Takes Floor to Explain His Vote in Fourteenth Ballot.

QUOTES MORGAN RESOLUTION

Insists that No Candidate Who is Under Obligations to Tammany and Forces Behind it Can Be Elected.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—Under the guise of explaining a change of vote in the Nebraska delegation, William J. Bryan got another hearing in the democratic national convention today and again threw the delegates and spectators into a disorderly uproar. Bryan, who under primary instructions had been voting for Champ Clark, announced that he would not vote for him again while New York was included in the Clark column. He changed his vote to Wilson, but defiantly declared he would change again if Mr. Murphy and the "Ryan-Belmont-Morgan" crowd should vote for Wilson.

Bryan was assailed from the floor by many delegates, who demanded that his speech be stopped, and by others who demanded to know if he would support the nominee. Bryan said he "expected" to do so, but he also expected that convention to nominate a man without the support "of the interests."

Bryan was pale and haggard as he stood on the platform facing the tumult he had created on the floor below him. He swayed back and forward and from time to time mopped the dripping perspiration from his furrowed brow. With one hand he held the iron railing in front of him and with the other he held his palm leaf fan. When he spoke he had a defiant glare in his eyes. His voice was husky. Occasionally he would let go his hold of the railing to shake a warning finger at the delegates.

Bryan held the stage for nearly an hour. It was thought to be his last stand before the convention, but he declared that if the right man was nominated he would introduce a resolution authorizing the candidate to appoint his campaign committee and not be handicapped by a national committee which "the interests" were represented.

Bryan's sensational move interrupted the fourteenth ballot. It created a great deal of feeling and seemed in the opinion of most of the leader finally to dispose of the Nebraska as a possible candidate. The antagonism to him was intense. Most of the leaders finally to dispose of the Nebraska as a possible candidate.

Bryan Takes the Floor. Bryan rose in his chair in the Nebraska delegation. He was interrupted with "Vote, vote," as he asked to explain his vote. Acting Chairman Sulzer ruled that nothing was in order but the actual vote. Bryan persisted in explaining amid shouts of "Vote, vote."

Bryan Held the Floor. Bryan remained mounted on his chair. Senator Stone made his way to the platform to ask for time for Mr. Bryan to (Continued on Second Page.)

BRYAN DECLINES ROLE OF PROPHET

Interviewer Gets Little Satisfaction from the Nebraskan on Outcome of Fight.

DECLARES HE IS NO PROPHET

Not Making Predictions, but Will Make a Statement When the Proper Time is Reached, He Says.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—The uncertain situation of the naming of the presidential ticket has given rise today to much speculation among the leaders as to what move would be made, if any, by W. J. Bryan to break the deadlock, but in an interview today Mr. Bryan disclosed nothing.

"Everybody says that you are going to make a break; if so, will you tell us what it is?" he was asked.

"I have not thought it wise to issue bulletins," replied Mr. Bryan. "I found it better to make announcements."

"Well, can you say that you will make an announcement?"

"Whenever there is anything to be done, I will make an announcement at that time," he replied.

"You speak of purging the national committee. When would that be done?"

"I am not prepared to make any statement as to the proper time," said Mr. Bryan.

"Do you think nominations will be made today?"

"I will not prophesy."

IOWA CONVENTIONS HELD

Progressives Dominate in Very Many Sessions in State.

POLK APPROVES CHICAGO COURSE

Republicans of Hamilton County Decide to Support Entire Republican Ticket—Democrats Poke Fun at Chicago Convention.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—County conventions of all parties were held in every county of the state today to select delegates to state conventions. Reports from republican conventions show that in very many of them the progressives had full control and they claim they will be able to dominate the state convention.

In some of the conventions resolutions were adopted approving of Roosevelt's course and in others deploring methods adopted at Chicago. It is understood to be the intention of the progressives to control the state convention and leave it open for Iowa republicans to act independently on presidential elections.

In this county resolutions were adopted, in accord with the wish of the two senators, approving of the presidential primary, approving the course taken by the ten Iowa delegates in refusing to present Cummings' name to the Chicago convention and declaring that Iowa republicans are able to care for themselves without dictation of bosses.

The democratic county convention adopted resolutions along with local affairs and poking fun at the republicans for their Chicago convention. Chairman Parsons denounced Roosevelt and called him a "political pole cat."

The prohibitionists had a quarrel at their convention largely over their attitude toward the candidate for governor who will not be supported by many of them.

WEBSTER CITY, Ia., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—At the republican county convention this afternoon Rufus Nelson of Jewell was nominated for sheriff. No resolutions were adopted. At an informal luncheon, however, the new county central committee reached an understanding that its best efforts would be directed toward electing the full republican ticket from township trustee up to president.

C. Q. D. FROM STONE TO CANDIDATES

Chairman of Missouri Delegation Urges Them All to Lend Support to Clark.

MAJORITY VOTING FOR HIM

Missouri Senator Declares for Seventy Years Custom Has Been to Give Nomination to Man Who Reaches This Goal.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—Senator Stone, chairman of the Missouri delegation, today sent to Governors Harmon, Marshall and Wilson and Representative Underwood, presidential candidates, the following telegram:

"A majority of the national convention has voted for the candidacy of Champ Clark. No one questions his fitness and loyalty to democracy, and for seventy years the practice has been established of giving the nomination to the candidate who receives a majority. We ask you in the interests of the party and in vindication of the democratic principle of majority rule, to assist in making his nomination unanimous by announcing your detestation on the Omaha force, prohibition and the Chicago convention."

SEAGIRT, N. J., June 29.—Governor Wilson announced this afternoon, through his secretary that he would make no reply to Senator Stone's telegram urging him to withdraw in favor of Clark.

Mrs. Dwelle Wins Point in Allen Suit

NEW YORK, June 29.—The appellate division of the New York state supreme court has decided that Nathan Allen, a wealthy manufacturer of Kenosha, Wis., must accept service of subpoena in a $100,000 suit brought jointly against him and a number of private detectives by Mrs. Helen Jenkins Dwelle.

Some time ago Allen was fined $12,000 in the United States district court here for smuggling jewelry into this country for Mrs. Dwelle. The suit she brought was based on the allegation that Allen took securities and jewelry from a safe deposited box she owned and to which, she charged, Allen had access. It was while Allen was here as defendant in the smuggling case that summons in Mrs. Dwelle's suit was served on him. He claimed immunity, declaring he was in this country under the jurisdiction of a different court.

A lower court sustained his contention and Mrs. Dwelle appealed to the appellate division which has now reversed the decision of the lower division. The appellate division made the distinction that Allen was not here voluntarily but under compulsion of the law.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 29.—For the purpose as stated in the call of considering the advisability of refusing to pay the international tax, the executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, District No. 11, today issued a call for a state convention here, beginning July 26. The refusal to pay the international tax would mean the withdrawal from the international organization. The call was issued on the petition of eleven local unions.

"Beer Bottle" Corner Case Vital to Numerous Land Owners.

YOUNGERS RETURNS FROM EAST

Geneva Man Declares Base Ball Bulletin Boards Attracted More Attention Than Bulletins of Chicago Convention.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, June 29.—(Special.)—The attorney general's office was in receipt of a communication this morning from George Beckan of Alliance regarding the suit which is to come before the supreme court regarding the legality of the celebrated "beer bottle" corner. The legality of this corner affects a large number of school land sections along the same line and by its peculiar location only about 20 acres of the 40 which Mr. Beckan is supposed to own can be counted as in the right location. N. B. Switzer, chief of survey, is using every effort to have the matter settled, as so much land will be effected if the "beer bottle" corner is found to be the real corner. Mr. Beckan is very anxious to have the matter settled as soon as possible, so he will know just where his section is located.

Peter Youngers, a member of the executive board of the state fair, called on Secretary Mellor this morning on his way home from a trip through the east. He says that politics are very quiet through New York and in Boston. He was in both places during the week of the national republican convention and he says that the people crowded about the base ball score boards in larger numbers than they did before the bulletin boards which gave out the reports of the convention. As far as he was able to discover, President Taft seemed to be stronger than either of the other candidates.

Seamen Are a Bit Slow in Responding to the Strike Order

NEW YORK, June 29.—Leaders of the Coastwise Seamen's union called a strike today, but the men were slow in responding and only four boats were affected today.

The strike leaders assert that 15,000 men will be out by night fall and that all Atlantic coast shipping will be tied up. H. H. Raymond, president of the American Steamship association, and vice president and general manager of the Clyde line, said the walkout would be an inconvenience, but not serious.

Harmon Up All Night to Hear the Returns

COLUMBUS, O., June 29.—Governor Judson Harmon said today that he would not discuss the situation in Baltimore until after he had conferred with his manager, E. E. Moore, by long distance telephone.

"I don't know what I will do until after I have talked with Mr. Moore," said the governor, when asked if he would withdraw from the fight for the presidential nomination.

Governor Harmon did not go to bed until early this morning, awaiting results of the balloting. He said he retired while the twelfth ballot was being taken, when it was apparent that no nomination would be made.

NEW YORK VOTES FOR CLARK

Sensational Break in Delegation on the Tenth Vote.

TWO-THIRDS STILL FAR OFF

Adherents of Speaker Clark Believe that After Reaching a Majority, Nomination of Their Man is Certain.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—Right of Iowans to split vote on the twenty-fourth ballot challenged. The chair ruled the entire vote of Iowa must be cast for Clark, a majority of the delegation not voting otherwise. An appeal from the chair was taken. The appeal of the Iowa case was withdrawn and the balloting proceeded.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—Senator Stone of Missouri asked unanimous consent that after the twenty-seventh ballot the candidate receiving the lowest number of votes be dropped.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—At the conclusion of the twenty-fourth ballot the leaders stood: Clark, 48%; Wilson, 42%; as compared with Clark, 49%; Wilson, 39 on the twenty-third ballot.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—The democratic national convention struggled in vain today through a long and sultry afternoon to try to make a nomination for president. Tonight the perplexing delegates were still at their task, many of them on the verge of prostration from heat and lack of rest.

Champ Clark steadily lost ground during the afternoon, dropping from 54 on the thirteenth ballot to 56 on the twenty-first, despite the fact that New York's support up to that time had continued firm.

Woodrow Wilson made important gains during the late afternoon, going from 33% on the thirteenth to 36% on the twenty-first. The Wilson forces were enthusiastic and were claiming they would win.

The Clark people plainly were worried by the defections in their ranks. Kansas was the first important state to desert Clark as a whole for Wilson. The sentiment in that delegation had favored Wilson from the beginning, but the Wilson contingent was not able to get a two-thirds vote until today. Then, under state convention instructions, the entire twenty Kansas votes went into the Wilson column.

Clark fails to get recess. After the twenty-first ballot the Clark people, in something of a panic, sought to have a recess ordered to desert Clark. The Wilson people, encouraged by their steady gains, fought the motion and defeated it on roll call. The confusion in the hall during the voting was such that the clerks became badly mixed up on their figures and it variously was claimed that a recess had been ordered and defeated, until Chairman Jones ordered a recasting of the vote.

The afternoon session was marked by another dramatic outburst from Mr. Bryan. Claiming the privilege of explaining why he and more than a dozen other delegates from Nebraska were going to switch their votes from Clark to Wilson, the former candidate held the floor for nearly an hour and was the center of a storm which swept the hall in changing waves of protest and approbation. He declared that as long as Clark continued to accept the support of "Charles F. Murphy and Tammany hall" he would not vote for him. In changing to Wilson, Mr. Bryan said he reserved the right to switch again if New York or any other state delegation "controlled by the interests" should go to the standard of the New Jersey governor.

Some of the delegates believed Mr. Bryan was making a final bid for the nomination. It was intimated as such it appeared to fail, for there seemed to be a crystallization of the forces against him and their strength seemed to indi-

PARTS OF BODY OF A MAN FOUND IN OLD WELL

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., June 29.—Diligent investigation by the authorities has failed to throw any light on the mystery associated with the discovery of the dismembered parts of a body on a farm near Lavinston.

Men plowing had occasion to lift the boards covering an abandoned well and found an arm floating on the water. Further search disclosed another arm and two legs, evidently severed from the body with an axe. No trace has been found of the head and trunk. Physicians say the limbs, which were from a well-developed man, must have been in the water sixty days or longer. Nobody is missing from the neighborhood, and it is surmised the dismembered parts must have been brought from a distance. The well is being pumped out and accumulated debris removed.
