Judgments

LONG siege of trouble for Umpire Johnson culminated out at Rourke park Friday in a very disagreeable uprising, which resulted in the expulsion from the grounds of Manager Holland of the St. Joseph team, Captain Kelly, Pitcher Johnson and a couple other players. The contest started in the first inning when manager Arbogast of Omaha, incensed at a decision, seized hold of the umpire and shook him vigorously. Arbogast may have been right, doubtless was, in his view of the decision, but he certainly was not in laying hands upon the umpire. No matter what the provocation, and his St. Joseph men may have been in some of their several kicks, he was dead wrong in protesting himself out of the game, where he was sorely needed. He displayed bad judgment. But the umpire got himself in very uncomfortable quarters, difficult to defend, when he put out Kelly, Holland and the others after allowing Arbogast to sit on the bench and direct his team. If a St. Joseph man touched the umpire, it would be a foul. Yet, of course, what was even more asked, indeed, foolish, was purring the game and annoy the umpire. The umpire acted wisely, but he should have acted more promptly and also more firmly. He noticed that after clearing the decks he got along very smoothly. He is a hard-working, well-meaning man, but he lacks control, and until he acquires it he is going to keep himself in hot water. No team will hesitate to run over him. He has allowed entirely too much hagging and heckling of himself. If now he has turned, it will go to his credit and everybody else. Holland was one of the unwise men in the game. He was plainly irritated because of prize pitcher, Chief Johnson, was taken from the box by such a furious bombardment of hits and he put in from the bench when there was no call for it.

of a player like Cadman on the team will be illustrated in that last game at Sioux City. So long as the team continued to win and all went well, the manager was in high glory. The whole team, but the minute the manager was upgraded, Cadman promptly stepped into the air and sent the whole team with him. It was no time until he was in a verbal mix-up with his pitcher, Manager Andreas, and had the pitcher and manager at it, and finally it was his useless pugnacity had drawn the team into an internal strife. It was defeat, of course. Omaha fans and fans laughed, for they had seen this same Cadman do just that same thing time and time again for Omaha. He is a sub catcher. He is a player who has been winning, but an awful one who is losing.

the race in the Western league is tightening. It has been good all season and getting better. It is still anybody's game, with possibly one or two exceptions. St. Joe's lead is dwindling. The team has fought fine, but it does not look like a championship team to us, though a defender. We would regard Omaha's chances as much better if its pitching staff were a little more reliable. Yet we are in the fight to the finish.

Omaha should have won every one of the four games it dropped to Sioux City. The Sioux almost begged the Rockies to win two of them, but bat-clothes had been laid aside temporarily. Kane and Johnson were out and team was working bad. It has met Omaha this season in Sioux City.

new more such annihilations as Chief Johnson got at the hands of Omaha Fri- and Holland won't be able to sell in the majors for more than $10,000. Chief seriously objects to two or three hits in succession. He has pitched the ball this season, but was stopped finally by Omaha.

Rourke certainly picked three live in little Norman Coyne, Scanlon and Co. They are all playing their position like wizards and Coyne has developed into the most natural hitter in the league.

ever ready Kane knockers, we observed what happened the few days was out of the game.

League is now realizing $100,000 of that that was paid for Marquard.

At Fort Omaha the Sherman Avenue Merchants collide with the Grain Exchange in the first event and the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the Luxus put on the last show. The Merchants and Grain Exchange have been bitter rivals ever since last fall, when the Merchants, by the aid of Leaguer Hirsch, slipped one over on the grain children. For two consecutive Sundays the Luxus have taken the short end, so they will do their utmost to hand the Workmen, who have been winning consistently of late, a lemon. Cass will hurl for the Workmen and Dyke will twirl for the brewery boys. Lineup, first game:

Table listing players and positions for the Merchants vs Grain Exchange game. Includes names like Sherman Ave. Mchts., Beatty, Dignier, Myers, Grossman, Stone, McNamara, Ritchie, Kane, Nolan, Thomas, Masman, Thompson, Morrow, Gillian, Rimmer, Yost, Kinnard, Pitch, O. U. Farrell park will be the scene of a couple of debates. The first game will be called promptly at 1:30 p. m. and will be between the Shamrocks and the Brodegaard Crews. Up to date the Shamrocks have made a good record, but Dolson of the gem shop says he is going to spring a surprise on the three-leaf kids. The second game will be between the Townsends and Farrell's crew. Last week the Farrells were given a good shake-up, and, according to Madame Rumor, they will present a very formidable lineup today. Lineup first game:

Table listing players and positions for the Shamrocks vs Brodegaard Crews game. Includes names like Brodegaard Crews, Fletcher, First; Sullivan, Second; Gibb, Short; Fostek, Third; Collins, Third; Variety, Catcher; Stott, Catcher; Clark, Center; Peterson, Catcher; Cavanaugh, Right; Cherry.

There is an atmosphere of confidence at Columbia training quarters in Poughkeepsie, as the date of the annual inter-scholastic regatta draws near. The Blue and White triumphed in 1910, when the annual classic was first held at Poughkeepsie, but in the seventeen years that have elapsed since that date, Columbia's only taste of victory came in the freshman contest of 1911. This year, however, the Morningglow Heights expect to triumph over Cornell and the other four crews that will be entered, Pennsylvania, Syracuse, Wisconsin and Leland Stanford.

Yost, Catch; Fuller, Pitch; Faine, Pitch.

At Athletic park in Council Bluffs two class B teams mix in the opener and the Hancock Parks and the Council Bluffs Merchants wind up the show. This will be the first opportunity the park boys have had to meet the Bluffers. Here of late the Hancock Parks have been playing the legs off the old game. "Lefty" Bogatts will pitch for the Omaha dudes. Lineup:

Table listing players and positions for the Hancock Parks vs Council Bluffs Merchants game. Includes names like Hancock Parks, Cavanaugh, First; Wahl, Second; Swaboda, Second; Hodge, Short; Baudo, Short; McLean, Catch; Collins, Third; Phillips, Yearik, Left; Scanlon, Front; Center; Goff, Tittle, Right; Evers, E. Bogatts, Catch; Payne, Duff, H. Bogatts, Pitch; Jackson.

At Florence park the Florence Athletics meet the Foresters and the Dundee Mills battle the South Side Athletic club team. The Florence infield is without a doubt the best around this neck of the woods and if the outer pastures were fixed a trifle the Florence management could boast of having one of the best parks in this state.

The Alamitos will go to Blair to do battle. According to the dope, these two herds are evenly matched. Last Sunday the Alamitos amply demonstrated their caliber when they beat the Blats aggregation in a very decisive manner. At Elmwood park the Jordans and Independents will wrestle each other for nine rounds. These teams are about evenly matched.

Through the Knothole. Ray Young sure maps up when the bases are full.

On July 14 the Brodegaard Crews will dash up to Blair to battle the Wilhelms. Pierce is a classy shortstop. Call Roy Penton for games with the Cross outfit, Webster 630.

Johanson, who is manager of the Wil-helms, has a classy bunch of ball players.

Wahl's clever fielding and hard hitting is a great help to the Wilhelms.

Leo Bryne will take care of the sun garden hereafter for the All Stars.

On July Fourth, the Ancient Order United Workmen will go to Woodbine. Charles Faber has been doing excellent work at short for the Townsends.

Andrews has quit the Spaldings and would like to sign with some other team. Hronek is doing excellent work for the Hollys. He is especially strong in the pinches.

Grandpa Hall of the Townsends sound one for the circuit during the Townsend-Luxus fuss.

Trutt, who catches for the Wilhelms, will be nabbed by the big league scouts before long.

Today Jenkins of the Townsends will hop over to Avoca and hold down the short stop territory.

At Fort Omaha, July Fourth the ancient rivalry of the Hollys and Luxus, will nurse up each other.

Several Omaha lads will play with Avoca July Fourth against the Council Bluffs Merchants at Athletic park.

Frank Quigley broke up the Ancient Order United Workmen-Baum quartet by hitting one to the fence in the ninth.

Fox, the Ancient Order United Workmen gent who played with the Townsends last Sunday, belted one for the limit.

F. J. Haal has been on the sick list the last few days, so the Omaha Gas company team has not been heard of lately.

Leo McDermott is playing the ears off of the third corner for the Cross tribe. He is a hard hitter and is well liked by his team mates.

The Hancock Parks are contemplating a two-week trip through the northwest part of Nebraska during the latter part of July.

Next Saturday the Storz and the Ancient Order United Workmen will clash at Rourke park for the benefit of the Union Pacific strikers.

Rourke park will undoubtedly be the scene of a great battle July Fourth when the Storz Triumphs hook up with the Chicago Rock Island tribe.

Any afternoon one can find at 501 Barker block some of the best semi-professional men in the city discussing the baseball situation in general.

Andrews, who pitches for the Wilhelms, let the fast Emmanuel Baracca team down with two hits and got sixteen strike outs in last Saturday's game.

Out-of-town teams needing Omaha ball players to strengthen their teams for the J. S. Cross line-up: McDermott, third base; Pickett, second base; Lange, right field; Bohan, center field; Overman, first base; Hadley, shortstop; McQuade and L. F. Johnson, catcher; Eber and Don Eastman, pitchers.

Nebraska Lad to Denver. King, star pitcher of Sacred Heart college at Denver, who was made offers by several major league clubs, will make his first try as a professional with Denver, if his parents, who live at Alliance, Neb., will give consent.

Koerner Loses Finger. Phil Koerner, Wichita's first baseman, who has been bothered with a bad finger for several weeks and has been fighting hard to save it, finally had to yield to the surgeons and have it amputated. It refused to heal and infection was feared.

MANY TENNIS CRACKS ENTER

Much Interest Centers on Tourney Which Starts Here Saturday.

CHALLENGERS WILL NOT PLAY

Outcome of Events Will Have Important Bearing on State Championship at Norfolk in July.

Entries for the city tennis tournament, which starts at the Omaha Field club next Saturday afternoon, indicate that there will be at least 100 local cracks lined up for battle.

Interest is being taken in the tournament, as it will give a good idea who will be contenders for honors at the state tournament in Norfolk July 15 to 21. On Saturday, July 13, at 3 o'clock the challenge play in the singles will be started and will be followed by the challenge play in the doubles.

The challengers will not play during the tournament, but will defend their titles only.

Among the contenders for first honors in the singles are Art Scribner, Cub Potter and Harry Koch. The latter is the present holder of the title, while Potter was the title holder in 1909 and Scribner in 1910. Art Scribner and Cub Potter, present doubles champions, are not looked upon by many as easy winners in the championship again this year. At the present time Scribner is suffering from an injured hand, which will probably affect his playing considerably. There is no favorite picked in this class and dark horses will have a good chance.

Young Players Develop. The double game has attracted much attention and many good players have been developed in the younger set, who are given a chance by the knowing ones. There will be trophies and prizes given to the winners of the singles and doubles in the championship play and the consolation rounds, and prizes will also be put up for runners-up.

Fast play is looked for in all the rounds. Lyman McConnell, Spike Kennedy, Russell Larman, John Madden, Warren Cunniff and Coe Young are playing wonderful games and are expected to give the three logical contenders some hard rubs.

All entries must be in the hands of Koch or Rainey by 6 o'clock Friday evening, in order that pairings can be made before the play Saturday. Entrance fees must be paid at the same time. No player will be allowed on the courts until his fees are paid.

Events at Stockholm Will Be Spectacular

NEW YORK, June 23.—Spectators at the Olympic games can prepare themselves for spectacular doings in many of the events when the members of the American team take the field, but at the sight of one, the running high jump, they will probably sit back in amazement when they note the proficiency of Uncle Sam's nominees. Of the dozen men who have been named there is not one who has not cleared 6 feet 2 inches, and from that height the performance of the men ascend to 6 feet 8 1/2 inches, this marvelous jump having been made by George Horne of Stanford university and the Olympic club, San Francisco.

As a matter of fact, taking the best jumps of the twelve men who will display their abilities to the possible wonderment of most of the athletes of forty nations, it becomes noticeable that they aggregate 75 feet 3 1/2 inches, or an average of 6 feet 3 1/2 inches.

It can be said without fear of contradiction that the best men in this game of all the two score nations, arrayed as one team, who will be competitively engaged at the games, would not muster strength enough to compete against our men at this particular game.

Seven of the men are out-and-out "specialists," men who in athletics cultivate no other game, while the other five pursue various branches of track and field work, being extremely proficient in several branches aside from jumping.

Pueblo Has Enough. In spite of the denials and evasions it seems to be a fact that someone in authority recently sounded Pueblo as to what it would give for the Topeka franchise. The answer from Pueblo was that it wouldn't give a cent. Pueblo is still sore over the transfer of the club it had to Wichita and wants no more of the Western league. Oklahoma City is the next city Topeka looks to in case a transfer is necessary because of continued poor support.

Fisherman's Luck Doesn't Seem to Be of Proverbial Sort

Tales of wonderful fishing are being told by Omaha sportsmen who visit the lakes and rivulets for a day or two of angling.

Last Friday night C. J. Powell, in company with Denise Barkelow, Ben Wood and Charles Shedd, left for Spirit lake. It took them just seven hours, actual running time, to get to their destination. Here the party camped out in a tent over night and at noon Saturday went out on the lake. They were out about two hours and returned to camp with over a dozen black bass averaging from three to four and one-half pounds each. Picketrel were caught in large numbers, as were pike and crappies. About sixty of the latter were carted back to camp. A big fire was built and the men sat down to a real fish dinner. The remaining members of the flimsy tribe were packed on ice and brought back home.

Cut Off lake is also coming in for its share of fishing this season also. Ed Stout, former captain of the city rock pile gang and a great angler, went to Cut Off last week with a couple of friends and returned with a good string of crappies, pike and bass. Four bass, averaging two and one-half pounds, were pulled out of the lake in about three hours of fishing.
