At the same time advices from other selling points lacked a great deal of being chocouraging, and the situation was for that reason against the selling interests. Buyers were slow about getting down to business, holding back apparently with the idea of getting later information from other selling points before doing very much. The result was a slow and very draggy market on all the same and the same during the last week or so, as twenty loads, or about 5,000 head, were received at the yards. This is about 700 head more than last Monday and 3,000 head more other selling points before doing very much. The result was a slow and very draggy market on all kinds of cattle without exception whatever. There were no strictly prime heavy beef steers, but there were some right good light cattle and as high as $9.15 was paid. The best grades of weighty cattle might be quoted steady, but the general run of common to right good steers were 100:15c lower than last week. than two weeks ago. On the whole the quality of today's supply showed a great deal of improvement over last week, several loads of fairly good western spring lambs and wethers showing up in the re-ceipts. Bulk of the consignments were to right good steers were 102/15c lower than last week. The general market on cows and heifers showed about the same decline as beef steers, although, as a matter of course, a right good bunch of dry lot cows or heifers might possibly have commanded steady or close to steady prices. Stockers and feeders were very hard to move for the reason that there wer mor of that kind of cattl on sale, while buyers were backward about holding at prevailing prices, which to their eyes look high. As a result the market on all kinds of stock cattle and feeders was slow and lower. Suyers were no longer looking after weight, but on the contrary quality appeared to be uppermost in their minds regardless of weight. STANDS WITH NECK BROKEN

Waldorf Miller, After Diving Accident, Never Gave Up

For the first time in nearly a year Waldorf Miller of New Rochelle, N. Y., who broke his neck diving from the rocks at Hudson park on the night of July 3, 1911, is able to stand on his feet. Until spending money and talking politics set- this morning he was believed to be he,p less, but he never lost his strong faith that he would recover and this has aided his improvement.

This morning he was sitting in an in valid's chair under a tree at his home. of the same general trend. They, were 121 Clinton avenue, talking with friends addressed to wives and mothers and He was telling them that he could lift his legs off the chair and sit up and did it for them. One of his friends asked if he could stand. Though he had not attempted it, he answered: He put his feet on the ground and stood up for about five seconds and then fell back on his chair. He was as astonished tion on Saturday and Sunday, and the as his friends were, and called to his mother to come out and see him stand, and he stood up again for nearly half a minute, supported by his mother and his uncle, Edward J. Cordial. Then his

I'll bet I'll come pretty near keeping my promise. Gee, this is great. If you all along the line, and many an alternate hadn't asked me if I could stand, and made me chuck a bluff, I don't think I would have known what I could do. NOTE—In addition to the $17,977,000 underlying securities shown above there are now outstanding on four of the properties $556,400 bonds, which the Company has agreed to retire, on or before February 1, 1913, as explained below.

These bonds will be secured by a First Mortgage on the property formerly owned by the La Porte Electric Company, La Porte Gas Light Company, Fort Dodge Light and Power Company, Cedar Rapids Gas Light Company, Ottumwa Gas Light, Heat and Power Company, and by deposit of all the stock of the Cadillac Gas Light Company, and all the stock and bonds of the Mattoon Gas Light and Coke Company. There are various underlying liens upon the properties mentioned aggregating $556,400, which the Company has agreed to retire on or before February 1, 1913. No bonds are to be issued for the purpose of retiring these underlying liens. These properties, on which the United Light and Railways bonds will be a first lien, earned net for the year ending April 30, 1912, considerably more than the interest on the present issue. There will also be deposited with the Trustee as further security under the mortgage a very large majority and, in most instances, all of the stock of the other subsidiary companies above mentioned.
