WARD ON CIVIC CENTERS

Talks Before Commercial Club—New Councilmen Hear Him.

COUNCIL CHAMBER TO PUBLIC

J. J. Ryder Announces His Associates Will Give Up of Big Room to Citizens for Discussion of Social Problems.

Prof. Edward J. Ward of the University of Wisconsin talked before the Commercial club along lines of civic improvement Friday. He talked on "Civic and Social Development" and related stories of successful schemes he had carried out in eastern cities in promoting community brotherhood and at the same time improvement in government.

The commissioners-elect of the city attended the meeting. After Prof. Ward's plea for social and civic center development Commissioner Ryder announced to newspaper men that the commissioners already had decided on turning the council chamber over to the people for a civic and social center where everything but partisan questions might be discussed.

Prof. Ward declared that meetings of the electorate will do away with the least objection to the commission form of government. He said the social center idea would furnish the means by which the people could get together and talk over their needs and the scheme had proved successful wherever it had been tried.

Tries Scheme in Church.

He told of his work as pastor of a Presbyterian church in Silver Creek, N. T., where he had converted his parsonage into a social center and formed of the community a "man-to-man" brotherhood. In developing this idea, he said, many thought he was trying to get men into his church.

"I was not," he declared. "I was working out my ideas of a community brotherhood. I saw where the saloons used to be. When men gathered together and became man to man—became equal. I saw that the saloons were doing what the church was talking.

"The Y. M. C. A. is doing a good work, but it would do a better work without the Y. M. C. It should not be Y, for it should be M. It should be for women and men. It should not be C, for if it is, it does not need the label."

Prof. Ward spoke of social centers as "schools of training in responsibility." He told of instances in his work in establishing "wider use of public school property in Rochester, N. Y.," where young fellows were brought out from being leaders in "rough-neck gangs" to being leaders of humanity.

Prof. Ward believes in woman suffrage. He made the remark that our government should be a democracy instead of government by a sex. Several women were in the Commercial club rooms to hear him.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL SEES GREAT PROSPERITY AHEAD

First Vice President Pearson of the Missouri Pacific spent a short time looking over the local terminals and left for a tour over the company lines in Nebraska.

Mr. Pearson predicts that this is to be the best year that the farmers of the Missouri valley section have ever experienced. He has traveled much over the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain lines during the last month and everywhere finds agricultural conditions satisfactory. In almost every locality there has been an abundance of moisture and all kinds of growing grain are far advanced. The average is larger than usual and farmers are happy. In portions of Missouri the farmers are well along with their corn planting, while in Nebraska and Kansas the work has started and is progressing rapidly.

H. S. TENNIS SQUAD CHOSEN

Fast Play Marks the Semi-Finals in the Boys' Tournament.

TO PLAY CRIGHTON SATURDAY

Field Club Courts Scene of Good Matches — Susman, McShane, Davis and Larmon to Make Up the Team.

After three close and exciting matches in the semi-final round, the 1912 Omaha high school boys' tennis squad was chosen Thursday afternoon at the Field club courts. Slevers Susman, '12, Leo McShane, '12, Herbert Davis, '12 and Russell Larmon, '12 make up the team. Larmon won his place on the squad early in the week.

Slevers Susman and Junior Woolley put up the best exhibition of the racket sport during the afternoon. Woolley started strong and took the first set, 4-6, and it was only after an hour and a half of grueling play that Susman grabbed the match, score, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Leo McShane and Norman Potter furnished a clever match in which court play added to the success of the former. Potter proved strong in the second set and took it by a score of 6-0. He was weak in the final set, however, thereby losing all chances to make the team.

Backhand, "Lawford" together with snappy net play won for Herbert Davis over Joseph Creedon in the third and final match of the afternoon.

A large gallery of students attended the matches.

The winning team will compete against Creighton university tennis stars Saturday afternoon at the Creighton courts in the first interschool series of the season. In the doubles, events with the university lads, the high school team will be paired as follows: Slevers Susman and Russell Larmon; Herbert Davis and Leo McShane.
