CORN MOVEMENT CONFLICTING

bullish feature.

While on the other hand first shipments of new wheat always create a selling flurry, it is reasonable to believe the late months will receive good support on depressions as a lowering of the spring wheat promise is probable.

Advices in regard to the corn movement are conflicting. Western messages indicate shipments are about over and the cash demand and prospects of low supplies for the summer are encouraging buyers. Weather conditions will doubt-less figure largely in the price making. Favorable crop news on wheat put the market lower. Liquidation of long wheat is heavy and still lower levels are anticipated. Cash wheat was \(\frac{1}{2}\)@lc lower. Long corn was dumped on the market on the weakness in wheat and heavy resemble. Cash amond its very slow and celpts. Cash demand is very slow and samples offered today were 1402c lower. Primary wheat receipts were 217,000 bu. and shipments were 218,000 bu. against receipts last year of 283,000 bu. and ship-ments of 245,000 bu. Primary corn receipts were 968,000 bu. and shipments were 532,000 bu., against receipts last year of 802,000 bu. and shipments of 479,000 bu.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, June 14.—Wheat prices collapsed today under the influence of rains that meant widespread benefit to both spring and winter crops. The close was unsettled, %c to 1%@2c under last night. Wheat finished at virtually the lowest point reached on the present gownturn. Liquidation sales were persistent enough Wheat finished at virtually the lowest point reached on the present downturn Liquidation sales were persistent enough to cause suspicion that the larger longs had been selling. Lack of speculative occurred in the corn and wheat region National Lead occurred in the corn and wheat region N. R. R. of M. 24 pfd. rt and especially of public demand support and especially of public demand for futures counted hard in making quotations recede. Furthermore, millers showed themselves quite backward in calling for cash wheat here or elsewhere. Heiging sales of July delivery by Oklahoma dealers who were purchasing wheat at home stations gave rise to reports that round lots of new cash wheat had been made to come to Chicago. The extra pressure on the July option caused that month to lead in the decline. September fluctuated from $1.04 to $1.04%, with last sales at $1.04%, a fall of 1911% compared with twenty-four hours before. Weather just the sort needed for growth rendered the corn market easy of influma dealers who were purchasing wheat Weather just the sort needed for growth rendered the corn market easy of influence toward the bear side. September ranged from 71%c to 72%, closing weak, 1614c down at 71%c. Cash demand was slim. No. 2 yellow, 786764c.

Special buying on the part of a leading elevator concern upheld oats for a while, but in the end sympathy with other grain acted as more than an offset. September varied from 40%c to 41%c, with the close at 40%c, a loss of 14%c. Extreme duliness prevailed in the provision trade and dragged prices lower when cereals gave way. In consequence pork was 15c to 156174c less expensive, with lard and bacon down 5674c to 74c. Futures range as follows:

Totals ..... 549 9,172 1,375 CATTLE—Only nineteen cars of cattle were reported in the yards this morning, and of this number about one-half consisted of hay-fed westerns, with a small sprinkling of corn-fed steers and a few cows and heifers and odds and ends. All sprinkling of corn-fed steers and a few cows and heifers and odds and ends. All told there were really not enough cattle on sale to test out the market. The demand, however, was fair for a Friday, and such cattle as were desirable generally sold in very good season in the morning at firm prices. As noted yesterday the market is as high as it has been any time this season or in the history of the trade. Among the offerings was a piece of a load of corn-fed steers that sold at $9. There were also some Montana hay-fed steers that were good enough to bring $8.10.

Extra good shorn lambs moved on a special packing order at $8.15 yesterday, but the very best kinds would have been slow at $7.65 or more on previous days. High grade fed lambs show moderate declines as compared with prices a week ago, while common lambs and sheep range all the way from 35 to 65 cents lower.

Where the Adage Was Weak. The man had been waiting patiently to have his order filled. The waiter was slow; the system poor.

And while the man waited a breezy stranger blew in and took a seat at the same table.

"You'll find this a slow ranch," he said. "I've been sitting here twenty minutes, but I suppose all things finally come to him who sits and waits."

come to him who sits and waits."
"Not on your life," cried the breezy man, and he tapped the table sharply with a silver half dollar. Up ran a smiling waiter.

"Here you are. John. and how order," said the breezy strange. Let me have it in five minutes."

And he got it.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What the Spirits Always Say. First intermediary: "I had a message from our dear departed friend last week." Second intermediary: "Did you? That's strange. I had a long talk with him."
"Oh, you did? What did he say about the future state?" "Why, he said it was different from what he expected. "How strange! That's exactly what h sold me.
