Hardly a day passes but we are told by some appreciative customer that they enjoy coming here because of our sane merchandising methods.

We return the compliment because it is a source of gratification to us to have our efforts appreciated. Its really simple, however, when buyers who want high class merchandise meet those who have it to sell; there's bound to be mutual satisfaction—and that is why our business grows.

Newton Girl is Kidnaped by Mother

NEWTON, Ia., June 26.—(Special.)—While his grandparents were at Albion, near here, attending the funeral of Mrs. Gibford's father, L. F. Rothrock, Mr. and Mrs. Gibford's granddaughter, Mildred Gibford, aged 4 years, was kidnaped from their home in Newton by her mother, Mrs. Meda Bowman-Gibford. The child was taken by its mother from the lawn of the grandparents' home, and with the assistance of a man friend, who was with her the child was whisked away in an automobile. The mother and father of the child have separated and recently the father applied in a Newton court for a divorce. Very recently the petition was dismissed. The grandmother, who has been keeping the child, arranged to have the funeral of her father held this morning, earlier than it was intended that she might hasten to Newton with it today to take steps to recover the child. It is believed the little girl was taken to Des Moines.

Doctors' Boyish Face Reveals Skin Renewer

I heard the other day of the physician with so admirable skin that all his women patients asked the secret. He told me, who generously told others, that knowing the remarkable absorbent property of ordinary mercurized wax, he concluded this substance would make an excellent complexion renewer and preserver. Knowing this he could not harm the skin, he began using it after shaving. He soon observed that the old, withered colorless cuticle was being gradually absorbed and replaced by younger, healthier skin. This was the simple secret of the silver-hatred doctor with the boyish face.

DARK HORSE TALK IS HEARD

New York Delegation Decides to Cast Its Vote for Gaynor.

KERN AMONG THE POSSIBILITIES

Friends of Governor Foss of Massachusetts Try to Start a Boom to Help Him Along in the Race.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Dark horse talk was more general today about the convention than at any time. This was partly due to the fact that the New York delegation has determined to vote for Mayor William J. Gaynor on the first ballot. The evident purpose of this is to get a test on the first ballot, though some said it showed he would be boomed for second place.

With the nominating sessions expected to be held tomorrow, presidential gossip filled the air. It seems to be admitted by all that Chas. Clark will go into the convention with a distinct advantage over all the other candidates.

ATTORNEY LEHMAN QUITS JOB

Resignation of Solicitor General in Hands of President Taft.

RETURNS TO PRACTICE OF LAW

William Marshall Bullitt of Kentucky Said to Be Considered Available as Successor.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Frederick W. Lehmann, solicitor general of the United States has placed his resignation in the hands of President Taft. It is not known that the resignation has been formally accepted, but it is known that his successor has been practically chosen.

Mr. Lehmann is a democrat, has been prominently mentioned for a place on the supreme court bench and has been regarded by many as a bidder for the attorney generalship if a democratic administration should come into power. It is known that Mr. Lehmann resigned against the vigorous protests of Attorney General Wickersham, who was insistent that the solicitor general should retain his office at least until next spring, but Mr. Lehmann could not be persuaded. His plans are not known though some of his friends believe he may become active in politics in the coming campaign.

Today Mr. Lehmann absolutely refused to discuss his resignation. He probably will return to his home in St. Louis where he was practicing law when President Taft appointed him to succeed the late Lloyd W. Bowers.

Mr. Lehmann completed the corporation tax case successfully in the supreme court after Mr. Bowers' death and bore a large part of the preliminary work in the preparation of the government's suit against the steel corporation. He prepared the opinion upon which the National City company of New York proposed as a giant holding company of banks, decided to change its plans to meet the approval of the government.

William Marshall Bullitt of Louisville, Ky., is said to be under consideration by President Taft as a successor to Mr. Lehmann. Some officials here regard it as settled that the place has been offered to Mr. Bullitt and that he has accepted. It had not been decided when Mr. Lehmann's resignation is to become effective. Later today official announcement of Mr. Lehmann's resignation was made. Copies of his letter to President Taft relinquishing his office and President Taft's acceptance were made public at the Department of Justice. Mr. Lehmann's letter says he leaves his office to care for his personal affairs.

Suffragette Who is Militant Meets the King and Queen

CARDIFF, Wales, June 26.—King George and Queen Mary, who are making a tour of South Wales, were brought face to face with suffragette militancy this afternoon when a suffragette broke through the police cordon and sprang at Reginald McKenna, the cabinet minister, in attendance on their majesties.

The king and queen were proceeding to the cathedral at Llandaff when a woman, Helen Craig, muttering threats against cabinet ministers enjoying a tour of the country while women were starving in prison, hurled herself upon the home secretary. Simultaneously with her attack upon Mr. McKenna, the woman shouted an appeal to the queen to help the suffragettes.

The woman was promptly dragged away by the police and lodged in jail.

THAW ON WITNESS STAND

Seeks to Prove His Sanity and Secure His Release from Mattewan.

ANSWERS QUESTION OF JEROME

Insists that the Attorney for the State is Serving Private Interests in the Examination.

WHITE PLAINS, U. Y., June 26.

Harry K. Thaw took the stand again today in his efforts to prove his sanity and obtain his release from Mattewan. He was questioned at length by the state's counsel, William T. Jerome. Thaw's counsel, Clarence J. Shearn, objected so frequently and interrupted the testimony to such an extent that Judge Keogh asked that the witness be allowed to answer questions in his own way. Later the court threatened to stop the examination unless he could get the co-operation of counsel.

"I cannot pass upon this man's sanity," said the court "unless I have opportunity to observe him as he answers the questions asked him. If Mr. Jerome asks competent questions and it produces the effect of fagging the witness I can't help it."

"Is this a mental examination?" Thaw asked of Jerome.

"Yes."

"Well, I refuse to assist you."

"Are you not perfectly willing to show this court your state of mind?"

The witness said he was not.

"Are you not willing to give Judge Keogh opportunity to decide on your sanity?"

"Learned attorneys will give Judge Keogh plenty of opportunity," Thaw replied.

The codicil in Thaw's will was read, in which provision was made that damages should be given to certain young women on whom indignities had been committed.

Thaw said the codicil had as its purpose to obtain damages from Stanford White.

"For whom were the damages intended?"

"If you want to make yourself contemptible, I'll not assist you," said Thaw.

with heat. He added that he would not participate "in degrading and blackening the character of a dead man" (referring to Stanford White.)

The witness repeated the insinuation made by his lawyer several times during the trial that Jerome is serving private interests.

"For whom do you think I'm acting?" asked Jerome.

"The mantle of Abraham Hummel fell on your shoulders after you sent him to the work house?" said Thaw.
