ESTABLISH RAILROAD CENTER

Several Systems Will Have Offices in New Woodmen Building.

LEASES ARE ALREADY TAKEN

Burlington Will Move from Fifteenth and Farnam to Permit Erection of World-Herald Building.

Fourteenth and Farnam streets is to become the railroad office center of Omaha. Several months ago the Rock Island took a long time lease on the northwest corner rooms on the first floor of the Woodmen of the World building, and will move in as soon as they are ready for occupancy, which will probably be before September 1.

Thursday the Milwaukee signed up a lease, taking for a long period the rooms on the Farnam street side of the building. The main office room is just to the east of the lobby, with an entrance therefrom and one from the street. Back, and extending almost to the alley, will be the freight, passenger and telegraph work rooms. The front will be the ticket office and lobby, with private offices of General Western Agent Nash and Assistant General Western Agent Duvall in the rear. The Milwaukee will move from the old as soon as the rooms in the new location are ready for occupancy. The rooms on the Fourteenth side of the skyscraper and to the rear of those leased by the Rock Island, have been taken by the Denver & Rio Grande and the Western Pacific, both of which are on the lower floor.

New Newspaper Building.
The Burlington now has its city offices in the old Wabash corner building, Fifteenth and Farnam streets, but it has to get out, as G. M. Hitchcock has served notice that he will want possession of the property early next spring, or perhaps this fall, at which time he will begin the construction of a newspaper and office building. This has started the Burlington people hunting for a new location and negotiations are being carried on with the Woodmen of the World. The railroad company has taken an option on the big room on the first floor of the skyscraper, the one on the Farnam street side and to the east of the one leased by the Milwaukee. This room runs back almost to the alley, and if taken by the Burlington will be used by City Passenger Agent Reynolds and his assistants.

In the movement to gather the city ticket offices of the railroads around Fourteenth and Farnam streets, the Chicago Great Western has taken a lease on the rooms now occupied by the Rock Island and will move from the Merchants' Hotel building as soon as the company can vacate and the offices can be redecorated.

Sprinkling Problem Faces Water Board

The water company has asked the Water Board to promulgate an order to try to stop the excessive use of water during the warm weather, so that a repetition of last night's experience may not be repeated. This the water board says it does not care to do until it takes possession of the plant Monday, when one of the first things to confront the board, will be this problem. Inspectors will then at once be sent out to see that the hours for sprinkling are observed.

JURORS SEVERELY CENSURED

Judge Day Discharges Men Who Drink at Defendant's Expense.

BIG DAMAGE SUIT IS HEARD

Trial Was Waiting for the Judge to Give Instructions to Jury—Jurors Become Thirsty, Defendant Offers to Buy.

Stern censure of three district court jurors for misconduct in permitting the defendant in a case they were hearing to buy drinks for them was the dramatic end of a law suit before Judge George A. Day of the law division. The case is that of Mrs. Catherine Gavin against Frank Rasmussen, a saloon keeper, for $10,000 damages for alleged inebriating of her husband. The jury was discharged and the case will be retried at the October term of court.

The three jurors accused of misconduct are Joe Bertal, 121 North Twelfth street; F. F. Ohlendorf, 1907 M street, South Omaha, and Adolph Zeulak, 26 North Twentieth street, South Omaha.

Mrs. Gavin alleged that by drinking liquor sold him by Rasmussen her husband became a confirmed drunkard, unable to hold a good job and support his family. Arguments were completed yesterday afternoon by W. W. Slabaugh, attorney for Mrs. Gavin, and A. S. Ritchie, counsel for Rasmussen. Judge Day excused the jury for the day, saying he would instruct it in the morning.

He Paid for the Drinks.
Word came to the court that when the three jurors in question left the court room they fell in with Rasmussen as he was leaving, and the four walked down the street together. One juror said he was going to get a drink. The others and Rasmussen said they, too, were thirsty and the four entered a saloon. Each had a drink and Rasmussen paid the bill.

Judge Day told the jury of the information that had come to him and said he was convinced the report was true. He said he was not ready to believe the jurors realized the seriousness of their offense and probably they would not have permitted Rasmussen's courtesy to influence their judgment or actions in the jury room.

The three jurors were not removed from the panel and would be permitted to serve in other cases. This week, however, ends jury trials for the summer. All jurors in the Gavin-Rasmussen case were excused and others are being excused as rapidly as they finish the cases they are trying.

REPUBLICANS ARE IN NO HURRY TO NAME LEADER

It is not likely that the executive committee of the republican state central committee will meet to decide upon whom to recommend for temporary chairman of the republican state convention before about ten days prior to the date of the convention. A. W. Jeffers, the Omaha member of the executive committee, says so far there has been no call issued for a meeting of the committee. So far as he knows, he says, no one has been very prominently pushed for the temporary chairmanship of the convention, although a number of names have been mentioned in a very casual way. "We are not likely to do anything in the matter until things quiet down a little," he says.

TAXI DRIVERS TO BE TAXED

McGovern Has New Ordinance Also Requiring Good Bonds.

WHISTLE ORDINANCE PASSED

It is Now a Misdemeanor to Rouse Sleepers at Night with the Screeching of Whistles in City Limits.

Taxicab drivers will be required to take out a license for each machine they operate, such license to be granted by the license inspector only after a petition signed by two "responsible persons who will testify to the character, sobriety and capability of the applicant," if an ordinance submitted to the city commission by Councilman McGovern is passed.

Each taxicab chauffeur will also be compelled to give a bond of $100 and owners of machines must give bond in the sum of $50. The annual automobile license is fixed at $15.

This ordinance directs that the taxi driver shall keep his permit with him at all times and exhibit to any officer or the license inspector upon request. If the chauffeur is transferred from one car which he has a permit to drive to another he must secure another license. Drivers must pay an annual license fee of $1.

Whistle Ordinance Passed.
An ordinance making it a misdemeanor for an engineer to blow the whistle of locomotives, stationary engines of boilers, except as warning in case of danger, was passed. It provided that "competent evidence shall be prima facie proof that the engineer committed the act," and fixes his fine at $5 to $100 or from five to thirty days in jail.

P. L. May declared in a communication to the council that he had been assessed $1.00 on an automobile and firmly asserted that he had never been guilty of owning an auto. His communication was referred to the legal department.

C. C. Hall was appointed city veterinarian and slaughter house inspector by J. J. Ryder. His salary will be $125 per month, and he is allowed $25 per month for horse hire. His term of office is for three years. Alfred Blaufuss was appointed assistant slaughter house inspector for a term of three years at $100 per month.

Pavements Torn Up.

Complaint of Grace M. Fuchs and others against the water company, the gas company and contractors for tearing up pavements and leaving them in dangerous condition was heard and referred to the commission of public improvements.

Fannie C. Evans objected to the construction of a sewer through lot 7 in Evans' addition and asked for $500 damages. She said taxes against the property amounted to $1,033.65. The communication was referred to the legal department.

William Miller, whose license to sell liquor was forfeited by the council upon his conviction in police court, was granted permission to resume operations. He was acquitted by the district court, to which he had appealed.

Forty-one plumbers' bonds were approved. The bond of Klopp-Bartlett company for printing the building ordinances was approved.

Woman in Auto Stirs Pedestrians to Wrath

An innocent looking fox terrier has stirred up a miniature tempest in the park department, thrown a large number of citizens into confusion and brought loud roars of condemnation on his owner.

A big automobile whirled into Elmwood park. A weary pedestrian was leaving the spring. He had tumbled of the refreshing liquid from a cup that hangs always near. A woman got out of the automobile and Jack, the fox terrier, followed.

The woman drank from a silver cup. She took the cup that always hangs near, filled it with water and allowed the dog to drink from it. The pedestrian was angry.

But the pedestrian was more angry still when the woman, proceeding a little way, stopped her automobile at a trough where horses are watered, took the fox terrier and with the assistance of the chauffeur gave him a cool bath in the trough.

MARSHAL WARNER FINDS COOL SPOT 'WAY UP NORTH

United States Marshal W. P. Warner has returned from his summer camp in Minnesota, where he owns a tract of land on the shore of Rice lake, sixty miles west of Duluth. The marshal made a trip to the camp a week or ten days ago, taking Mrs. Warner and the children with him. Remaining with the Warner family are the families of C. C. Crowell and Ross L. Hammond of Omaha. Crowell and Hammond returned to Omaha the early part of the week.
