

NEBRASKA STANDS BY BRYAN

Delegation Stays with Him in Fight for Temporary Chairman.

SENATOR HITCHCOCK "ROLLED"

Is One of the Lonely Three to Oppose the Fearless Leader—Majority of Ten on Delegation Against Him.

BY EDGAR C. SNYDER.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 25.—(Special Telegram.)—W. J. Bryan did not hesitate to tell the Nebraska delegation at its session last night assembled for the purpose of selecting the various representatives for places on resolutions, credentials, rules, order of business and so forth, that the most vital thing at this time was that the Nebraska delegation should go on record for temporary chairman; that some progressive democrat should be elected for that office; that there should be no retreat from democracy position taken a score and a half years ago; and that the state could not afford to have its position misunderstood.

Bryan did not hesitate to tell the Nebraska delegation at its session tonight, assembled for the purpose of selecting the various representatives for places on resolutions, credentials, rules, order of business and so forth, that the most vital thing at this time was, that the Nebraska delegation should go on record for temporary chairman; that some progressive democrat should be elected for that office; that there should be no retreat from democracy's position taken a score and a half years ago; and that the state could not afford to have its position misunderstood.

Hitchcock for Compromise.
Senator Hitchcock, smooth and smiling, gave it as his opinion that any expression was really out of order; for after all, it was purely an individual opinion and not binding on the members of the delegation. He was opposed to any expression, not because he was for Parker, but because he thought the whole fight might be dropped before noon tomorrow and some other name presented.

Mr. Bryan, looking fit for a fight or a frolic, remarked that Kentucky in its delegation meeting today had voted for Parker, that Wisconsin and Kansas and Minnesota among other states had voted against Parker, and he thought Nebraska could do no more than go on record, even though it was not binding on delegates.

"It is only an expression that I want," said Mr. Bryan.

Senator Hitchcock, with memories of a steam roller, demanded that the delegates go on record whether they would support Parker or a progressive and the way they rolled the Omaha editor was a plenty.

Roller Hits Senator.
By a vote of 13 to 3 the delegation decided that they would support a progressive candidate in the event Judge Parker's name is presented, and if it is not, they would be on record anyhow.

The three who voted against pledging the delegation on the motion of Mr. Bryan were Messrs. Hitchcock, McShane and Kelly.

With this very important matter out of the way, so important that Mr. Bryan said tonight he would take the temporary chairmanship in open session, and the Nebraska delegation proceeded to ratify a cut and dried program as follows:

Chairman of Delegation—George L. Loomis.
Resolutions—W. J. Bryan.
Credentials—Matt Miller.
Rules—J. J. Dunn.
Vice Chairman—G. M. Hitchcock.
Permanent Organization—A. S. Tibbets.
To Notify President—C. J. Smyth.
To Notify Vice President—P. W. Shea.

In passing it may be said for the Nebraska democrats they seem rolled Senator Hitchcock in open session, and yet, while he did not like it, he smilingly remarked that he could not have expected anything else in view of the composition of the delegation.

Delegation Determined.
The discussion on Mr. Bryan's proposition as temporary chairman brought out the views of Tibbets, Dunn and Miller, who were emphatic in their declaration that failure to take a stand upon so vital a question would be little less than a crime; that Nebraska was not afraid to speak out way back yonder in 1868, and therefore it ought not to be afraid to speak out now. Judge Tibbets offered it as his opinion that the issue was vital and to shrink responsibility was cowardice.

Not unemphatic were the views of I. J. Dunn, who did not mince words when he remarked that the issues were well defined and that the Nebraska delegation could not afford to be behind its sister states in recording itself along progressive lines.

Half a hundred people were present at the meeting of the delegation.

Give Bryan Chance.
"They are going to put the kibosh on Bryan" was a familiar expression heard about reactionary headquarters, and yet to the "Looker on in Vienna" it seems a most unusual way to go about it when they are giving Bryan the opportunity he has prayed for, to go before the convention and place in nomination in all probability Senator Kern of Indiana to make the fight for the progressives as temporary chairman.

The fight on temporary chairman suggests in many ways the fight made in the republican convention in Chicago against Elihu Root. It bears an intimate relation to the general proposition and Bryan has come to Baltimore to have his way or know the reason why.

"There will be no compromises. If the national committee suggests Judge Parker, we will oppose him; not on account of personality, but because of principle." And they go to the mat tomorrow.

Commoner's Family Near.
With Mr. Bryan in attendance upon the convention are Mrs. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hargreaves, son-in-law and daughter, W. J. Bryan, Jr., C. W. Bryan, a brother of the Commoner and T. S. Allen, a brother-in-law.

ing" badge, the only one from Nebraska possibly from this section.

Mayor Jim Arrives.
Jim Dahlman did not bring his lasso with him on this occasion. Mayor Jim Dahlman is in town with a bunch of splendid "Dimmycrats" from Omaha, among them being Charley Fanning, Sheriff F. J. McShane, Louis J. Piatti, Claude F. Bossie, John H. Reagan, Michael Reagan, B. J. McArdle, Vincent McDonough, Paul Steinwender, Phillip Smith, Dave Rowden, W. A. Doty, members of the Dahlman club of Omaha.

C. J. Smyth, delegate from the Second district, is the only one of the delegation not here and he is expected tomorrow. His alternate, Herbert Daniels, voted in his place at the meeting today.

Nebraskans Registered.
Among the alternates who registered today at the headquarters are: Lem Tibbets, Hastings; O. W. Palm, Lincoln; C. E. Bowby, Friend; H. H. Bellwood, Alliance; W. E. Ewing, Franklin; P. W. Shea, Orleans; F. S. Allen, Omaha; W. D. Wheeler, Plattsmouth; J. R. Dean, Broken Bow; Judge Hollenbeck and wife of Fremont; Sam Hudson and daughter, Lincoln; William Glover and wife, Aurora; Victor Wilson and wife, Stromsburg; Frank T. Swanson and wife, Clay Center. The latter were recently married in Omaha and are taking in the democratic convention on their wedding tour.

Senator Placek of Wahoo is here to see the fun, as is Pat Walsh of McCook, E. Hall of Petersburg, J. B. Coffman of Adams and J. C. Cotes.

Loas Trimmers and Cash.
E. B. Woods of York will not hang his trousers near the window of a sleeping car hereafter. While the Burlington special was speeding east, carrying the Nebraska contingent to the convention, Woods, who is a well known clothier in York, retired, hanging his trousers on a hook near the window. During the night somebody cut the screen while the York man was asleep and quietly abstracted the trousers through the rent in the wire netting, taking with the pants a handsome gold watch and about $150. Luckily Mr. Woods had another pair of pants on with him, otherwise a barrel would have had to be used during the stop in Chicago.

BRYAN LOSES FIRST ROUND

There were not more than fifty spectators on hand.

Cardinal Gibbons entered the hall at 11:45, accompanied by Chairman Robert Crain of the local committee and a number of convention officials.

Popular southern airs, culminating with Dixie, brought out frequent bursts from the throng, who waited impatiently for the arrival of the conspicuous figures.

Convention officials began taking their places on the platform a few minutes before noon. The floor of the convention hall was now well filled with delegations, but some of the notable ones, New Jersey, Missouri and Nebraska, had not arrived.

Bryan Keeps Out of Sight.
Bryan slipped into the convention hall by one of the side entrances and was on the platform some minutes without being recognized by the waiting throng. He shook hands with Cardinal Gibbons, who was waiting to pronounce the opening invocation. Bryan continued to screen himself from the crowd and few knew he was present.

As the noon hour approached the hall filled rapidly. A band played popular airs and was greatly applauded.

The first wave of applause came when the Texas delegation entered, waving a Wilson banner.

Chairman Mack called the convention to order at 12:15 p. m., and practically quieted the uneasy and noisy throng.

Judge Parker entered the convention hall just after proceedings had opened, accompanied by the New York delegation. There was little demonstration.

Continued disorder delayed the opening proceedings and Chairman Mack appealed to delegates to take their seats and clear the aisles. A Texas delegate with stentorian voice shouted to Chairman Mack that the delegates were still in line outside the hall and that the convention should not proceed until they could get in.

At 12:30 practically all the delegates were in place, and appeals were again made for order.

form while wave after wave of tumultuous cheering swept over the hall. He motioned for silence, but the cheering kept up.

Bryan Nominates Kern.
Bryan finally secured quiet and began speaking, placing in nomination for temporary chairman Senator Kern of Indiana. The delegates rose, cheered and swung their hats.

Bryan spoke slowly, his words being punctuated with cheers. "If any of you ask for my credentials," he said, "I beg to tell you that in three campaigns I have been the champion of the democratic party's principles, and in three campaigns have received the votes of six and one-half million democrats."

"Tumultuous cheering."
"Has anyone sought harmony more than I?" asked Bryan.

"No, no," came from all over the hall. Bryan said he had urged the national committee to consult the candidates, particularly the two leading candidates, but without avail.

The friends of Wilson had united with those of Clark in favor of a candidate for temporary chairman, continued Bryan, and had been turned down by the national committee.

"The song of victory should be sung by one whose heart has been in the fight," was one of Bryan's stirring phrases.

Cries for Parker.
"What better man could we find than Kern?" exclaimed Mr. Bryan.

"Parker," came shouts in reply, mingled with "Kern."

Bryan had spoken twenty-two minutes when there were demonstrative interruptions from the galleries with cries of "Parker."

Bryan's stirring sentences still had the crowds cheering again. "We are writing history today," he exclaimed, "the country is waiting to hear whether this convention will follow Chicago in listening to the voice of predatory wealth."

Bryan said the people had not forgotten the promise of campaign funds from Wall street, eight years ago.

After Bryan had spoken thirty-six minutes there was another outburst of "Parker" shouts from the galleries.

Bryan closed at 1:28, amid tumultuous cheers after speaking forty minutes.

Senator Kern took the platform as Bryan closed, and was mildly cheered. Kern said he wished to take no action which would prejudice Indiana's candidate for the presidency, Governor Marshall.

"I believe that Judge Parker is as earnestly desirous of democratic success this year as I am," continued Mr. Kern, amid shouts of "Parker" greeted the announcement.

Mr. Kern appealed to Parker to unite with him in the support of Senator O'Govern of New York, Senator Culberson of Texas; Representative Clayton of Alabama, or one of a number of others he designated. Representative Fitzgerald of Brooklyn, in behalf of Judge Parker, made his way toward the platform.

Kern, continuing, protested against adverse cries of Bryan, exclaiming that jeers for the old leader meant, not democratic homicide, but suicide.

"If the appeals for harmony did not avail," exclaimed Kern, then the democrats must turn to the acknowledged leader, and that leader must be William J. Bryan.

Good faith and commercial ethics—(Yes there is such a thing, but nowadays you need a diogenes, with a lantern to find it.)—prevents publication of name—we'll tell you at the counter, and we'll submit the proof of genuineness too.

Over 2,000 yards all told to sell at 59 cents per yard—positively the biggest silk value of this year.

Thomas Kilpatrick & Co.

The roll call on selection of temporary chairmanship began at 2:40.

DEATH RECORD.
Stephen Hulfish.
PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—Stephen Hulfish, who thirty-two years ago assisted in laying out the village of Wabash, in this county, died at his home in that village this morning after an illness of more than a year. Mr. Hulfish was born in Philadelphia, Pa., April 24, 1840, where he grew to manhood and moved to Owensville, Ind., where he engaged in the boot and shoe business. He was married to Miss Kate Storton, March 31, 1863, who died, leaving two children, William Hulfish and Mrs. Charles Hites, both of this county. He was married a second time to Miss Anna Wotrell, and to this union three children were born, namely, Mrs. Myrtle Parmenter of Yutan, Charles T. of Lincoln and Frank of Wabash.

Mr. Hulfish has been in the mercantile business in Wabash since the town was organized, was postmaster under Grover Cleveland and for many years after. His widow, with the above named children and one brother, residing in Owensville, Ind., survive him. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist church in Wabash, and will be under the auspices of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

J. C. Dietrick.
YORK, Neb., June 25.—(Special.)—Monday morning at 11 o'clock Joseph C. Dietrick died, aged 71 years. He homesteaded a piece of land four miles west of York about forty years ago. The funeral will be held at Council church, near Charleston, Tuesday afternoon.

Colonel Roosevelt Back in New York
NEW YORK, June 25.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt reached New York on the Twentieth Century Limited at 9:40 o'clock this morning. He went directly to his editorial offices and will go to Oyster Bay this afternoon. He said he would have no statement to give out today, but added that probably within a week there would be a conference in New York with members of the committee selected to conduct his third party campaign.

Accompanying Mr. Roosevelt were Mrs. Roosevelt, Frank Munsey, E. A. Van

Valkenberg of Philadelphia, former Governor Regis Post of Porto Rico and members of the Outlook staff.

DUPLICATE OF DRAFT THAT SANK WITH THE TITANIC
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., June 25.—(Special.)—A day or two ago W. Y. Means, in the vicinity of Ree Heights, received a duplicate draft for about $30 from the Bank of Scotland. The original draft was mailed from Scotland in time for the letter containing it to be taken aboard the Titanic with other mail just before the steamer sailed. After a great deal of "red tape" proceedings the officials of the bank on the other side of the ocean were convinced of the loss of the draft, and issued a duplicate for the amount.

Now that You Have Decided to Go to COLORADO, Let us tell You How to Get There!

Let us match the wonders of these glorious mountains with a wonderful trip. Let us give you a cool ride to your cool vacation. Let us match your days of luxury with a trip of luxury. Let us start your vacation for you when you start—not when you get there.

There are five routes that take you to Colorado, but

UNION PACIFIC
The Hundred-Million-Dollar Road of Luxury

is still the only route. For it costs no more than any of the ordinary ways.

Now, let us see what it gives you in return:
The Union Pacific is a double-tracked road—the trains all run one way.

It is guarded with Automatic Electric Block Safety Signals. Its roadbed is the finest in the world. It is ballasted with dustless Sherman gravel. The very pebbles are laid by hand like a great mosaic, both sides of the way. This means cool cars, like open carriages, both night and day.

It is the oldest road, and so its courtesy is best. Many of its attendants have grown gray in the one service.

It is the smoothest road. It is laid with ninety-pound steel rails and its powerful engines glide along like purring dynamos.

It will actually put you in Colorado tomorrow night—a trip that took your fathers months to make before this railroad came.

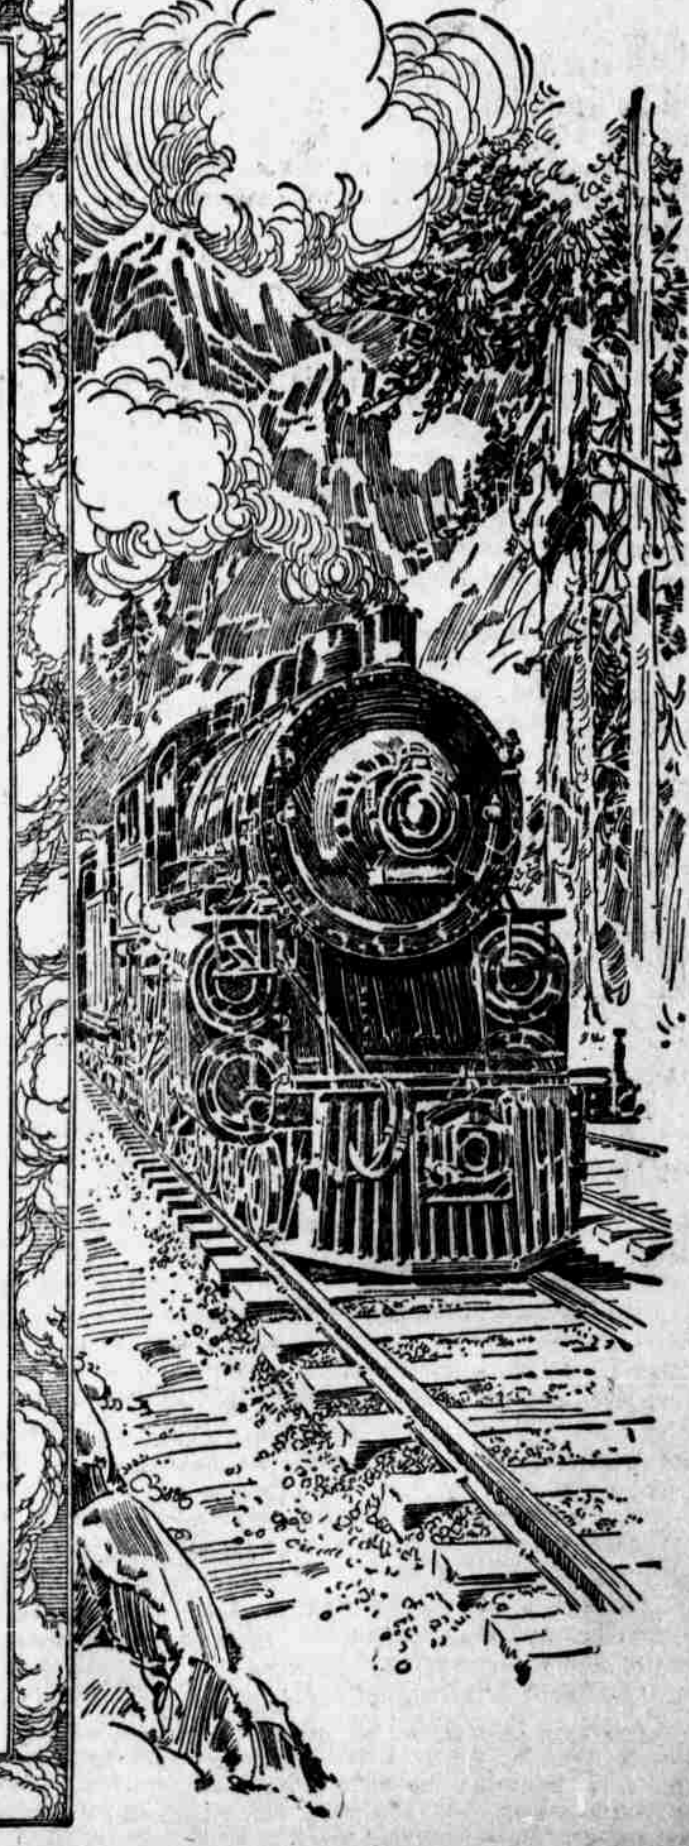

It is both pioneer and leader of the railroad world. And this hundred-million-dollar road of luxury costs you no more than the ordinary way. Which of the five routes do you think you will take?

$17.50 FROM OMAHA AND RETURN

The Union Pacific—Standard Road of the West—is the new and direct route to Yellowstone National Park. Ask us about our personally escorted tours to Colorado and Yellowstone National Park.

When He Courted You

He didn't complain if you were a little despondent or irritable at times. Now he does. He's the same man. He didn't understand then. He doesn't now. Then he thought it was caprice and liked it. Now he thinks it is caprice and doesn't like it. But now he's busy getting money.

If he realized the full truth he would be more than anxious to have the wife he loves take the right remedy to restore her to true womanly health. Most men don't know that when a woman is weak, nervous, irritable and despondent, there is invariably something radically wrong with the delicate feminine organs with which her entire physique is in sensitive sympathy.

There is one, and just one remedy, tried and proven, that will put things right when the feminine organism is weak or diseased. It is

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This medicine restores perfect health to the weakened organs, and makes them strong.

It makes wifehood happy, and motherhood easy. It makes child-birth short and almost painless. It helps to make real "new women." An honest druggist won't urge upon you a substitute.

This "Favorite Prescription" is a pure glyceric extract of native medicinal roots and contains no alcohol, injurious or habit-forming drugs. A full list of its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper and attested as full and correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Easy to take as candy.
