With H. E. Fredrickson at the wheel of a Chalmers six carrying five passengers the road was put to a severe test. At times the car sped along the route home at a rate of forty miles an hour. but the road responded to the test in great shape. The return trip, a distance of 117 miles, was made in five hours and ten minutes, including stops along the way. This proves that the road is a good one and with a little care could be made into one of the best in the west. The actual running time on the trip back Was 4:40.

New Route from North.

The Boosters believe that with little work the tourists of Minnesota, especially those of St. Paul and Minneapolis. could be resuaded to use the route to Sloux City. Omaha and Kansas, and thus travel on the Nebraska side of the Missouri, which is shorter and a better route than the old way by way of Fort Dodge. Those who went to Sloux City are C. C. Rosewater, E. V. Parrish, Randall K. Brown, Harry Lawrie, H. E. Newbranch and Fred Carey.

The Omaha boosters were given hearty receptions all along the route to Sloux City and on its return. When the tourists arrived at Oakland Saturday they were forced to leave their machine while they were dined by the Commercial club of that place. At each town the good roads advocates secured agreements from citizens to take care of the route and to mark and chart it. This will all be completed within a few days. The following persons agreed to do this: Blair, F. H. Clarbridge; Ferman, F. L. Fassett;

Plank pitched consistent ball until the eighth when the locals started a batting rally which netted two runs and was stopped only on a decission which proved unpopular to spectators and players. Manager Callahan argued with Umpire Westervelt and was put out of the game. Because of a noisy demonstration policemen walked to the club house with Umpire Westervelt. Hold Investigation of Packing Industry TOTAL OF TWENTY-FIVE HITS

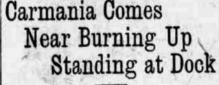

WASHINGTON, June 3 .- Congress is about ready to investigate another trust and in consequence some of the big men in the packing industry who were recently acquitted in criminal proceedings in Chicago probably will be summoned to Washington to tell why the price of beef and other meats has gone up. After a conference today between Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the poor judgment of the latter club on the house rules committee, and Reprebases. Score: sentative Clayton of Alabama, chairman of the judiciary committee, a joint statement was made public indicating that such an investigation would be made. The statement said also that the Department of Justice probably would be called upon to furnish information in its possession regarding the Beef trust and Carisch, c... 4 1 4 4 0Hughes, c... West, p..... 4 1 0 1 0Ncei, p.... its operations. A recommendation for an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law may be made in a report of the committee after the inquiry.

Representative Edwards of Georgia already has introduced in the house a resolution directing the attorney general to proceed with a sult to dissolve the Beef trust. It was said today, however, that such a resolution was not necessary. Under the Money trust resolution it was pointed out congress has power to look into practically any combination in the country. Additional legislation by congress that would specially name the Beef trust is not looked for at this time.

The Beef trust investigation probably will be made by the judiciary committee.
