Range Days Passing, Asserts Arnold Man

"The day of the range is put further back in history in the once famous cattle country of northern Nebraska," said Dr. R. E. Robinson of Arnold, Custer county, yesterday. "The building of the extension of the Kearney & Callaway line to a new terminal, Stapleton, in Logan county, has done more to cut the land up into small acre tracts than anything in the past."

"This road is but thirty-three miles long and comes to a point just across from Gandy. Stapleton is a new town. It is really no town at all, but Gandy will move over the river and build there. In a few years the terminal will be a real live town, boasting of several hundred people. The road has done wonders to the country for a radius of thirty miles and farm values have been boosted. "Land which was formerly for sale has been taken off of the market. The conditions there are the same as they are in any territory newly opened by a railway line. The stage route has been dispensed with and facilities for shipping are made better. Freight rates out of that section have been made cheaper so the worth of the land is to some extent increased."

On complaint of Oscar Nielsen, Gus Duckles, 1917 South Twenty-first street, is held by the police for beating his wife and a 2-year-old child. It is also said he beat a 10-month-old baby. Mrs. Duckles sought the Associated Charities for assistance and was placed in Parkville home. The children are with her. She will seek divorce. Nielsen said Duckles got generous Saturday night, gave his wife money and then took it away Tuesday morning. He usually beat her because of his generosity, it is alleged. "His kept up for the last four years and Nielsen heard about it and thought it was time to stop it."

The United Brethren church was crowded to its utmost capacity and all were greatly pleased and much edified with Dr. Jolly's most helpful and practical address. It is its conclusion, President William E. Schell presented the diplomas and conferred the degrees. The trustees had a very good session and the financial report shows a net debt of only a little over $11,000, in spite of the fact that a new building has just been erected.

All the members of the faculty were re-elected, with the exception of Miss Verna Blinn, who declined to be continued in service on account of a desire to accept a position as secretary of the Woman's Missionary association of the United Brethren denomination. L. L. Epley was elected to fill the vacancy.

York college enters upon its twenty-third year with the opening of the summer school on June 10.

WAYNE NORMAL SCHOOL.

Gratifying Enrollment at Opening of Summer Session.

The summer session of the school opened Tuesday with 300 students in attendance. New registrations are being added to the list daily and indicates a total enrollment of 400 for the term. A large per cent of the students are experienced teachers, and the registration blanks show that more than thirty counties of Nebraska are represented in the attendance. The regular faculty of the school will be assisted by Superintendent A. H. Dixon of Tekamah, Miss Emma Morrell of Lincoln and Principal Floyd D. Burchard of Albion. Miss Elizabeth Kingsbury of the department of German will spend the summer abroad and her work will be in charge of J. W. Karpenstein.

Dr. L. F. Roach of the State Board of Education was a visitor today. Mrs. J. A. Piper has returned to her home at Lincoln after spending two weeks with her daughter, Miss Elsie Ford Piper. Last Saturday evening a reception was tendered the students by the faculty. Following a brief program in the chapel a delightful social hour was spent in the gymnasium.

Dean H. H. Hahn, who has spent the year in Columbia university, returned to Wayne Tuesday, and has resumed his work in the normal. His family expect to remain in New York City until September.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Education Mrs. Alice E. Scace, class of 1912, was elected to a position as teacher in the Wayne public schools. Mrs. Scace was formerly employed in the Sioux City, Ia., schools.

On Friday morning at convocation the students listened to an address by Dr. Alexander Corkey. Dr. Corkey is widely known throughout the state as the author of "The Victories of Allan Rutledge" and "With Testing Fire" and he always receives an enthusiastic reception when he appears before the students of the normal.

FREMONT COLLEGE.

Fine Lineup of Students for the Summer Term.

The spring term of the college closed on Friday and the summer term commences on Tuesday of next week. The registration for next term has been going on for the last two weeks and the prospects are most gratifying for a fine term. Students who have been preparing themselves for teaching are now interested in placing themselves for work during the coming year.

Miss Vida Nation will give a recital for the benefit of the Union society on Friday night. She will be assisted by the college orchestra and a string quartet. This will probably be the only opportunity of hearing Miss Nation this summer and she will no doubt have a good house.

Miss Gladys Conrad, a former student at the college and a violinist of merit, will spend the summer term with us doing some special work and will then take a place in the Fremont schools. Mr. Sam Cohn, a student of the college, was an applicant for the cadetship at West Point and took the examination April 30 at Leavenworth, Kan. Nineteen applicants started in with the examination and seven dropped out. How many passed the examination is not known. There were three from this district, the principal and two alternates. The principal went to Washington, D. C., to coach, and passed the examination. Mr. Cohn passed also, but the third case did not make an appearance. Mr. Cohn passed the examination easily and will try for an appointment two years hence. S. E. Nelson of Hipper, Ore., was a guest of President and Mrs. Clemmons on Wednesday. He was formerly a student at the college and a graduate from the classic course, and is now acting as county superintendent. He is a lawyer of merit and was elected delegate to the Roy M. Eaton, a graduate from the classic course of Fremont college and superintendent of schools at Geneva for five years, was elected by the board of regents of the State university to the position of professor of normal training in the school of agriculture, a department of the State university. He had been re-elected by the Geneva School board for a term of two years more at an advanced salary and they naturally were reluctant to give him up.

Miss Nana Lynn Forbes will visit her sister in Sioux City between terms.

Prof. McDill will move into his new house on Ninth street some time during the next week.

SCHOOL REFORMS.

Suggestions for Relieving Mental and Physical Strain.

Commenting on increasing nervous and mental disorders in the public schools, a writer in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal states that the prevention of these disorders calls loudly for reform. He makes a number of suggestions along the line of reform which are worthy of consideration by teachers and school authorities. Among these are (1) The abolition of all competitive work; (2) of all rewards for excellence in school work or attendance; (3) elimination of special examinations for promotion; (4) the making of promotion solely dependent upon the capacity shown by the individual child; (5) elimination of a fixed standard of grades for arbitrarily fixed ages; (6) elimination of all report cards sent to parents; (7) abolition of commendatory or laudatory certificates and the substitution thereof of personal contact with the parents and the home; (8) in certain cases the instituting of special instruction in very small classes; (9) the abolition of afternoon sessions for all grades below the fifth, or the entire devotion of the afternoon session to educative play (without restraint); (10) the assignment of the easiest studies for the afternoon session for all grades from the fifth upward; (11) the reduction of the time during which the concentration of the attention of the pupils is required for any one subject; (12) the abolition of home lessons requiring mere abstract reasoning, or routine memory.

THE BACCALAUREATE ORATOR.

Time and Opportunity Increases His Troubles.

"Year by year," says the New York Post, "the task of the baccalaureate orator grows more difficult. Once upon a time his duty was very simple. Here were several hundred young men on the point of having Alma Mater's cloistered seclusion for the experience, the trials, and the temptations of the world. Warning and advice were in place. But what is there about the world today that a commencement speaker can teach his audience? Among his listeners are men who have managed to take away enough time from cloistered seclusion to run down in their own motor cars for a week end near Broadway; men who have worked their way to Europe in cattle boats and come back as able seamen; men who have worked as bear-leaders and strike-breakers; men who have edited daily newspapers and conducted successful theatrical tours; men who have managed foot ball finances running up into the $50,000 men who have held mock political conventions, pulled wires, and—alas—stuffed ballot boxes. If your baccalaureate orator is a venerable divine of the old pastoral school, there are several things about the world which these fledglings in cap and gown could teach him."

NEBRASKA WESLEYAN NOTES.

Class Work in the Summer Session Begins Thursday.

Convocation hour last Friday was given over to a recital by Miss Bell, recently of the Columbia School of Oratory at Boston. Miss Bell is to assist Prof. Knox in the School of Expression and Oratory at Wesleyan next year.

W. R. Ruyile is the Ivy day orator.

Three literary societies gave their annual open session programs in the auditorium on Wednesday and Thursday evenings last week. Both programs were well arranged and well rendered. A large audience attended each evening.

Class work in the summer session began last Thursday. The enrollment is larger than usual, especially in the more advanced classes.

The senior class play, "Nathan Hale," was given to a crowded house in the auditorium Friday evening. The entire cast was perhaps the strongest ever produced at Wesleyan.

Rev. T. S. Henderson, who is the commencement orator this year, is one of the newly elected bishops of the Methodist church.

Rev. J. R. Gettings, '87, of David City will deliver the alumni address Tuesday morning, June 11. The alumni luncheon will be given Wednesday noon immediately after the commencement exercises.

The trustees will be in annual session on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Donna College Notes. The bill are out for the Junior play. This will be one of the finest ever given by a college class at Doane and as yet the name of the production has been withheld.

Dr. Cowan, minister of the Congregational church, gave a helpful talk in chapel Friday morning.

The classes are preparing stunts to be put on after chapel on Monday of commencement week. The winning stunt will receive a prize.

The seniors this year have centered their orations about topics concerning the history of the college, since this is the fortieth anniversary of the life of the college.

The examinations for the Juniors and seniors started last Friday, and will be over by Tuesday noon. The examinations for the academics and freshmen and sophomores begin Monday, June 10, and last through to Friday.

The alumni class after the banquet will be dispensed with this year, and in its place a memorial service for the late President Perry will be held. Speakers for the academics and freshmen and State Educational board will be present.

Friday evening, June 7, took place the Junior formal school during the four years of Plainview, and the junior piano recital of Miss Leola Caldwell of Little Sioux, Ia. Both young ladies did excellent work and showed the results of careful preparation and training. A large audience was in attendance.

The tennis team from Creighton easily defeated Doane devotees of that game at the college courts Thursday afternoon. The finals and semi-finals of the tournament have not been finished yet, as the best players are yet to be chosen. Krebs and Love, the first already to the finals, are making strong bids for the singles championship.

Educational Notes.

Pan Hui Lo, a Chinese law student at the University of Chicago, has recently received the appointment of vice commissioner of foreign affairs, under the new republic of China.

Carl Leppie, who will be graduated this year from the St. Clairsville (O.) High school, has walked nearly 5,500 miles from school during the four years of his course. He lives four miles from the school and walked back and forth every day. He has not been absent or tardy once in the four years.

Wellesley college has received $10,000 from Newton and Frances S. Klein of Cynwyd, Pa., to be known as the Mildred Klein fund, to be used in aid of students needing money. The scholarship is given in memory of a daughter who was a member of the present graduating class.

When the Chicago Board of Education recently established part time classes in salesmanship at the Lucy L. Fowler Technical high school, it entered upon an interesting experiment. The young women in these classes continue to give up most of their working day to actual service behind the counter, but for a portion of the day they go to the high school for special study in their line of work. The department stores in which they are employed pay their salaries for the whole time, and also their car fare to and from the school.

Peru Normal Notes.

The usual school reception was held at the gymnasium on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Josie Morris and her two daughters of Los Angeles are visiting the faculty.

Prof. Wells' family is being visited by W. L. Avery and wife of New York City. Mr. Avery is a brother of Mrs. Wells.

Some very fast players are contesting for places on the normal team. Announcements are out for the summer lecture course of the normal. It includes Colonel Steckelberg, violinist; the Chicago Glee club, the Shiloh orchestra and Dr. Wiley of pure food fame.

The attendance at summer school is the largest in the history of the school. Some difficulty is being experienced in finding places for the students to room, and many families are admitting roomers who have not before thus opened their homes. The chapel is crowded to its capacity at midday services, and many classes are divided into three or four sections to accommodate the throngs.

Woman to Ask Vote in City Hall Meet

Under the auspices of the Political Equality league Dr. Inez Philbrick will speak in favor of woman suffrage in the city council chamber next Wednesday night. The address will be the first of the kind ever made in the chamber.

Men are not to be barred. A special invitation has been extended to them along with the general public.

Dr. Philbrick, as president of the Nebraska Suffrage society, has been actively interested in the political welfare of womanhood for several years. She is a successful member of her profession and is said to be a brilliant public speaker.

Burning Flue Gives Furniture Men Scare

Believing the building was on fire when the furnace flue caught fire and filled the store with smoke, employees of the State Furniture store at Fourteenth and Dodge streets, turned in a fire alarm which brought nearly all the fire departments in the business section of the city to the scene.

The janitor was burning refuse in the furnace. The flue was filled with soot which caught on fire and filled the entire store with smoke. No damage was done.

Nathan Sherles, colored, was shot in the back at 7:30 o'clock last night by Special Policeman S. D. Blackwood when the former attempted to escape after he had been caught trespassing on the A. Ferrer Iron yard property. When the negro was arrested he attempted to escape and struck the officer a blow in the face. As he ran the officer pulled out his revolver, firing once.

Sherles was taken to the police station, where Surgeon Ellwood removed the bullet. Later he was locked up on a charge of being a suspicious character and trespassing on private property.

ORKIN STORE OPEN TUESDAY

Successor to Bennett Company Will Remodel New Property Soon.

KEEP PRESENT SELLING FORCE

Max Orkin President of New Firm and M. E. Orkin, Heads Dry Goods Department of New Store.

One of the biggest deals in recent Omaha business history has been closed and the last work of transferring the Bennett company store to Orkin Brothers company has been done.

The new concern has been organized and will start business in the store at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning with the heads of the various departments as follows: Max Orkin, president; J. L. Orkin, secretary; M. E. Orkin, treasurer; A. S. Levitt, vice president.

Max Orkin will supervise the finances of the new company and J. L. Orkin will be general manager. M. E. Orkin will take full control of the dry goods department, while A. S. Levitt will care for the men's clothing and furnishing goods department.

The new company has begun arrangements to sell out the merchandise now in the store and to restock with an entire line of new goods. The company will cater to all classes of trade, carrying stocks of medium price as well as goods of the finest quality.

Remodel Store.

Orkin Brothers will furnish the store throughout as soon as the first steps attendant upon the assumption of responsibilities are passed. They intend to remodel the store and put in fixtures that will mark it as one of the finest stores in the country.

The policy maintained, according to J. L. Orkin, will be the same that made possible the success of both the Omaha business and the wholesale house in Sioux City. They will follow a broad and liberal policy, making the new concern a store for everybody.

Maintain All Departments.

The departments of the old Bennett store will remain the same under the Orkin management for a time, at least. The new company will establish a larger ladies' suit department, which will be operated along the lines of the store at 215-20 South Sixteenth street. The business there acquired the reputation of being one of the most comprehensive ladies' suit stores in the country.

After business is established in the new quarters the firm will inaugurate a sale to close out the goods bought from the Bennett company, the purpose being to make room for the new stock.

Max Orkin will arrive in Omaha from Sioux City Tuesday morning, accompanied by A. S. Levitt, a half brother, who was partner in the Orkin & Levitt Wholesale Dry Goods company there.

The store will open at 8 o'clock Tuesday with all the employees under the Bennett ownership at their regular posts.

Lobeck Makes Talk to Letter Carriers

Congressman C. O. Lobeck addressed the Omaha letter carriers yesterday afternoon from the north steps of the federal building, speaking briefly of the work of congress and his efforts at pension legislation, and testifying to his happiness at being able to greet so many old Omaha friends among the postal employees.

Congressman Lobeck is on his way back to Washington from Sioux City, where he and other congressmen attended the funeral of the late Congressman E. H. Hubbard. He leaves for Washington tonight.

Learning of Mr. Lobeck's homecoming, Postmaster Wharton invited him to speak to the letter carriers who were called together for their annual spring inspection. After the carriers, lined up in uniform, took their new official of formally introducing his new official, Assistant Postmaster Woodward, Superintendent of Malls Mettlen, and others were introduced. J. R. Baldwin, 1330 Charles street, has a daughter. The daughter is married, and because of this Mr. Baldwin has a son-in-law. This son-in-law happens to possess the name of Henry Palmer and lives in Tekamah. Father-in-law Baldwin doesn't like his son-in-law and his dislike has caused the separation of his daughter from her lawfully wedded husband.

Last night when Palmer tried to see his wife Baldwin interfered and the son-in-law retaliated by assaulting him with his fists.

Baldwin then went into the house and procured a revolver and threatened to shoot holes in his son-in-law if he did not immediately leave. A policeman appeared at that time and arrested Baldwin upon the charge of threatening to kill and took Palmer along also. Palmer was locked up to make sure that he will appear against his father-in-law Monday morning.

ALWAYS TIRED, WITH LITTLE VITALITY

Modern Tonic, Tona Vita, Will Surely Build You Up Again.

Are you one of the run down, half sick nervous people with which the country is filled? Do you feel tired all the time with very little vitality? Do you sleep badly and feel as worn out in the morning as when you went to bed? Is your circulation poor and do you catch cold easily? Have you stomach trouble and an irregular appetite? Are you nervous, moody and depressed?

These are sure symptoms of nervous debility. If you are struggling along in this miserable condition the best thing you can possibly do for yourself is to take "Tona Vita" the wonderful new tonic that has the unqualified endorsement of more physicians than any other medicine ever before offered to the public.

Here is what the Rev. Gustave Frederick, pastor of the Evangelical church, Center Street, Milwaukee, Wis., has to say of it:

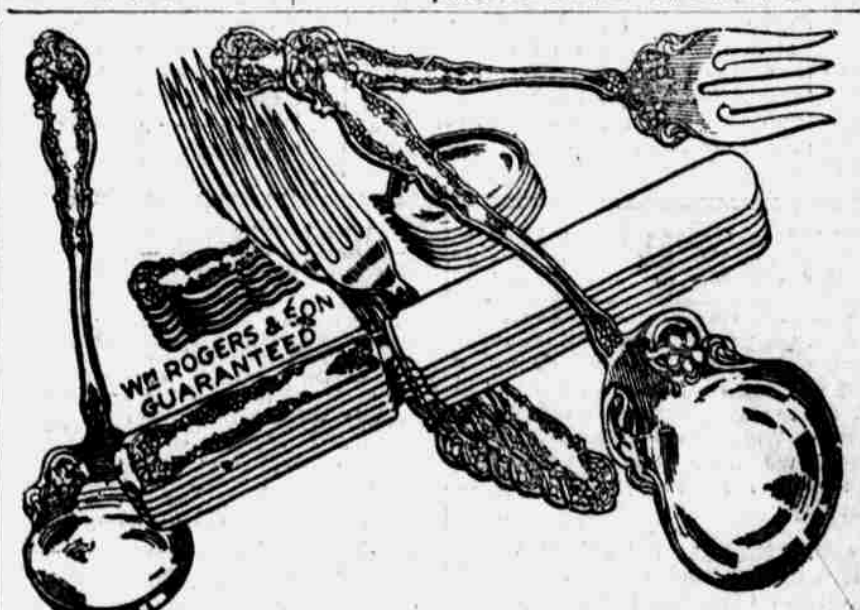

"Judging from my own experience I do not hesitate to say that 'Tona Vita' is an extremely valuable preparation. I have not only used it myself, but other members of my family have been taking it with highly satisfactory results."

"So far as my own case is concerned I have been in a run down condition for a year or so, tiring easily and being troubled with sleeplessness. I lacked vitality and caught cold readily, and my digestion and appetite were poor. I was depressed in mind and body, and very nervous."

"I now feel stronger than for a long time. I have more energy and my work is done with much less effort. I sleep and eat better and feel as though rejuvenated."

Tona Vita acts quickly. You will be surprised how rapidly it will build you up.

Sherman & McConnell Drug Co., 16th and Dodge; Owl Drug Co., 16th and Harney; Harvard Pharmacy, 24th and Farnam; and Loyal Pharmacy, 207-9 North 16th St., have the agency for Tona Vita in Omaha and will return the purchase price if not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.
