The president of the Nebraska conference of Seventh Day Adventists, Elder J. W. Christian of Lincoln, gave the opening address of a series of gospel meetings which will be conducted this summer in a tent on Nineteenth and Callfornia. He said that character was the lamp God used to enlighten men. This light should be a personal reflection of the Bible. The object of this tent meeting is to know the better life. Mrs. Gibson of 5714 North Twenty-fourth street, sang a solo. Elder G. R. Hawkins, the pastor of the church at Twenty-fifth and Indiana avenue, assisted by a number of Bible workers, is in charge of the work.

Water Users Complain. People in South Omaha complain of the shortage of water during the last two days. On Thursday night many were without water for several hours and some to relieve their thirst were compelled to carry jars and buckets of water from the springs at Spring Lake park. Late yesterday many complained that they were not allowed enough water to sprinkle their lawns. The explanation of the water company was not generally accepted in regard to the reason of the shortage. It is claimed by many that the unseemly haste with which the meter system is being urged shows a greater desire to increase the returns of the water board than to minister to the comfort of the people and improve the old
