DISEASED MEAT DISCOVERED

Commissioner Ryder Places Ban on Product of a Slaughter House.

BUTCHERED NEW BORN CALVES Majority of Independent Slaughter Houses Found in Excellent Condition, but Filth of One Stirs Health Officers.

Independent slaughter houses in South Omaha are faultlessly clean with one exception, is the verdict pronounced by Police Commissioner Ryder and Health Commissioner Connell after a thorough inspection.

Veterinarian Hall was detailed by the health department to instruct South Omaha health inspectors that the one independent slaughter house found dirty would have to be cleaned.

"I never saw a more absolutely rotten place," said Mr. Ryder, who named the house "There we found diseased cattle of every kind being converted into dressed meat destined for sale in Omaha.

"We found the men preparing a calf not more than 3 days old. We ordered him to skin it and it was coal oiled right there. There was every evidence of complete disregard of the most necessary sanitation."

Mr. Ryder was much pleased with the conditions of the majority of the independent slaughter houses. With Dr. Connell he entered one old building in which he expected to find unsanitary conditions.

Workmen Are Ready to Build Laundry

Excavation will be started today at the southeast corner of Eleventh and Douglas streets for the new Evans-Model laundry, a $25,000 two-story brick and glass structure.

Drawings have been completed by architects Fisher & Lawrie and E. O. Hamilton has been awarded the contract for building. The company is a consolidation of the Evans City Steam Laundry and the Model Laundry concerns.

M. M. Robertson, president, and R. E. Segur, manager, will leave Omaha tomorrow for a trip through the east to work out ideas for operating the new plant.

South Omaha Viaducts Will Be Built at Once

Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific railroads and the Union Stock Yards company won their F street viaduct fight against the city of South Omaha before Judge A. C. Troup in the equity division of the district court, the city practically agreeing to a compromise on a basis proposed by the roads and the Stock Yards company.

An alternative writ commanding the construction of the viaduct over F street at Twenty-eighth street was issued in 1910, but the roads and the Stock Yards company refused and the court proceedings stopped while negotiations for compromise were in progress.

The writ issued does not require a structure for street car traffic.

Securing Features for Grocers' Picnic

The Omaha Retail Grocers' association has invited the grocers and butchers of South Omaha, Benson, Florence and Council Bluffs to attend the annual picnic to be given in Riverview park on June 29.

The program committee is now working on entertainment features. Besides band concerts, athletic contests and a moving picture show, a special feature in a public wedding is being sought.

The Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company has agreed to operate extra cars on the two lines running to the park on that day.

CANDY STORE MOVES TO WEST FARNAM STREET

The Dalzell Candy company will move into a new building at the southeast corner of Twenty-sixth and Farnam streets as soon as the one-story brick building for them can be erected.

The Dalzell Candy company will close its Sixteenth street shop and handle the retail business and bakery in the new place. The new building will front twenty-two feet on Farnam streets and have a depth of 32 feet.

THEATER CENSOR APPOINTED

Police Commissioner Names Lieut. Hayes for the Position.

PIANOS MUST USE SOFT PEDALS Automatic Musical Instruments Will Be Permitted Only During Certain Hours and Then Only with Restrictions.

Police Lieutenant Thomas Hayes will be the censor of moving picture shows and theaters under orders of Superintendent Ryder, during the summer, at least.

"Lieutenant Hayes will devote his time to visiting all the moving picture shows, airshows and other places of amusement," said Mr. Ryder. "He is a man of experience and good judgment and one to whom no sort of inducement can be offered that will swerve him from doing his duty."

"Not only will he visit these places with the purpose to see that no objectionable or suggestive pictures or acts are presented, but he will also be under strict orders to prevent unnecessary noises, either by automatic piano or otherwise."

"This does not mean that we will prohibit pianos at such shows, but they will be allowed to run only during certain hours and with the soft pedal on. Some of them have become absolute nuisances, through lack of supervision."

"Lieutenant Hayes will also devote a good deal of attention to the traffic squad in the downtown district. He will be expected to keep them strictly on the job and see to it that they exercise judgment, courtesy and good temper in doing their work."

"Chief Donahue and myself have in mind certain things we feel will improve this service and we have the assurance of several interested citizens who have studied the regulations in other cities that they stand ready to give us their advice and assistance when we are ready to tackle this problem of the wisest regulation of street traffic."

MANY COMPLAINTS HEARD

More Than Five Hundred Filed Before Board of Equalization.

COURT HOUSE UPKEEP MORE No Complaints of Large Business Concerns Have Yet Been Filed Before the Board—Few Reductions Made.

More than 500 complaints of alleged excessive valuation of property for tax assessment purposes were filed with the County Board of Equalization, but the board manifested but little tendency to treat the complaints with favor. An anticipated increase of $25,000 a year in the cost of maintenance of the county building when the county moves into the new building is the principal reason for the disposition of the board to "stand pat" on the county assessor's valuations in most cases.

Twenty-five cases were taken up by the board and with the exception of a few instances reductions were refused. No complaints of large business concerns yet have been filed.

Operation of five elevators, employment of more janitors and use of more lights are among the items which will mean increased cost when the county occupies its new building.
