Lake Mohonk Platform Commends Efforts in Behalf of Peace.

FAILURE OF TREATIES DEPLORED

People Are Called Upon to Work for Early Conclusion of Agreements of Equal or Broader Scope.

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., May 17.—The platform reported today by the executive committee of the Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration for adoption was in part as follows:

"The eighteenth Lake Mohonk conference on international arbitration expresses its profound gratitude to the president of the United States for his illustrious service for the cause of international peace in the effort for the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France. We believe that the president in this memorable effort represented the great popular sentiment of the American people, and deploring the defeat for the movement of his high purpose, we call upon the people for unremitting endeavor to secure the early conclusion of treaties of equal or broader scope with the great nations of the world.

"It is pre-eminently the duty of the United States to maintain strong leadership in this commanding cause. We record with satisfaction the recent ratification by the senate of the United States of the declaration of London which makes it possible to establish the international prize court and on the eve of the creation of the committee to prepare the program for the international conference, we urge such broad and advanced American action as shall contribute to secure the most efficient basis of organization and procedure for this and future conferences; the adoption of a general treaty, the marked development of the international court, and united action for the limitation of armaments.

"We emphasize anew the need of earnest efforts everywhere for such a public opinion as shall compel the powers party to the Hague conventions to respect the same in letter and spirit and to resort to no hostilities until all possible means of peaceful settlement are exhausted."

Other planks express the gratification of the conference at the prominent place given arbitration on the program of the coming international congress of Chambers of Commerce and at the inspiring evidences of the broadening co-operation of the world's peace workers given by the presence of many foreign representatives at the present conference.

STUNTZ IS ELECTED BISHOP

of strenuous campaigns, as many other dioceses do. He was the only one of the trio that spoke to the conference after the vote was announced and he made a most happy speech. He declared himself most willing to bow to the will of the conference.

Bishop Neely recognized that his retirement was due not so much to his age as to his personality. He took his retirement very hard and left the company of his colleagues on the platform, weeping. Bishop Neely in his administration has represented a certain type of autonomy not just in keeping with the spirit of the times. A man of naturally kind heart, he has been unfairly given the impression of austerity. He represents some things in the office of bishop that are rapidly passing away. His recent book on the "Episcopacy of the Methodist Church" takes an almost reactionary view of the highest administrative office in the church. All of these things mitigated against him, and as he was rapidly nearing the age when he might reasonably be expected to fall in his natural powers, he was retired.

The matter of retiring these three men has brought the cruelty of the system before the general conference. It is not likely that again in the history of the church will the same method prevail. A proposition has already been presented to a committee of the conference fixing an age limit for bishops. The proposition is that at the age of 70 years every bishop may expect to be retired. If he is in good health and gives evidence of being able to represent the church properly and perform the arduous duties of a bishop he may be continued until 75 years of age, but at that age he must retire. This would make his retirement automatic and the man himself would be able to shape his affairs accordingly as the time approached. By the present plan every bishop as he approaches old age, is on the anxious seat and at the session of the general conference is kept in an agony of suspense until the committee on episcopacy has made its report. On every hand could be heard today the belief that these new methods will be adopted at this conference so that the present bishops may know what to expect at the next general conference.

On the whole, however, the bishops are treated with far more consideration than the average Methodist preacher. Each retiring bishop draws half pay of the rest of his life. It is a salary of $2,500. The average Methodist preacher whose salary is never over $1,000, taking the country at large, is retired at about 70 years of age and has no guarantee of any salary at all. True there is a fund for supernumerated preachers, but it does not admit in many cases of more than $100 a year to each man, and frequently less than that. So the bishops fare reasonably well after all.

American Men Must Have Time-Saving Devices Three Minute Gillette Shave Another Indication of National Activity

"Quick action is the order of the day all over this country. It's too fast an age for slow-moving methods. Minutes count."

This is the way a student of American character explains the remarkable popularity of the Gillette Safety Razor.

And millions of Gillette users agree with him. They are alert, energetic men who push ahead.

They have no time to wait for the call of "next," or for stopping, or honing or fussing with the ordinary razor.

They lather—then shave with the Gillette—simple, quick, clean, convenient.

What the Gillette Will Do for You

Whatever your shaving habits may be, no matter how tender your skin or tough and wiry your beard, the Gillette will give you a clean velvet shave.

It will give you a light shave or close shave (closer than a barber dare give you), with no roughness, no irritation.

It is not necessary that you know how to shave yourself. You do not need to be "tool-wise" or handy. There is no stopping, no honing.

You quickly get the knack of the Gillette and you will learn little individual shave-simplifying tricks every day you use it.

The wonder of the Gillette is its adaptability—the way it meets individual needs.

Every man's face is different. Your beard is individual in the way it grows and its shaving requirements.

The adjustment of the Gillette will suit your beard and your skin. The Gillette will save you time and money and it is safe.

Think of the comfort of it; the ability to shave in two or three minutes in the morning as regularly as you wash your face. The convenience and simplicity—no litter of strops and hones. No danger of bad cuts and scratches.

Don't Put It Off—Buy a Gillette To-day

Considering all the Gillette means in comfort and economy, it should be in the hands of every man in this city with a beard to shave.

Don't be without it another day.

Ask your dealer.

If you can't go now, go soon.

The very next time you see a Gillette in a store window go in and talk to the man about it.

Examine the razor—buy it—take it home.

Standard set, $5.00 everywhere.

Pocket editions, $5.00 to $6.00.

Travellers' and Tourists' sets, $6.00 to $50.00.
