Arnst May Be Seen in America Soon

NEW YORK, June 29.—It is just possible that Richard Arnst, the world's scouling champion, will be seen in action in this country in the course of his journey home from England after his race with Barry. It is also possible that James Wray, the Harvard coach, will be able to get a race with the New Zealander in England. Eugene Buckley, the Boston critic, writes that word has come from Arnst that under certain conditions he would give Wray the next chance in the event of his defeating Barry, and it looks much as if Barry were in for defeat. In a letter to Charles Stevenson, Arnst's assistant coach, the big New Zealander writes: "Regarding Jim Wray, I don't think I can offer any expenses to come here as I don't know how the gate will be. Does he want a race for the championship or a private match? "Of course he understands that if the race is for the championship he will have to post $2,000 in stakes, but in case he wants a private match I am ready to row with him for $1,000 a side and will divide the steamboat money. I am returning by way of America and will try to get a few matches or give an exhibition or two on my way across. "I am in pretty good 'nich' (condition) now and I think I shall land home a winner again with a little luck. I have been trying to fix things up with Eddy Durnan and have promised him a race in August if he allows me $2,000 for expenses. In case he doesn't take me on, I am ready to have a go with anybody."

Wray has only to post his money and send a challenge in regular order, thus getting the next crack at Arnst. There is a fund already on hand, that would do as a starter. Of course Wray would have to row in England, but if Arnst sticks to his purpose, he may be seen in exhibitions in American waters.

United States Team Leads in Olympic Army Rifle Contest

STOCKHOLM, June 29.—The United States team led at the conclusion today of the first stage of the international team competition for army rifle shooting at the Olympic games. Each team was composed of six men and today's contest consisted of fifteen shots by each man at the 300-meters range. The aggregate score of the American team was 438. Great Britain was second with 428. The arms used in the competition are the national military weapon of each country, according to the latest adopted models, without any alteration or addition. The team representing the United States also headed the list in today's stage of the clay bird shooting competition. The best results were: United States, 108 hits; Germany, 107; Great Britain, 104. At the end of the second stage, distance 400 meters, of the international team championship for army rifle shooting, the United States team again was in the lead, with a score of 444. The scores made by Captain Al. Briggs, U. S. A., and Lieutenant C. T. Osborn, U. S. N., were the highest possible. Sweden captured second honors in the second stage, with a score of 418, Great Britain falling back to third with 410.

SIX CREWS ARE IN THE RACE

Weather Fine for Rowing Over the Poughkeepsie Course Today. EAST IS PITTED AGAINST WEST

Contests Start with Three Universities Trying for Kennedy Challenge Trophy, Followed by Freshmen.

BULLETIN. POUGHKEEPSIE, June 29.—Cornell won the varsity four-oared race this afternoon by two lengths over Columbia, with Syracuse third and Pennsylvania fourth. Official time: Cornell, 10:24; Columbia, 10:41; Syracuse, 10:58; Pennsylvania, 11:25. Columbia finished eight lengths ahead of Pennsylvania.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 29.—Crews from six universities will compete today in the intercollegiate regatta over the Poughkeepsie course. Leland Stanford, Jr., university will match strength and skill for the first time with the oarsmen of the Atlantic seaboard. Wisconsin university again is in the lists, as are the University of Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse and Columbia. Early in the day weather outlook was favorable.

Three university four oared races without coxswains, two miles, for the Kennedy challenge trophy, will be started at 3:15 o'clock. At 4 o'clock will come the freshman eight oared contest, followed at 5:15 by the crowning feature of the day, the varsity eight oared race over the four mile course to the finish line, a mile below the bridge.

In this latter event a fight is promised between Cornell, Columbia and Syracuse, three of the finest crews that have been seen here in many a day. Cornell is the favorite in the betting, but the supporters of the New York and Syracuse eights backed their belief in the prowess of the oarsmen with even money in many cases.

Pennsylvania, Wisconsin and Stanford are classed in the "second division." A lively race is expected in the initial race as the four-Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania—have been doing good work.

The officials in charge of the regatta include: Stewards—Morton G. Bogue, Columbia; Thomas Reath, Jr., Pennsylvania; Frank Irvine, Cornell; Corzoli, William I. Forbes, Pennsylvania; William Erb, Leland Stanford; Edmund L. French, Syracuse; Frank J. Petura, Wisconsin. Judges at the Finish—Frederick R. Fortmeyer, New York Athletic club. Flag Judge—Richard Armstrong, Yale.

JACK RABBIT SHOOT SET FOR THE FOURTH

Over fifty Omaha and Council Bluffs nimrods are expected to take part in the Jack Rabbit shoot of the Omaha Gun club at the club's grounds just east of the Douglas street bridge on July 4. The arrangements for the shoot are being made by Billy Townsend and some good scores are expected if the wind is not too strong.

Pierce Defeats Plainview. PIERCE, Neb., June 29.—(Special.)—What was claimed to have been the best ball game ever witnessed on a Plainview diamond was pulled off yesterday, the Pierce team winning by the close score of 3 to 2. Plainview was strengthened by De Lair, the Three-I leaguer being in the box and Barrett at the receiving end. Pierce had its regular lineup with the exception of two substitutes in the outfield. Bovee and Burke were the battery for Pierce, and that Bovee had some class was shown by eleven strikeouts, while but four of Plainview's stickers could find him for a safety. Burke and Vandiver featured, the former getting two two-baggers and a single, while the latter caught a hard line drive over second that seemed impossible and would have tied the score. Score: Pierce..... 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 1-3 Plainview..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0-2

St. Edward Defeats Genoa. ST. EDWARD, Neb., June 29.—(Special.)—One of the most interesting games played on the local diamond was won by St. Edward in eleven innings between St. Edward and Genoa by the score of 4 to 3. Score: St. Edward..... 11 10 1 2 0 1 0 1-5 Genoa..... 3 0 0 0 2 1 0 0-6 3-5 Batteries: St. Edward, Jones, Murphy and Ames; Genoa, Wolf and Ross. Two-base hits: Bragg, Jones, Murphy. Three-base hits: Flory (2), McKay. Totals: St. Edward, 11; Genoa, 6; by Jones, 5; by Murphy, 2; by Wolf, 1.
