SIDE LIGHTS ON DELEGATES

Features of the Convention Not Noted in Official Record.

NO PLACE FOR THE FAT MAN

Various Forms of Exercise Indulged In by Notables Attract Attention of the Critical Observer.

BY ANTHONY M. WASTELING. CHICAGO, June 22.—(Special.)—The republican national convention... features of the convention not noted in the official record... various forms of exercise indulged in by notables attract attention of the critical observer.

There is one exception in the Nebraska delegation. There is no denying that J. P. Gibbons of Kearney is fat. Then there are those who may by the proper process of elimination be excepted or else classed as "medium"—J. E. Baum and John W. Towle, for example.

Because it is by no means a fat man's convention the show must be considered more as a demonstration of irrational calisthenics. Perhaps the chief exponent of this theory is Henry Allen of Kansas. They call him the whirlwind here. He is nothing of the sort, and as that implies a superfluity of wind it is unfair. Howbeit he has a sufficient supply of air. He really is the greatest living example, as far as I know, of a man who stammers with his hands and feet.

Allen represents one type of performers at the Coliseum. Of an entirely different type is Seneca Payne. He gesticulates, but it is only with the equatorial part of him, which rises and falls rhythmically, keeping time to the steady flow of his speech.

"Jimmy" Watson, floor leader in the house, conceded Mr. Payne ten minutes of his time in a twenty-minute debate, to lend the occasion more gravity. For Watson is himself a natural debater, an attractive speaker.

Elihu Root and Victor Rosewater are neither fat nor demonstrative, but cool, lucid speakers, willing to meet an opponent half way in a joust of mental gymnastics, but at no time during a convention when men have worked themselves into a fury of passion and vented themselves with bat-wavings and fist-shakings, have I seen them show excitement.

As chairmen they have been the only persons in a crowd of 1,000 who have not at one time or another rose up in their wrath and let loose their pent-up feelings.

Boss Bill Flinn of Pittsburgh has a reputation of getting what he wants and when he bucked the organization and threatened in the name of the Pennsylvania delegation to do dire things he lost much of his reputation and, with one exception, talked longer than he ever did before. When the convention hissed him, applauded or peremptorily ordered him to shut up, his jaw protruded a little further, his hand went up some higher, the distance between his feet widened and he stuck. He stuck until the roll call had gone on to other states and new troubles, and then he reluctantly gave up.

Arthur Brisbane says Governor Hadley has a face to make his mother proud. So chaste, so clean cut, so tense. The governor is a fine man physically, but he, too, has taken enthusiastically to the athletic exhibitions in the Coliseum. He exercises with his face. In critical moments holding his mouth slightly open, pulling down his eyebrows and suddenly whooping her up until the welkin rings. It is a good exercise, but the Missourian has displayed no tendency to take on avoiddupis this week.

The average man has "ingredients" to make fat for seven bars of soap, several ounces of sugar, lime to whiteness a chicken coop, sulphur to rid a dog of fleas, iron for a medium-sized nail, phosphorus to make 5,000 match tips and potassium to explode a toy cannon, says a writer in a current magazine. It is evident that many of the entrants at the Coliseum must go home bankrupt, for of all these things the majority have expended more than science credits them with possessing.

Secretary Meyer Has Typhoid Fever

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Secretary Meyer, who left Washington a week ago for his home at Hamilton, Mass., has developed typhoid fever. A message to that effect was received today at the Navy department. When the secretary left it was said he was suffering from stomach trouble.

ROOSEVELT IS NAMED BY GEORGIA WHITE LEAGUE

ATLANTA, Ga., June 22.—Theodore Roosevelt for president and Seaborn Wright of Georgia for vice president were named by the Roosevelt Georgia White League today as the ticket for a national progressive party in the coming campaign. At the meeting of the officers and directors of the league a resolution also was adopted denouncing the "dishonest methods of the republican machine" supporting President Taft at Chicago and calling for the immediate organization of another political party.

Midland Dry for Year.

PIERRE, S. D., June 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Judge Hughes, in Stanley county circuit court, today, held that the petition was deficient on account a liquor license election was held in Midland, and that the town is dry for a year. The petition appeared to have been signed by people not fresholders.

Alleged Murderer of Gus Kraft in South Dakota is Arrested

MITCHELL, S. D., June 21.—(Special.)—Charles Gentry has been apprehended at Mankato, Minn., charged with the murder of Gus Kraft, which happened nearly a year ago in Sanborn county, a short distance east of Woonsocket. Sheriff McKay got the permission of the county commissioners to take the trip to Mankato to identify the man, and from the description received Gentry is the man wanted for the murder. The sheriff took two men from Crocker, S. D., along with him to make the identification complete, and will bring the man back to Woonsocket.

Gentry and Kraft started from Crocker to make the trip by team, going eventually to some point in Nebraska or Kansas. The team passed through Woonsocket and two days afterward the body of Kraft was found in the edge of a small grove on a farm a short distance from the town. The murder had been committed with a shotgun, and a portion of the head was shot away. Sheriff McKay took up the pursuit of Gentry, and traced him as far as a point in southern Nebraska, where the train was lost. The country around there was flooded with a fairly good description of Gentry, and the Mankato authorities for the past three months have watched the actions of Gentry, finally making the arrest. He was charged with being the murderer of Kraft, and at the mention of the name, the prisoner gave evidence of weakness, but finally stood his ground that he was not the man wanted.

Flight High Freight Rates. The Iowa Railroad commission will join with similar commissions in South Dakota and Minnesota to prevent a threatened increase in freight rates between Iowa and points in the other two states. The railroads have announced a general increase in the rates in use in the three states. Judge Henderson, commerce counsel of the state, will represent the Iowa commission in the trial of the case. It will be held early in the fall.

Illinois Woman Suffragists Are for President Taft

CHICAGO, June 22.—Mrs. Charles Blaney and Mrs. Florence Collins Porters, delegates from California to the republican national convention, attempted unsuccessfully last night to storm the headquarters of the Illinois Equal Suffrage league for Colonel Roosevelt.

"Why is it that the women of Illinois are not favorable to Colonel Roosevelt?" asked Mrs. Blaney, in pleading the cause of the ex-president. There are two large independent concerns in Iowa and both will receive benefit from the change.

"He has declared himself for equal suffrage and he is the logical man to push through our cause," Mrs. W. B. Owen, a Chicago suffragist, spoke for President Taft, asserting that he had long been friendly to the cause.

"Roosevelt now is in favor of our voting," said Mrs. Owen, "but this is in the heat of a campaign and we are in doubt about his sincerity. President Taft is and has been for us, and I think Illinois suffragists had better pin their faith in him."

Minor Aspirants Have Nothing to Say

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, and Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, both presidential aspirants, spent the evening with their ears to telephones, eager for news from the scene of battle on the floor of the Chicago convention.

Senator La Follette refused to make any statement regarding the political situation. "You know," said the senator, "I have spent ten months in writing an autobiography. It is finished except for the last chapter. I was waiting the outcome of this convention, and now that it is over I may go ahead and finish my work. This last chapter will include the fight of the progressive republican voters whom I have had the honor of representing and will outline the convention just closed at Chicago."

"If you will notice what few delegates I did have supported me to the very last. Never once was there a cry of wavering in our camp and I thank them all for their support."

"As to having my eye on the next presidential campaign four years from now," said the senator, "I have the weighty business of writing a biography of my life now, so for a time politics would not interest me."

Immediately after the news of President Taft's nomination sped over the wires, Senator Cummins hung up his receiver and went to bed. He had no statement to give out and had nothing to say regarding the outcome of the convention.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, June 22.—(Special Telegram.)—The state department of justice will take an active stand in ferreting out the perpetrator of the Villisca tragedy. Infected Cows Sent In. The state veterinary department is investigating the shipment into the state from Illinois of a number of dairy cows, which are believed to be afflicted with tuberculosis. The cows were from a shipper by the name of Dorsey and out of forty-five, twenty-two were killed and found to have tuberculosis. The cows killed belonged to a dairyman near Corydon, who declared he had bought them from the Illinois dealer.

Glucose Rate is Changed. Assistant Attorney General Robbins has received word of the decision of the Interstate Commerce commission on the Iowa glucose rate case. The suit was argued to the commission some time ago in an effort to secure a change in the rate from Iowa points to the Atlantic seaboard so as to eliminate the advantage which the trust concerns have in this rate because of better location. The decision gives the relief desired, though not as complete as sought. There are two large independent concerns in Iowa and both will receive benefit from the change.

Parole for Missouri Boy. Virgil Crow, a boy of 16, was released from prison in Iowa this week on order of the board of parole, after serving a year for assault with intent to commit murder. He was convicted in Cerro Gordo county. He was there from Missouri on a visit to his brother and got into an altercation with an older man, who abused him very much, and later a fist fight followed, in which young Crow used a pocket knife and inflicted some damage on his assailant.

PERSONAL DAMAGE SUITS ON TRIAL IN NEBRASKA CITY

NEBRASKA CITY, Neb., June 22.—(Special.)—In the district court a jury and the court have been wrestling with the personal damage suit of Hobert against the Missouri Pacific railway for the last three days and the jury, after being out all night, brought in a verdict for the railway company. This was a suit where a man who was a passenger on one of its trains claims to have been thrown across the car and injured while the coaches were being switched either here or Union, he could not state, and he was unconscious until he reached Kansas City.

The court and the jury have taken up the case of Schwappé against Uhl and others. It is a personal injury case, where the plaintiff claims his team was frightened by reason of the plaintiff passing in an automobile. The team ran away and he was injured. The defendants were out boasting the town of Talmage and making a tour of the county and the accident happened near Syracuse. The plaintiff asks for a large sum of money.
