ROOSEVELT NOW CONSIDERED OUT OF THE RUNNING

come from a long distance, have important matters to attend to next week that demand their presence at home. Already they have given a solid week of their time to this convention, counting from the day they left their homes, and I see no valid reason for longer delaying the regular business of the convention. I believe the Roosevelt "cyclone" has blown itself out and passed on."

President Taft's stock went up the scale at an amazing rate, once it became known that the unanimity of the Roosevelt plans had been broken.

Foremost in the analysis, the Roosevelt followers plainly demonstrated that they were willing to do almost anything for Colonel Roosevelt, but, as it is known in racing parlance, "go the route." When it comes right down to the point of burning all their bridges behind them and taking chances on a dead open-and-shut game of win or lose, there was a scurry to get from under and the colonel was left behind holding the bag.

Committee Works at Night.

It was evident this morning that the temper of the delegates and not the schemes of the leaders would hold first place in the next two hours of convention deliberations. With this fact in view, members of the credentials committee worked all night in efforts to do something approximating a complete report for submission to the convention when it is called to order at 11 a. m. convention procedure, a candidate for president would have been nominated yesterday, the third day, and the only business remaining for the convention today would be the selection of a vice presidential candidate and adjournment.

Now, as the program runs, the report of the credentials committee may require a vote by individual delegates; the report of the committee on rules may provoke extended debate, and the subject of a platform may take half a day for discussion on the floor.

If the convention actually gets down to the point of nominations this week, it will be late Saturday, unless there is a decision to adjourn the sessions of the convention to next week. Every effort today was directed toward closing up the convention Saturday afternoon or night. Officials of the convention joined with leaders on both sides of the fight to achieve this end. However, it was stated that this could not be expected unless a certain faction gave its consent to the advancement of the general business of the convention.

Will Not Bolt.

Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, Governor Charles S. Deneen of Illinois, and Senator Borah of Idaho, served notice that they would not join

In a third party movement or in a bolt from the regular convention. Other leaders of equal prominence did likewise.

The managers of President Taft's campaign for re-nomination today asserted that the president already was assured of a majority of sixteen to eighteen votes when the roll call on presidential nomination comes. William Barnes, Jr., of New York declared that he knew positively that the president would have at least ten votes over the necessary number to nominate, and that he expected this majority would be increased by six or more votes.

There was much conjecture this morning as to the exact number of delegates that Colonel Roosevelt could depend upon to stay with him through any sort of move that the former president might decide upon.

"Outside of California, Pennsylvania and possibly Kansas, it was predicted that Colonel Roosevelt would get comparatively little support among delegates in any proposition that might compromise the "regularity" of the men who followed him.

BRYAN IS FIGHTING PARKER

reactionary but upon the one democrat, who among those not candidates for the presidential nomination is in the eyes of the public, most conspicuously identified with the reactionary element of the party.

"I shall be pleased to join you and your friends in opposing his selection by the full committee or by the convention. Kindly answer here."

Mr. Bryan declined to discuss his action further than to say that the telegram spoke plainly for itself.

Watterson Warns Bryan.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 21.—Foreseeing, he declared, the possibility of a re-encounter at Baltimore of scenes at Chicago, Henry Watterson today sent a lengthy telegram to Chairman Mack of the national democratic committee at Baltimore, making a plea for democratic harmony. He says he opposes Judge Parker for temporary chairman, but adds:

"What the democrats at this time most need and require is the pooling of issues, not the raising of disturbance. I especially hope Mr. Bryan will see the force of this. Like yourself, I am his friend. I fear that if Mr. Bryan, thrice the nominee of the party for president, should begin by taking the floor to oppose Judge Parker, once his nominee, he will not only raise the standard of factionalism, but will run the risk of being a second Roosevelt."

National Committee for Parker.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 21.—That the democratic national committee will rally the selection of Judge Alton B. Parker of New York as temporary chairman of the democratic national convention was the statement made today by successful committee men who led the successful fight on the arrangement committee yesterday to name the former democratic presidential candidate for New York.

William Jennings Bryan will be here Sunday to lead the fight against Judge Parker. In the meantime friends of Mr. Bryan say they will canvass the national committee men as they arrive to ascertain the choice if the arrangement can be set aside by the full committee.

Both sides agree that the fight will be carried to the convention floor and that it will come a few minutes after the national Chairman Mack has called the convention to order next Tuesday.

Adherents of Judge Parker here state that the national committee has already been canvassed by them, and that it will oppose Mr. Bryan, as it did last winter when an attempt was made to unseat J. M. Guffy of Pennsylvania.

Members of the national committee following the leadership of Mr. Bryan, say the issue is simply progressive against conservatism, and assert that the first vote of the convention will show that the progressives are in control.

It was learned today that the New York delegation proposes to take no small interest in the making of the party platform, but until the arrival of the New York leaders national committee men here were not prepared to say what plank they desire incorporated in the platform.

The arrangement committee met again today to consider minor details in connection with the convention.

Tariff reform, election of United States

CONVENTION TAKES A RECESS

credentials committee seating the Taft delegates-at-large from Georgia.

Business was suspended at 5:50 to allow people desiring to do so to leave the hall.

About 6 p. m. it was said the session would continue until about 8 p. m., when adjournment would be taken until tomorrow.

The convention was called to order again at 6 p. m.

First Unanimous Vote.

The Georgia case was taken up. There being no minority report the delegates mittes caught up. A big voiced man in the gallery shouted:

"Roll the steam roller some more."

The Taft delegates in the Seventh Kentucky district were seated by a viva voce vote.

The Eighth Kentucky was next. The Eighth district delegates were seated for Taft.

Galleries Take Part.

The convention was in an uproarious humor. It seemed that the floor was voting "aye" and the galleries "no."

The "no" was continued into a roar, which Chairman Root interrupted with the gavel and the remark:

"Evidently there are delegates here who do not wish to go home Sunday."

The Taft delegates in the Fourth Louisiana were seated on a unanimous report.

The case of the Michigan delegates at large was the subject of two reports.

Calvin A. Palmer of Manistee was given five minutes to argue for the minority report.

Palmer said that only a broken leg had kept Governor Chase S. Osborn from this convention. "And if this kind of business is kept up," he added in reply to a taunt from Taft delegates, "the republican party will have a broken back."

John D. Mackay of Detroit answered Palmer, but was interrupted by noise. Senator Root went out to stop the noise.

"All aboard!" cried a man in the gallery. Mr. Root had to smile at the steam roller allusion.

The Michigan delegates were seated without a roll call.

Five policemen put out the man who said "All aboard." He waved his hat to the crowd as he passed out. A great uproar followed, under cover of which the convention was adjourned at 7:35 p. m. until 10 a. m. tomorrow.
