Venner Declares Mulcted by City

NEW YORK, July 1.-(Special Teleagainst the city officials of Omaha in a suit filed in the supreme court here today by Clarence H. Venner, a New York banker. Mr. Venner, who is suing the city of Omaha for $14,000, declared that he agreed to buy $600,000 of the bonds of the western city on the representations sent broadcast by Frederick H. Cosgrove, comptroller of Omaha. The banker freely charges that the circulars falsely stated the assessed valuation of property in Omaha, its bonded debt, and were otherwise filled with misrepresentations.

Mr. Venner declared he bid 102,513 for he issue of $600,000 of bonds, which was premium of $15,078. His bid was acepted and he forwarded a check for $5,000 to insure his performance of the contract. Later he notified the city that he had cancelled the contract and asked for the return of his money, but it was refused. Had everything been as represented, Mr. Venner said he could have

SOUTH AVENUE

City Engineer Furnishes Estimates of Cost of Work.

MAY ISSUE BONDS FOR TRUCK

New Equipment for Fire Station May Be Paid for Only in This > Manner-Oil for Laying the Dust.

Three estimates of the cost of paving South avenue were furnished to the city council last night, the pavement extending from Sixteenth avenue and High to the city limits. The estimates were based on the use of different materials and varying width of the pavement, and ranged from $59,221.40 for the highest to $15,022.72 for the lowest. The estimates were furnished by City Engineer Stimson upon request of the council and the Commercial club. The first provided for a pavement of Galesburg block on a concrete base at a cost of $2.10 per yard and of a width of ond estimate for the same material was the distance, beginning at High street and Sixteenth Avenue, and sixteen feet for the remainder, reducing the total cost to $39,006.88. The third was for a County Abstract company of Council that race, and I can prove it by the the first half to be of brick at the $2.10 rate, and the remainder of concrete at $1.30 per yard, at a cost of $15,022.72. All of the estimates included combination curbing the full distance. As the estimates were only for the information of the members and of the Commercial club in compliance with official request no action was taken.

May Have Bond Issue. The only action taken in relation to the proposed purchase of an automobile fire truck related to the question of the necessary bond issue to pay for it. Alder man Fisher, who brought up the matter, stated that as another bond issue would be required if the new truck was pur chased he wanted the council to decide at once about the erection of another fire station on the site proposed by Alderman Boyer in the western part of the city and to settle the question of the purchase of a street flusher so that a bond issue sufficiently targe to cover all the proposed expense could be made. He asked and secured the assent of the council to request City Treasurer F. T. True to make an official statement of the city's finances showing if such an issue can be legally made and to report at an early date.

A communication was received from Major E. R. Schultz of Kansas City. asking the city's intentions concerning the settlement of the government's claim of the payment for the stone appropriated and used when the river be gan cutting a new channel across the town west of the Illinois Central bridge. When Major Schultz was here last week in answer to telegrams calling attention to the threatened destruction of the riprapping he was told about the appropriation of the stone. It was first suggested to send him a revised copy of Congressman Green's letter declaring that claims for material and work done were almost impossible to collect after the work had been done," but it was decided to permit City Clerk Duff to write the major a pretty letter.

The proposition of Peter Peterson. made last year to pay $1.000 in full for all special assessments in connection with building the retaining wall and new Indian creek bridge on North Main street was discovered to have been agreed to but never officially accepted. Mr. Peterson caused the matter to be brought up last evening with the statement that he wanted to erect a factory building on the property to be improved and to have one wall of his building rest on the retaining wall and the west side of the new bridge to form the east boundary line of his property. In consideration of this he offered to increase the amount to be paid by him to $1,150. The matter was referred to the city engineer to report upon what extra strength, if any, would be required for the retaining wall if used for a building foundation.

Architect Frederick E. Cox submitted board of county supervisors. The plans clocks. call for a building costing $2,000, including the heating plant, while the county board only authorized the expenditure of $1,000. The mayor was authorized to appoint a committee of three aldermen to submit the plans to the county board.

Alderman Fisher renewed the attempt to have some experiments tried for using Big Returns.

oil instead of water on the streets, and stated that Manager English of the gas company had offered to donate the oil. He suggested that the experiment be tried on East Broadway and on West Broadway west of Fourteenth street. The suggestion was also made that South avenue be included in the experiments. Alderman Fisher said that sprinkler suitable for spreading the crude tar oil could be purchased for $125. The matter was referred to the streets and alleys committee to report at the next regular meeting. City Solicitor Stuart was asked to file written opinion concerning the legality avenue sewer which could be used if constructed until the general sewer system for the west part of town has been completed, the report to be made as soon as possible. The proposition of a dealer to supply sanitary drinking fountains on the streets and in Bayliss park was referred to the water board.

More Speeders Are Caught by Police

Jesse L. Hiatt of Omaha and A. H. Lipp of Council Bluffs engaged in an automobile race on West Broadway Sunday evening and had attained a speed that caused Mounted Officer Mahoney to throw his motorcycle into high gear to overhaul them. They were in police court yesterday morning. A third man, a local banker, had also been drawn into it, but showed that his machine had taken fright when the others passed him. It was of assessing the costs of the Fifth shown that they were on opposite sides of the street and the banker between, but that the latter got his automobile under control.

Mrs. Downs Wants Report on the Cash

Upon the application of Mrs. Sarah G. Downs, Judge Wheeler yesterday made an order directing Cashlers Hubert Tinley of the State Savings bank and C. E. Price of the Commercial National to bring their books into court tomorrow morning and show the amounts deposited by Cyrus D. Kuhn during the five years previous to his death, about December 1, 1907. Mrs. Downs alleges that the annual report of the guardian of Clayton C. and Frances D. Kuhn, minor children of the deceased, did not show amounts believed to have 200 been on deposit in the banks mentioned? Attached to the application is a schedule showing deposits within the five-year period mentioned amounting to $8,468.33, which Mrs. Downs alleges were given to 112 Cyrus Kuhn by his mother and father prior to their death. The court's order also cites the guardian to be present in court tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock and show why the funds were not reported. The court's order also provides for an examination of the books and papers in the accounts of the estate of Cyrus D. Kuhn.

HUGHES IS RE-ELECTED SECRETARY OF BOARD

In the absence of President Tinley and Secretary Hughes the school board last night held a very brief annual meeting. One of the things to be attended to in compliance with the school laws was the election of the secretary. As Mr. Hughes is fighting and bleeding, or being bled, for his country in the great bat-200 tle at Baltimore, the board gave him a unanimous and complimentary vote for re-election. F. C. Hendricks presided and Miss Emma Peterson, private secretary of Mr. Hughes, acted as secretary of the
