from many quarters that Taft men would throw their votes to La Follette if the first ballot failed to nominate either Roosevelt or Taft.

"There are twenty-six of us—every delegate in the state," said Senator Smoot, "and they are going to vote for La Follette from the first to the last ballot."

matched against the wits, the strategy and the staying powers of the Taft forces.

To win the nomination Colonel Roosevelt must either break into the Taft ranks as they appear near the settlement of the last of the delegate contests by the national committee or else win the support of the La Follette and Cummins delegates, or both. His followers are enthusiastic in their belief that he and they together can sweep the convention.

Everything pertaining to the convention on the Roosevelt side from the election of temporary chairman to the final struggle for control, will be directly under the supervision of Colonel Roosevelt himself from this time.

There is but one exception to this rule of personal freedom and that is Monday night's mass meeting. Here the former president is scheduled to deliver a lengthy address. All of the speakers who were to appear at that meeting have been told that their services will not be required and that the colonel will have the whole field to himself.

According to tentative plans announced this morning he will remain in Chicago until the conclusion of the national convention. This in itself is such a departure in the accepted procedure of past candidates as to furnish much food for speculation.

It seems probable that he will attend the convention during its sessions. His followers insist that if he attends the convention he will address the delegates in explanation of his attitude on the issues that he has raised.

Such an address would give opportunity for a stampede of the variety that was feared even by Colonel Roosevelt himself four years ago. Roosevelt followers are hoping that such an opportunity will arise.

The Roosevelt party, on its arrival here, will be met by a committee headed by Alexander H. Revell, chairman of the national Roosevelt committee and Edwin W. Sims, secretary of that committee.

Stage Ready for Big Show. The task of physical preparation for the convention is practically finished by the hundreds of carpenters, artisans and executives, in whose hands the Chicago coliseum has been for more than a month.

Monday morning there will assemble at the building the hundreds of ushers, messengers, pages, doorkeepers and assistant sergeants-at-arms, who are to care for the crowds and to arrange the instruction in their important duties.

A complete inner structure has been reared within the hall of the Coliseum and its adjoining annex and anti-room. Tonight every chair of the ill-fated that to accommodate the delegates, alternates, candidates, correspondents and the few favored private citizens will be in its place.

The hall is draped with colors; the telephone and telegraph equipment is in place and little remains but to usher in the spectators and participants and bid the chairman of the republican national convention invite the delegates to battle.

Harry S. New of Indianapolis, William F. Stone of Baltimore and Edwin H. Thayer of Indianapolis are the men who have held the strings of activity during the weeks just past in arranging the seating and management of the big convention.

As chairman of the sub-committee on arrangements, all business has passed through Colonel New's hands. As sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Stone has been the directing force in the organization of the motive power that will handle the delegates and the public in the busy days of the convention with the task of running things when the force of employes goes under way next Tuesday.

Back of the Coliseum hall, in the basement of the annex, scores of telegraph instruments are already in place. Two telephone exchanges have been installed on the main floor of the annex, a temporary hospital, with full surgical equipment, has been constructed with easy reach of the convention auditorium, and police headquarters has been opened in the rear of the hall.

Instruction of Employes. At 10 o'clock Monday there will be three gatherings of convention participants for instruction and drill. The hundreds of ushers who are to handle the seating of the crowds will meet with William B. Austin of Chicago, president of the Hamilton club, and chief usher for convention week. The deputy sergeant-at-arms, pages and messengers numbering several hundred more will meet with Colonel Thayer to learn their stations, duties and powers of control over the audience. At an uptown hotel at the same time L. F. Gleason of New York, the prospective secretary of the convention, will meet the assistant secretaries, reading clerks and tally clerks to instruct them in their duties and apportion the work for the week.

Assistant Chief Herman Schueller of the Chicago police department will be in charge of the 350 policemen who will aid the convention authorities in patrolling the hall and its surroundings. All entrances to the building will be roped off and guarded by mounted policemen. Those entitled to enter will have first of all to pass the rope barrier before they can reach their credentials at the doors.

From the police station in the rear, in which the assistant sergeant-at-arms will be located, a complete telephone system runs to all parts of the great building. Assistants will be in touch with Colonel Thayer or with Assistant Chief of Police Schueller from all parts of the building.

Under Charles A. Hanson of Baltimore, the chief doorkeeper, will be 100 trained and well paid men to prevent the forcing of doors by outsiders or the use of unlawful or forged tickets.

WINS SILVER MEDAL SINGING CONTEST GIVEN BY W. C. T. U.

CHARLOTTE HUNTLEY.

Winner of the silver medal in a singing contest held at the Hanscom Park Methodist church by the Frances Willard Women's Christian Temperance union Tuesday.

A band, matched to the Roosevelt headquarters, where they were given a rousing welcome. The republican national committee was denounced for unseating the two Roosevelt delegates from San Francisco by members of the delegation. Many banners were carried by the westerners, bearing inscriptions of various kinds. Among them were: "California refuses to try title to property before the thief who stole it." "Let the people rule." "California for Roosevelt by 76,000."

Accompanying the California delegation are two women, Mrs. Francis Porter Collins of Los Angeles and Mrs. Charles D. Blaney of San Jose, the first women to attend a national convention as delegates.

The New York delegation, bringing with it its ninety votes in the convention, arrived today. Both the Taft and Roosevelt headquarters made widely differing claims as to the proportion of ninety it would capture. The matter probably will be settled tonight at a conference of the state delegation. It was reported, however, this morning that the Brooklyn delegation with its eighteen votes, would lend its support to Roosevelt if the national committee decided the Washington contest in favor of Taft.

LEADERS OF GREAT BATTLE

bluff and bluster with which he was accustomed to overawe juries, or terrorize witnesses, were not effective in that place. At any rate, Mr. Heney's comparatively quiet behavior latterly contrasted strikingly with his explosive eruption at the outset.

One more conspicuous figure that should be mentioned is William Hayward, the secretary of the committee, formerly of Nebraska, but now of New York, who has grown in every way during the last few years. He is, as every one in Nebraska knows, a big, handsome fellow, and he has been making lots of friends by his courteous attention to those who have had business with him in his official capacity. The picture men have been having lots of fun with him over the long, heavy, black string attached to his eye glasses, behind which they say he hides, and the beautiful boy-handled car which was given to him four years ago as a souvenir testimonial of his national campaign associates, and which he has carried around the world.

Hayward took a hand in the Louisiana contest cases, having been one of the committee who went down to try to harmonize the factions there, and while I did not hear him, having commissioned him as my proxy to give him the freedom of the floor, I am told he nailed down the proposition for which he contended so that the other fellows could not pry it loose. Whether he will continue to be secretary of the national committee will depend on the new committee, but I know that if this committee were to continue over, there would be no question about it.

FOUR PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM CHADRON JAIL. CHADRON, June 15.—(Special.)—Four prisoners escaped from the Dawes county jail Thursday night through a hole made in the wall under one of the windows. One prisoner, a colored man, refused to leave. The men who escaped are: Thomas L. Dugan, who is charged with robbery and assault; Fred Logan, a federal prisoner from Rushville; Reed Ellis, colored, charged with burglary; and William Hendrick, charged with burglary. The prisoners have been allowed to use the corridors during the day time, and must have been at work for weeks to have removed and replaced bricks so carefully that it was not noticed. Word has been received that three of them were captured at Crawford. Reed Ellis is the man still at large.

Mushroom Corns, Quick Cure And All Kinds Sore Feet

The following is absolutely the surest and quickest cure known to science for all foot ailments, the painful mushroom corn included. Dissolve two table-spoonfuls of Calocid compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts. The effect is really wonderful. All soreness goes instantly; the corns and callouses can be peeled right off. It gives immediate relief for sore bunions, sweaty, smelly and aching feet. A twenty-five cent box of Calocid is said to be sufficient to cure the worst feet. It works through the pores and removes the cause of the trouble. Don't waste time on uncertain remedies. Any drugist has Calocid compound in stock or he can get it in a few hours from his wholesale house. It is not a patent medicine but is an ethical preparation.

BODY OF WOMAN KILLED BY STORM FOUND IN TANK

BEATRICE, Neb., June 15.—(Special.)—Mrs. John Ideus, who was killed in the tornado which swept through this county last evening, was 39 years of age. The body was found in a water tank after the storm. Three of her children were injured, but not seriously. Mr. Ideus was missing for some time after the storm had destroyed their home, but he was later found near the barn badly stunned, but not seriously injured. After leaving the tracks south of Cortland, where the Union Pacific passenger train en route to Beatrice stopped and waited until the storm passed ahead of it, the damage seems to have been greater than near Hallam where it originated. In Hanover township everything in the shape of farm buildings, windmills, etc., were demolished in the path of the storm when it moved in a southeasterly course into Pawnee county.

NOTES FROM UPLAND AND FRANKLIN COUNTY

UPLAND, Neb., June 15.—(Special.)—On account of the heavy rains the Odd Fellows' picnic which was to have been held here yesterday was postponed until Tuesday, June 25. For this new date Governor Aldrich, S. R. Barton, R. D. Sutherland and ex-Governor Shallenbarger have already been secured to speak, and the committee expects to get J. H. Moorehead in addition. The program otherwise will be carried out as originally planned. The recent rains, amounting to nearly five inches in the last week, have improved the crop outlook here to a remarkable extent. Wheat is much improved and many fields will yield a good deal more than last year. Corn, alfalfa and pasture are in fine condition.

Of the pleasant, healthful "SIZZ" patent tonic, or make you joyous, make you happy, care-free, fit; it is Nature's one sure tonic, one that has no sting in it. It is good in every season; when the Summer's stifling hot, just a little every morning cools you off and hits the spot; and in winter when the breezes along the front and chill, when you're fearing dread pneumonia or a Doctor's heavy bill, do not waste your coin on patent, patent, patent, or such like stuff, drink your "SIZZ" got retouching, you're safe from old King Winter's bluff. It's good for man, for wife, and children. For a sweetheart, friend, or honored guest, and they know when "SIZZ" you serve them, that you're giving them the best. It quenches thirst, makes life worth living, relieves fatigue, and clears the brain, to me it seems just as refreshing as sunshine after heavy rain.
