

For the WOMEN FOLK

Special Days at Clubs

The Field club entertainment committee has decided to have a band concert from 4 to 6 o'clock, July 4, for the special entertainment for that day.

There will be a table d'hôte luncheon for the golfers and a table d'hôte dinner in the evening, followed by dancing. This will make a complete program for the day and many members have planned to spend the entire day at the club.

Happy Hollow club announces a song recital for the entertainment of the club members. Following the table d'hôte dinner Saturday evening, June 23, Mrs. Mabelle Crawford Welton, the well known contralto, will give the program. The club house is well arranged for an affair of this kind and the members are anticipating the event. Judge Howard Kennedy is chairman of the entertainment committee and has planned several interesting affairs.

Frank Colpetzer, chairman of the committee on the country club, has announced several events. There will be a series of putting contests at the club, and for July 4 there will be a table d'hôte dinner, followed by fireworks in the evening.

In a Cruising Canoe

Mr. and Mrs. C. Alabaugh of Omaha left today in a cruising canoe, for a trip down the Elkhorn river to its junction with the Platte near Waterloo. They shipped a fine boat up from Omaha on the train and put it into the river this morning. They do not know how long it will take them to make the trip.

The river is very crooked, and in its meanderings passes through some of the prettiest scenery in Nebraska. The trip should be a delightful one at this season of the year.

Mrs. Boughton is the daughter of the late General Thomas Wilson, whose family resided in Omaha when General Wilson was on General Crook's staff. Colonel Boughton has for some time been on duty in Washington, part of the time on the general staff, but more recently connected with the war college. Colonel and Mrs. Boughton sail from San Francisco July 5.

Bryan Flees from Admirers Through Kitchen and Alley

CHICAGO, June 21.—William Jennings Bryan, who is present at the republican national convention as correspondent for a syndicate of papers, was given a round of applause from the great gathering in the Coliseum today and after the immediate adjournment held an informal reception over the railing of the press section.

Tonight he fled through the hotel kitchen in order to escape a small mob of admirers. Leaving the dining room he was beset at the door by an increasing group of persons who insisted upon shaking hands with him. At last he turned to the manager and said: "Please show me a back way out of here."

He was conducted out through the kitchen into the alley and fled to his room and his work on tomorrow's "story."

Dixon Thinks Other Side Wants New Man

CHICAGO, June 21.—Senator Dixon tonight issued a statement claiming that the Taft leaders, "Barnes, Penrose, Crane and the other so-called Taft leaders" had determined not to nominate Mr. Taft and were "dickering for a compromise candidate."

The statement declared that ten instructed Taft delegates from one state had offered to vote for Hughes; that propositions had been made from the Taft managers to friends of Senator Cummins and that Governor Hadley had been approached with offers to sacrifice Taft if he would accept the nomination. "They are looking for a new man," said Senator Dixon. "They have made a martyr out of Roosevelt, and when you make a martyr out of a man he wins."

Iowa News Notes.

AIM AT COMMITTEE BOLTER

Steam Roller Perpetuated by Change in Rules.

PRIMARY SYSTEM IS RECOGNIZED

Amendment Concerning National Committee Provides Bolting Member May Be Removed and Vacancy Filled.

CHICAGO, June 21.—Perpetuation of the "steam roller," so far as the republican national committee is concerned, and recognition of the direct primary plan of electing members of the committee, were the two radical and apparently contradictory changes yesterday in the rules governing the national committee by the rules committee.

The Roosevelt members of the committee did not oppose either. They will offer a minority report to the convention, insisting on a reduction of southern representation in the convention and upon the right of the various states to dictate the method and manner in which their representatives on the national committee shall be elected.

In other respects the rules that governed the republican convention of four years ago were adopted.

The "steam roller" amendment provides that when any member of the committee bolts or refuses to support the republican nominee he shall be summarily deposed.

The committee is empowered to name his successor. In the past the successor was dictated by the state committee of the state affected.

The rules committee, however, held that this would give to a state the opportunity to name to the vacancy a man holding precisely the same views as the member deposed.

Recognize Primary System. Recognition of the primary system of election of members of the committee was contained in an amendment providing that "when state laws provide for the election of a national committeeman, such election shall be considered a nomination to be carried into effect by the delegation from the state."

and the new primary plan was that the present leaders were "more bossy bosses" than their predecessors. Ezra Elliott of Colorado was equally vigorous in his attack on the primary system, but he found time to put in a good word for woman suffrage.

It was denied that the changes were made either to prevent any further serious obstruction in the national committee or to throw a sop to the so-called "progressive" states.

Committee Named Months Ago. "The national committee realized that it was proceeding with rules that were not official," explained D. J. Lake of Connecticut. "As a result it named a sub-committee of three members, several months ago, to consider necessary changes, long before the present controversy in the convention was foreseen."

"Therefore, the changes are non-partisan."

The rules as adopted will govern the present convention, but the change in that section of the rules affecting the national committee will not become effective until the new committee is named.

Severe Hailstorm Hits Sioux City

SIoux CITY, Ia., June 21.—A hail and rainstorm burst suddenly on Sioux City at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, doing considerable damage. Water from the hill districts rushed into the downtown streets, overflowing the gutters and filling many basements. Garden patches and flower beds were ruined by the hail, and lawns and streets were littered with leaves and branches stripped from shade trees. An inch of hail fell, and the scene resembled a March-like appearance. Windows and screens were broken from the downpour of frozen rain.
