MATERNITY HOME LICENSES

State Board of Health Exercises Supervision Over Them.

GUARD MAY NOT TAKE TRIP

President's Veto of Army Bill Likely to Prevent Nebraska National Guard from Taking Part in Maneuvers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 20.—(Special.)—Acting under the new law regulating maternity homes, twenty-seven institutions have received licenses to date. Most of these licenses are taken out by well known hospitals in Omaha, Lincoln and the larger towns of the state.

The first one to receive a license was a hospital conducted by Dr. C. P. Fall of Beatrice who happens to be a member of the board. Before the applicant can receive a license he must show that his home is approved by the authorities in the city wherein the same is located.

These homes are subject to inspection at any time and are under the supervision of the state board of health as to proper regulation. Those receiving licenses are as follows:

C. P. Fall, Beatrice; C. S. Long, Beatrice; Sister Marie M. Wedel, Beatrice; Mrs. Sidona Wehner, Omaha; Elizabeth Caldwell, Omaha; Rev. P. M. Lindberg, Omaha; C. A. Shoemaker, Lincoln; O. H. Hahn, Hastings; S. P. Gainsforth, Holdrege; Josephine Nystrom, Omaha; O. W. Everett, Lincoln; Jennie Graham, Omaha; Sister Mary Genevieve, Omaha; Charles F. Habel, Omaha; Ellen Stewart, Omaha; Neils Erikson, Omaha; Ida B. Hulett, Omaha; F. M. Andrus, Lincoln; F. L. Wilmett, Lincoln; R. L. Bentley, Lincoln; B. P. Bailey, Lincoln; W. M. Ranney, Lincoln; R. H. Cawyer, University Place, Hanora T. Kelly, Fremont; Orville Rockwell, College View; Martha A. Lee, Omaha.

Guard May Not Go.

The National Guard may not be permitted to attend maneuvers at Cheyenne, Wyo., or hold a state encampment in the proposition which confronts the adjutant general's office at this time. The veto by President Taft of the army appropriation bill because of "riders" attached to it which did not approve may result in a lack of funds unless congress should do something along the line before adjournment.

Traction Company Appeals.

The supreme court has granted permission to the Lincoln Traction company to file a bond of $5,000 pending a decision of that court as to the rights of citizens of Lincoln to compel the street railway to run certain cars over what is known as the "high line." The district court found against the company, which appeals. This is a case in which one department store proprietor complains that the owners of another department store, who are also stockholders in the street car company, influenced the company to take off cars from the College View high line, which passes his store, and route them down the line which passes the store of the other merchants who own stock in the company.

Burlington Answers Minden.

The Burlington has filed with the railway commission its answer to the application made by the citizens of Minden, asking that a new depot be erected, and that trains Nos. 1 and 6 be stopped at that place. The answer of the company sets forth, among other claims, that if compelled to stop trains Nos. 1 and 6 that it would be discrimination against towns of like size where said trains do not stop. Also that the present depot was located and erected with the consent and under the suggestion of the city authorities of Minden, and that they have no valid claim for the contention they make.

Antelope's Assessment.

Antelope county is the fourth county to send in her assessed valuation report to the state board. The assessed valuation for this year is $5,222,275, an increase over the last year of $1,131,887.

Gooch is Alternate.

H. E. Gooch, owner of the Lincoln Daily Star, has received notice from Senator Hitchcock that he has been selected as the latter's alternate to the Baltimore democratic convention. This leaves only one more alternate to be chosen, Mr. Bryan having failed to make a selection, in his haste to get down to the national republican convention, where he could absorb a few points on how steam rollers could be run successfully. The Bryan roller, while propelled by wind and somewhat out of date, it is said, is in pretty good shape at the present time and good for at least one more convention.

Malone Back from Trip.

Robert Malone, a distinguished democrat of Lincoln who has twice been ex-tinguished for the office of mayor of the capital city, has just returned from a trip through Texas and Oklahoma and says that everything down that way is for Bryan for the democratic nomination. He says that people on the trains, in the towns and everywhere else simply stand up and shout whenever they hear the name of Bryan mentioned.

Blind Workers Meet.

The third day's session of the Nebraska Workers for the Blind being held at College View opened this morning, the principal address being by Charles F. Campbell of Ohio. The afternoon session opened with an address by the president, J. R. Shink, followed by Mrs. Truesdale, L. N. Muck gave a report on the 1911 national convention.

Secretary Mellor of the State Board of Agriculture is putting out a folder headed "Meet the politicians at the Nebraska state fair, Lincoln, Neb., September 2 to 6."

The folder contains a political chart in colors, with a key to the chart which tells how every state voted in electoral colleges from 1888 to the present.

Fraternal Men Busy.

Steps were taken here last night to form a permanent state organization to work against legislation which might prove harmful to fraternal insurance interests in Nebraska. It is expected before the November election to have over 1,000 members, and while it is mostly a Woodmen organization, members of other orders interested are invited to join and co-operate with them.

Commission Orders Relief for Albion

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 20.—(Special Telegram.)—The railway commission dismissed this afternoon a portion of the complaint at the Albion Commercial club relative to a request for faster train service over the Northwestern and a better and safer track. The company is ordered to reorganize its depot and take out the living rooms therein, change the freight department from the west to the east end of the depot and put in a heating plant and to make an entrance on the south side of the station toward the town.

An order was made by the railway commission regarding return transportation for stock shippers over the Burlington. Where single cars of live stock are consigned to market by different owners in charge of one person, no return transportation will be allowed. A shipper must ship two cars in order to get the return transportation.

Fortune for Heirs of Thomas Beatty

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—One million, five hundred thousand dollars is the fortune that will be divided between four members of a California family as the result of the settlement of an old lawsuit in St. Louis. The money will be paid by the holders of real estate in the commercial center of that city, who were defendants in the suit that was decided in favor of the California plaintiffs. Those to whom this fortune will go are Ludlow Chambers, a resident of this city, and his three daughters.

In 1822, Thomas Beatty, grandfather of Chambers, bought the St. Louis property, but failed to record it and afterward lost the deed to the land. Others took possession of the property and it was not until 1908 that Beatty, having recovered his deed, began suit to regain the land. After Beatty's death his heirs continued the suit.

Chicago is Mecca for June Brides

CHICAGO, June 20.—Convention week has brought an increasing number of June brides to Chicago. The figures of J. C. Leger, marriage license clerk, show conclusively the aid to matrimony in the big political event.

The daily list has been well above the 200 mark. Mr. Legner expressed the belief last night that the convention, its large crowds and excursion rates to Chicago were responsible for attracting many couples to Chicago and he added that he thought many of them had eloped.

Jewelers said yesterday was "brides' day" in Chicago, who by their engraving are able to decide the biggest wedding day of the year. One jeweler alone said 200 rings had been engraved for June 19. Last year June 14 was the heaviest day.

Evelyn Thaw Gives Testimony Against Her Husband, Harry

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 20.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, wife of Harry K. Thaw, took the stand again today to testify against her husband in his action to secure his release from the insane asylum.

Mrs. Thaw testified that her husband made proposals in New York in 1904 that they both commit suicide. He had the details all planned, she said. They were to engage rooms at a hotel and take poison. He had even fixed the hour. She, of course, refused. She testified further that Thaw had complained to her that the food given him while he was in the Tombs was poisoned. He also complained that he could not eat the potatoes they gave him at Matetan because "there were large lumps of saltpeper in them."

Evelyn Thaw's testimony was interrupted when it was learned that Miss Susan Merritt was in the building. She had been sought for days by the state. Mrs. Merritt became hysterical and screamed that she did not wish to testify. She was still weeping when she took the stand. She testified that on one occasion Thaw beat two young girls almost into insensibility and when she broke into the room he rushed at her. "I thought he would kill us all," she said. She added that Thaw said to her that if she ever told anything that had happened he would kill her.

Mrs. Merritt swore that $7,000 in $1,000 bills was paid to one of the girls to silence her. Other girls had received large amounts. There were upwards of 200 girls in all who received money in large amounts, she said.

Sloan, a Wealthy Chicago Promoter Lost in New York

NEW YORK, June 20.—The police today are searching for William Sloan, a wealthy Chicago promoter, who disappeared from a downtown hotel on the morning of June 1. The day before he had received $250,000 in cash for his services in settling a claim for J. P. Knight of Chicago.

April 24 he came here on the mission for Mr. Knight. George K. Wright, a close friend of Sloan, reported his disappearance.

"It is believed some criminal knew Sloan was to get a large amount of money and has robbed him," said Wright. "If he were sick he would certainly have communicated with me."

LONDON, June 20.—Luther Maynard Jones, former law partner of the late William C. Whitney and the first secretary of the Yale Alumni association, was found today in Streamton infirmary after a disappearance of three years, due to loss of memory caused by abcess on the brain.

Mr. Jones came here several years ago in connection with an important law suit, but was compelled to give up practice, owing to brain trouble. He afterward became a noted antiquary. J. R. Quinn of Ottawa, a life-long friend, found Mr. Jones today as a result of a year's search.

Fifty Years Ago Dr. Renner Started to Fight the Indians

Fifty years ago, June 19, 1862, Dr. Frederick Renner, then of Nebraska City, was commissioned captain of the "Otoe County Reserves." Second brigade, Nebraska militia, and entered the service of the country, being assigned to duty in Nebraska under Colonel Olive Perry Mason, who was then conducting the campaign against the Indians. Forty years later, June 20, 1902, Dr. Renner was honorably discharged from the service of the Nebraska militia, Adjutant General Colby issuing the order at the instance of Governor Savage.

General Isaac Coe, who was in command of the Second brigade of Nebraska militia during the Indian campaigns, records that "Captain Renner did, in his double capacity as scout and surgeon of militia, render valuable services to his regiment in repelling Indian raids from June, 1862, from my personal knowledge and from reliable reports, rendered efficient services also in the years 1864 and 1867. That he was noted for his bravery and public spirit, and as such volunteer did not ask or receive compensation for his services, but rendered efficient service in protecting the overland travelers and terror-stricken settlers when their lives were in actual peril from hostile Indians."

This report was made by General Coe in 1886, when Dr. Renner was then asking for a pension from the government. Now, in 1912, sixteen years later, he is in receipt of a letter from the solicitor general of the pension office, telling him that his case is outside of the pension law, and that he must depend on an act of congress for relief. The effort of Senator Hitchcock to have such a bill passed by the present session has failed, and the venerable doctor, who fought Indians to aid settlers at a time when the confederates were stirring the red men up to raids in Nebraska and Kansas, must wait for another congress before he can try again to get the tardy relief he so greatly needs.

Rosewater Holds Fate of President for Seven Hours

Says William H. Culver in the Chicago American: "Victor Rosewater made good yesterday the faith reposed in him by the mighty of the old regime. He proved that he would and could 'stand up.' The young Hebrew editor of Omaha, the midget of the great national republican convention that boasts many giants, held the fate of President Taft in his small hands for seven hours. And when Rosewater surrendered his charge to Senator Ellihu Root, President Taft's chances for a renomination were just as good as they were when given to Rosewater to guard."

"At any time within that seven hours Rosewater could have turned the convention over to Theodore Roosevelt. A simple ruling and he could have made Roosevelt the nominee for a third term. "Because Rosewater stood firm in doing the job he was chosen to do, Ellihu Root, representative of Taft, is temporary chairman of the convention—made so by a vote of 588 for himself to 502 for Governor McGovern of Wisconsin, 9 for W. S. Lauder of North Dakota, 3 for Walter S. Houser of Wisconsin, 1 for Senator Gronna of North Dakota and 5 absent or not voting."

"Because Root is in the chair, and because Rosewater kept the faith, President Taft still retains thus far his paper title to a renomination. But he retains it by an eyebrow margin."

Evelyn Thaw Again Relates Her Story

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 20.—Evelyn Thaw, as witness for the state in its efforts to keep her husband, Harry K. Thaw, in the Mattawan asylum, repeated in a crowded courtroom here this afternoon her story of the series of sensations which culminated in the murder of Stanford White. Her testimony covered her relations with Thaw from the time ten years ago when he first sought acquaintance with her as a chorus girl, his proposal of marriage, his race when she told of an earlier attack on her by White, the Thaw marriage, his constant reversion to her relations with White and the shooting of White on the Madison Square Garden roof. She had not touched upon the later mental condition of her husband when the hearing was adjourned until tomorrow, when she may be recalled.
