Woman's Club Committee Seeks to Regulate Crowded Houses.

"CAP" BURSON REFUSES TO ACT

Declines to Inspect Tenements at Night to Ascertain How Many Persons Use One Room for Sleeping Purposes.

Sanitary Inspector Edward Burson told the special committee of the Woman's Club yesterday afternoon that he would not go through the houses of citizens at night in order to determine whether more persons sleep in the room than are allowed by the city ordinance.

The occasion was a committee meeting held at the city hall, where it was expected to work out some plans that might help the mayor in his work of improving the sanitation of the city.
