MACCABEES PLAN ACTIVITIES

Bina West, Supreme Commander Will Visit Hive Tuesday.

STATE OFFICIALS COMING ALSO

Membership of Council Bluffs Will Join Local Ladies in Availing Themselves of Opportunity for Instruction.

The Ladies of the Maccabees of the World are planning for a rally in Omaha, to be held at Continental building, the occasion being a visit from the supreme commander, Miss Bina M. West, who has not been in the state for over five years.

Miss West is one of the best informed women on the subject of life insurance in the United States. She has served as record keeper of the society ever since its incorporation in 1882, and last July was elected as supreme commander. She has felt a vital interest in the integrity of the society and a desire to see it established on a secure foundation which will enable it to meet its obligations. She pioneered the work of the order in sixteen states in which it is now doing business and has represented it at public meetings and conventions in every state in the union, Canada and Great Britain. Miss West is energetic, capable, optimistic, with an intense faith in her sisters and a firm belief in the future of the order to which she has devoted the best part of her life. She has traveled extensively in foreign countries and is a woman of broad culture and intelligence and a keen insight into public affairs. She has never become actively affiliated with any other movement, believing that she owed to this order of her first allegiance her time, efforts, ability and loyal service.

The state commander, Mrs. Anna M. Welsh, will preside at these meetings. Mrs. Welsh is making her home in Omaha, having come to take charge of the work in the state February 1 and this will be the first large rally held under her supervision in Nebraska. Mrs. Welsh has had more than fifteen years experience in active work of this organization and was for twelve years the state commander for Minnesota, having since had charge of the work in Manitoba and North Dakota.

The hives of Omaha will exemplify the work, officers being chosen from each hive for this purpose and the guards of Laurel hive will exemplify the drill work. The membership of Council Bluffs with its guard team and officers will be present in a body and representatives from all the hives from the state of Nebraska will be in Omaha for this meeting. The state commander of Iowa, Mrs. Mabel T. La Rue, will also be present. The deputies of Nebraska will also be present and a special school of instruction will be held for them Wednesday at the Loyal hotel, when Miss West will instruct them fully in the duties of the field work.

LOSES MIND WORRYING OVER CROP PROSPECTS

Suffering from the hallucination that his wife was dead and believing that he had nothing to live for, Jake Schloss, aged 45 years, a merchant of Shawnee, Okl., left home last week in a mysterious manner. He showed up at the Plaza hotel in Omaha Wednesday and because of his peculiar actions was taken in charge by Detectives Van Deusen and Ring. Schloss had a revolver and was contemplating suicide when the officers found him. His prostrated wife was informed that her husband was in the care of the Omaha police, and she sent her brother, Sol Newman, here. Mr. Newman arrived here last night and took charge of his brother-in-law. He will take him to a sanitarium in St. Louis for treatment. Newman says that worry over the prospects of a good crop year in Oklahoma caused Schloss to lose his mind.

APPOINTMENTS ARE HELD UP

Commissioners Turn Down Three in Improvement Department.

MATHIESEN'S NAME APPROVED

Bonds of Officials Are Approved—John Grant Pegg's Bond Not Approved Because it is Too Large.

Appointments of three employes in the office of the engineer or under control of the commissioner of public improvements were held up by the council yesterday. Those who were not appointed were James Perkins, inspector of sidewalks, old employe in engineer's office; T. B. McGovern, new appointment; Daniel Collins, clerk at asphalt plant, old employe. The advisability of making the appointments will be considered at a meeting Tuesday. Commissioner McGovern recommended that the office of storekeeper at the asphalt plant be abolished. The council proceeded to abolish it. The present incumbent of that office is drawing $100 per month. Other changes at the plant has reduced the operation by $50 per month.

Assistant License Inspector. John Mathiesen was confirmed in the office of assistant to the license inspector. Mayor Dahlman announced his appointment yesterday, but overlooked his name among the appointees submitted and approved.

Officers who must give bond submitted their bonds this morning and they were approved, with the exception of John Grant Pegg, city sealer of weights and measures. Pegg submitted a bond for $5,000. By law he is required to give but $1,000. The commissioners rejected the bond at the increased amount, notifying the bonding company that $1,000 would be sufficient and the city didn't feel like paying for the extra $4,000.

Business Men to See How Beer and Lights Are Made

The eighth home trade excursion of the Commercial club has been set for June 5, when the Metz brewing and bottling works and the Omaha Electric Light and Power company will be visited. More than 300 members are expected to take the trip, meeting at the Commercial club rooms at 1 o'clock and going on the excursion in special street cars. Key to the Situation—See Advertising.
