoming on stationery of the United States commerce court!

"SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 3, 1911.—My Dear Mr. Conn: This will introduce Mr. Retward Williams, who is interested with company and from Mr. Robertson, representing Robertson & Law, these options covering the whole interest in the dump. This dump was produced in the operation of the Katydid colliery by Robertson tion of the Katrolid colliery by Robertson & Law, and extends to the whole of the dump so produced. I have not seen it myself, but as I understand it, this dump consists of two dumps, a little separate from each other, but all making up one general culm or refuse pile made at that colliery. Mr. Williams will explain further with regard to it, if there is anything which you want to know. Yours

NEW ORLEANS, May 1 .- Generally NEW GRLEANS, May 2.—Generally the flood situation in the lower Massispip valley was much improved today. Another day of sunshine gave the workers on the levees some advantage, and reports are favorable as far as more breaks are concerned. Pitiful tales of refugees continue to come in from several sections.

There are now 4,000 refugees at Baton Rouge. About 100 were taken there today from Newroads, to which place they had been sent from the surrounding territory.

Citizens of Lutcher today communicated threats to the governor's office that tracks of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad would be torn up if the gap in the Pontchartrain protection leves gap in the Pontchartrain protection levee is not closed.

In this city the situation tonight concerns largely the scenes of activity around the relief headquarters, where carload after carload of supplies are being boxed up and shipped out to the refugee camps in central and northern Louisiana.

Leves conditions are improved, but the work of strengthening the line of revetments and topping low places continues, although there are no less than 38 men all told working on the city's defense line.
