

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE

FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER... VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR... BEE BUILDING, FARNAM AND 17TH...

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION... Sunday Bee, one year, $2.00... Daily Bee, one year, $1.50...

REMITTANCES... Remit by draft, express or postal order, payable to The Bee Publishing Company...

OFFICES... Omaha—The Bee Building... South Omaha—218 N. St. Council Bluffs—78 South St. Lincoln—315 Little Building...

CORRESPONDENCE... Communications relating to news and editorial matter should be addressed Omaha Bee, Editorial Department.

MAY CIRCULATION... 50,421

State of Nebraska, County of Douglas, ss. Dwight Williams, circulation manager of The Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, says that the average daily circulation for the month of May, 1912, was 50,421.

Subscribed in my presence and sworn to before me this 26th day of June, 1912. ROBERT GUNTER, Notary Public.

Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

Oh, November will be much cooler than June.

No crow can safely venture in the vicinity of Baltimore just now.

Abraham Lincoln will now be allowed to rest for a while, perhaps.

In the meantime, did you ever know of more ideal June weather?

Our esteemed ball club seems to think it is wrong to win games on the home grounds.

Now Senator Hitchcock knows how that Grand Island steam roller must have crushed Colonel Bryan.

An overwhelming demand for a "cheerful loser" threatens to go unsatisfied.

Mr. Taft, good son, takes the nomination seriously.—Chicago Tribune.

And, so, evidently, does Colonel Roosevelt.

Kicking about the size of the Chicago hotel bill is an ungracious act, considering what a superior run the visitors got for the money.

"Army aviator is hurt in test flight," says a news item. It would be real news if the report stated that the aviator was not hurt.

Missouri delegates to Baltimore are said to be carrying their lunches in hat boxes to beat the high hotel rates. Their hats are in the ring.

After sixteen years of persistent training there is no occasion for surprise if democratic delegates take the nourishment Colonel Bryan supplies.

Mr. Bryan walks through the streets of Baltimore to the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland," singing to his progressive hosts, "Thou wilt not cover in the dust."

Milwaukee physicians will promote a bill before the next Wisconsin legislature to prohibit kissing. That will add another erstwhile act of chivalry to the list of statutory crimes.

Jenkin Lloyd Jones desires to abolish the senate. Let's see, Congressman Berger, the Wisconsin socialist, introduced a bill providing for that very thing, if we remember correctly.

In one week in June 208 men were admitted to practice law in Ohio. A hot campaign impends and an infusion of young lungs checkmates a threatened shrinkage in volume of sound.

The eclipse of the June bridegroom as a ceremonial attraction has a pathetic companion piece in the shameful rudeness of political high winds which smothered the June bride in the back pages.

An inspection of the wreck of promise and ruin of hope in Chicago, convinces Tim Woodruff of New York that the country is done for. The jolt caused by picking the wrong band wagon usually upsets the optic and other nerves.

The patient New York Sun goes to the trouble of quoting campaign statistics to prove that our Mr. Bryan does not measure up to the dictator size. How is it that he has been a dictator for sixteen years, then?

No doubt the great, warm heart of the plain people will throb with joy at the spectacle of the Steel trust boldly opposing an advance in the price of steel rails. Beef and breakfast food, pork and poached eggs may sail into the clouds, but the plain people can have steel rail three times a day at the same old price. Cheer up.

Winners and Losers.

In every political battle there must be losers as well as winners. Unfortunately it is hard to make the losers realize that the conditions would be reversed if the outcome had been the other way.

The Labor Leaders' Case.

It seems unfortunate that the case against Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, executive officers of the American Federation of Labor, should have been permitted to drag so long in the courts without final determination.

Good Hot Weather Advice.

The Bee is presenting on this page for a few days some very pertinent and valuable information as to the care of the person and the home during hot weather.

The South Still Conservative.

The south has always voted for Bryan and probably will again if he is the nominee of the democratic party, but the south has never really been Bryan or radical in its political predilections.

Dehorned Cows and Disarmament.

Jenkin Lloyd Jones resorts to the bucolic illustration of dehorned cows to prove the working wisdom and effectiveness of disarmament.

CARE OF THE BABY IN HOT WEATHER.

By R. W. Connell, Health Commissioner.

(By Request.)

This is one of the most important things for the mother to know. Much has been written and many talks given on this subject and yet how many of those who care for these little tots seem wholly ignorant and careless as to what should be done in caring for them.

The most important factor at any time, and especially in hot weather, is the food. I will not attempt to discuss the different artificial foods for infants, as each individual case must be regulated by the attending physician when necessary.

There are some rules adaptable to all cases of artificially fed babies. Be regular in your feeding. (This applies to breast as well as artificial feeding.) Always prepare the food fresh at each feeding.

Give the baby a tub bath every morning at a regular time, one hour after eating. The temperature of the water should be about 90 to 91 degrees Fahrenheit.

GOSSIP ABOUT ARMY AFFAIRS

Trend of Events Outlined by Army and Navy Register.

Surgeons' Quarters. An interesting question has arisen in the War department concerning the right of a medical officer, attached to one of the army transports, to receive commutation of quarters, and the comptroller has been called on to render a decision.

Standardizing the Flag. A board representing the executive departments of the government has made a report concerning the standardization of the American flag.

EDITORIAL SNAPSHOTS.

Philadelphia Record: The consumer finds Jordan a hard road to travel in whatever way he has to deal with the ratemakers.

New York Sun: Governor Simeon Ebsen Baldwin's walk of nine miles on a dusty turnpike after receiving the degree of Doctor of Laws from Wesleyan on Thursday was an admirable performance for a presidential candidate who is 54 years of age.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: The world needs good losers. It is ready to pay homage to the man or woman who, being defeated, accepts the verdict gracefully.

Chicago Record-Herald: Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist champion, has been indicted for smuggling a diamond necklace through the New York custom house, but the federal authorities have kindly consented to permit him to remain in New Mexico for the purpose of engaging in a fistful encounter on the glorious Fourth.

St. Louis City Journal: On the morning of the first day of the convention Contributing Reporter Bryan began his story with the quotation, "Just before the battle, mother." This would have meant a quick finish for any cub reporter, but the contributing reporter, who is drawing about $300 a day, slipped it over neatly and gracefully, and the man with the blue pencil had to pretend to like it.

Army General Officers. Speculation continues to be applied concerning the appointment of a major general and three brigadier generals, which places have been vacant for

Looking Backward

This Day in Omaha

COMPILED FROM BEE FILES

JUNE 26.

Thirty Years Ago—

The funeral of little Katie McNamara, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. McNamara, had to be postponed by yesterday's storm, taking place later in the day.

Twenty Years Ago—

The press club met at the World-Herald office and took steps toward entertaining the newspaper men coming to the National People's Party convention.

Ten Years Ago—

The Board of Equalization and Assessment raised the fourteen principal jobbing houses a total of $13,240 over their assessment of the year before.

GRINS AND GROANS.

"My boy, you will have to learn that you never can get anything without working for it."

"You're always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

"You are always reaching for something you can't afford."

"Oh, yes, you can, pa. I had something yesterday that I didn't work for."

"What? I'd like to know."

"The stomach ache."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"I had some business dealings with a man lately whom I found ready to chisel the very eyes out of my head."

"I suppose you broke off all dealings with him?"

"Not at all. He was a sculptor making a bust of me."—Baltimore American.

as good as yours. My great-grandfather was in the battle of Gettysburg.

"Second child.—That's nothing. My grandfather was in Chicago in 1912."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Judge, I ain't no vagrant. I'm in hard luck now, but I've seen better days."

"But this officer says you have been arrested repeatedly."

"He must be alluding to the times when I owned me own automobile."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A SAVING GRACE.

Detroit Free Press. I may have done things that I shouldn't.

"My faults I most freely admit. Perhaps I have done things that you wouldn't."

By folly I'm frequently hit.

I've bought shirts with monograms on 'em.

For a green hat one summer I fell; I've worn hats with furs thick upon 'em.

Because the clerk said they were swell.

I don't claim to class above normal.

I'm garden-variety day.

I've never been overly formal.

In many respects I'm a jay.

I've tried to beat four kings by betting.

My stack on a lone pair of threes.

I've a faculty, somehow, for getting.

In wrong on occasions like these.

Oh, much that I've done I've regretted.

I once tried to paper a wall.

One day a strange bulldog I petted.

I've always been ready to fall.

But I've gone my way merrily ever.

And paid for my follies and wrongs.

Because in campaign times I never

Have written political songs.

Enough for a family of six in a 5c package. A delightful, nourishing dish at little cost. Give your family a dish of Macaroni often—they'll enjoy it—it's good for them—full of wholesome nourishment—and it costs so little. But be sure you serve FAUST BRAND Cut Macaroni. Made from rich Durum wheat in a sanitary factory under the strictest of pure food regulations. Faust Brand Macaroni is cut in uniform pieces so it cooks evenly—it can't become soggy with water as the long pieces so often do. Get a 5c package from your grocer and give the family a treat. Would you like a copy of our book of recipes? Sent free on request. MAULL BROS. St. Louis, Mo.

Colorado! Riding is Riding in Colorado. Mountain trails that wind for miles. Oh, the glory of a canter in the dawn—up the fir-crowned slopes—under the dew-jeweled firs—clear to the peaks! Below in the distance are stretching the vast purple ranges. The cloud-washed air tingles on your cheek and sends the blood laughing to your heart. That's life! There's golf, too, and trout fishing. How does it sound to you as you sit this morning hoping for a stray wisp of air, still drugged with the sleep that brought no rest? Pack up—you've waited too long! Can't you hear the Rockies calling? Low round trip fares make the cost trifling. Any way of going to Colorado is a good way, because it gets you to Colorado. But the luxury of perfect service is found on the electric lighted limited trains of the Rock Island Lines. Daily to Denver, Colorado Springs and Pueblo. THE ROCKY MOUNTAIN LIMITED. Night Train de Luxe. Leaves Omaha 10:47 p. m. Arrives Denver 1 p. m. Colorado Springs 12:55 Every Day. Pueblo 3:10 p. m. Sleeper on track at Union Station ready for occupancy 9:30 p. m. THE COLORADO-CALIFORNIA EXPRESS. Leaves Omaha 1:25 p. m. Arrives Denver 7:15 a. m. Colorado Springs 7:15 Every Day. Pueblo 9:05 a. m. TWO TRAINS WHICH MAKE THE JOURNEY A JOY. Get our free booklets and particulars of low fares today. Now is the time. J. S. McNALLY Division Passenger Agent 1322 Farnam St. Omaha, Neb. DRS. MACH & MACH. Expert dentistry at moderate prices—all work in charge of experts. Only sterilized instruments used. Porcelain fillings just like the teeth. Most modernly equipped office in Omaha. THIRD FLOOR, FAYTON BLOCK Corner 16th and Farnam Sts.