

For the WOMEN FOLK

Off for Europe

Many Omahans remained home to celebrate the Fourth, but are leaving the first of next week to spend the summer abroad.

Mr. A. G. Beeson will leave Monday for the east, where he will meet Mrs. Beeson, who is visiting relatives. They will go to Canada and sail July 12 on the Empress of Ireland. After landing in England they will visit London and then tour the continent, visiting Holland, France, Germany and Switzerland before returning home in September. Miss Katherine Beeson, who is visiting her grandmother in Lafayette, Ind., will return home shortly and accompany Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butler and Miss Mildred Butler to Prior Lake for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Mahoney, who had planned to sail on the new French liner, La France, will sail instead on the George Washington, the latter part of next week. La France was detained at the French port by the strike.

Ex-Senator J. H. Millard, Miss Jessie Millard and Miss Anna Downs left Thursday for New York to sail Saturday on the Olympia for a six weeks' trip in Europe. They plan to return August 26.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burgess, who are visiting relatives in Chicago and Pontiac, Ill., will sail July 12 from Boston on the Franconia and will spend six weeks in Europe.

At Happy Hollow

Mr. John A. Moore will entertain at luncheon Saturday for Mrs. Wilson of Atkinson, Neb., guest of Mrs. Arthur Crossman.

Those who have made dinner reservations for Saturday evening at the club are Reed Peters, who will have two guests; H. M. Watkins, four; B. W. Tandy, six; G. W. Noble, seven; Byron Clark, four.

At Rod and Gun Club

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Aldrich from Walnut, Ia., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eddy at Scramble Inn at the Rod and Gun club.

Seymour Lake Club

Seymour lake had its formal opening on the Fourth. The grounds of the club are shady, making golf playing attractive even on hot days, while the lake is fine for boating and was very popular all evening. A large orchestra has been engaged for the dances and last evening was only one of many enjoyable dances planned for the summer. The boat house is complete in all its bath appointments, thus making the club unusually attractive.

Pleasures Past

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Reum entertained two score of their friends last evening with a Fourth of July celebration on the lawn of their beautiful new home, 2017 Spencer street. The lawn was decorated with Japanese lanterns which added to its natural beauty. Mr. Reum having transferred some of the rustic effects from the Pappio View Farm to his new home. Refreshments were served on the lawn and Clarence Reum, a son, had charge of a magnificent fireworks display.

Miss Winifred Brandt entertained at a Japanese lawn party Thursday evening at her home at 2553 Jackson street. The lawn, where the refreshments were served, was decorated with Japanese lanterns and flags. Several things are planned for next week for Miss Gertrude McCarthy, guest of Miss Marion Kuhn. Miss Louise Dinning will entertain at luncheon; Miss Stella Hamilton will entertain at luncheon; Mrs. W. J. Connell will give a dinner party. Definite dates have not as yet been agreed on.

WILSON PLEASURES DEMOCRATS

Herbert S. Daniel Speaks of Sentiment Following Convention.

BRYAN BIGGEST MAN IN PARTY

With Wilson in the Field Commissioner Daniel Says There Now Is No Need for a Roosevelt Party.

Herbert S. Daniel of the Omaha contingent to the Baltimore convention returned yesterday morning.

It was a convention of young men, he believed, more than any national assemblage ever held. "And the young men were practically all for Wilson," he continued. "They seemed to like the man. He has a fine personality, a clean record, and he carried on his campaign for the nomination in a clean and dignified way, holding himself aloof from any entanglement that would discredit him, so that the delegates that went there for Wilson just simply stuck to the man through thick and thin."

Mr. Daniel says it was no great hardship for the Nebraska delegation to vote for Wilson when the time came, because although the state primaries went for Clark, the delegates elected to the convention were, with the exception of three, Wilson men at heart.

Bryan Was Unselfish. Mr. Daniel says that the talk of Bryan's having expected the nomination is unfounded, as it was clear from the fight Bryan made that he sought nothing for himself, and he pointed out that Bryan said on the floor of the convention that he would relinquish all leadership of the party to Wilson. As to the statement of Governor Dix of New York, advising Wilson to cut loose from Bryan and the Bryan influence, Mr. Daniel said, "I am sure Mr. Bryan will not force himself upon Mr. Wilson in any way in which Wilson will not want his services, and besides the Bryan influence cannot hurt the candidate, for the whole atmosphere back at Baltimore and on the way out here shows the sentiment to be that Bryan is greater than he ever was before, and even greater than if he had received the nomination himself. Bryan simply dominated that convention from start to finish," was the way Mr. Daniel characterized the situation.

DR. CRYER'S VISIT RECALLS INTERESTING FAMILY HISTORY

Dr. Mathew H. Cryer of Philadelphia, professor of anatomy in the University of Pennsylvania and a brother of the late Major John H. Cryer, once prominent in Omaha, has been the guest for a few days of A. L. Reed and he has also visited his old friend, George Barker. His business here was to look after land he and his sisters own in Douglas county. Around this land clusters many an interesting feature. The first 100 acres of this land, lying two miles north of Millard, was pre-empted by Dr. Cryer's mother about 1857 and the estate gradually was increased to 700 acres. Never has this land been sold or transferred. It is supposed to be one of the very few parcels of land in this county held in the possession of one ownership for more than fifty years. Another interesting feature about it is that Mrs. Cryer was the first woman to pre-empt land in Nebraska. She was the third woman to become a citizen of the United States and her son, Dr. Cryer, believes he is the only man living who became a citizen through his mother's citizenship. They were of English origin and the father died in England.

In 1861 the Cryers and the Barkers, parents of George and the late Joseph Parker, sr., came from England on the same ship and they lived for a long time in Ohio. Mrs. Cryer and her family came to Nebraska in 1858. She pre-empted her land the next year and returned to Salem, O. Dr. Cryer went with her. Major Cryer was once a well-known lawyer and business man of Omaha. A. L. Reed, who is the trustee of the Cryer property here, says that the oldest names on the Byron Reed books are the Cryers and the Folsoms. They were first entered there by his father, back in the latter '50's.

Bricklayers Strike and Tilt is Carried to Council Chamber

Union bricklayers have quit work on the Happy Hollow sewer because George & Co., who are paying $100,000 for their share of the improvement, had failed to employ an inspector from the ranks of the union. The matter was brought to a head in the city council when Commissioner Hummel and Secretary Ed Shannon of the bricklayers' union went to a clash following the latter's charge that a butcher had been detailed to inspect the sewer.

"He is a butcher," said Hummel, "and he's a brick inspector who has been in the employ of the city engineering department. The only trouble is that he's too good for that job out there."

Shannon insisted that a union man be appointed to inspect the work of the two men in the ditch. All bricklayers have struck and refused to return to work until a union man is employed. Hummel was obdurate, but the other councilmen prevailed upon him to take up with George & Co. the matter of employing a union inspector.

Hummel said George & Co. had promised to put a union man in charge at their own expense, but had failed to do so. The park commissioner said the city's share of the inspection had been paid.

The contractor and R. A. Webber, a bricklayer, seconded Shannon's attitude. There is about five days' work to be done on the sewer.

AUTOMOBILE IDENTIFIED AS MAGNEY'S PROPERTY

The damaged automobile found Thursday afternoon on South Thirteenth street near the German Home, has been identified as the property of Deputy County Attorney Magney. The machine was taken out in a garage for repairs and was taken out by mechanics for a test. Near the German Home the auto went wrong again and it was abandoned until it could be hauled back to the garage.

FIRST WORK STARTED ON ORNAMENTAL LIGHTS

First work toward the installation of the new ornamental lighting system has been started at Eighteenth and Douglas. The posts now being placed in the ground are duplicates of the ones now in use. The present lights will not be removed until the new ones are ready, which will be sometime during AK-Sar-Ben week.

MANY ENTERTAINMENTS FOR NEBRASKA EDITORS

The Union Stock Yards company will entertain the visiting Nebraska editors at luncheon Monday noon. The editors come to Omaha at the invitation of the Kais of Ak-Sar-Ben and the Omaha Commercial club. They will be entertained in the afternoon at the Country club, at 6 o'clock dinner at the Commercial club and at the Ak-Sar-Ben Den Monday night.

FIRST NEBRASKA WILL FORM AN ORGANIZATION

Members of the First Nebraska regiment will meet this evening at Baright hall to effect an organization if possible. A meeting has been held by members of the regiment who live in Omaha and a decision has been reached to form a club. Captain Richards, Captain Stockham and Major Vickers will attend the meeting. Fred B. Cook is in charge of the committee on arrangements.

TEMPERATURE OF FRIDAY COOLER THAN YEAR AGO

Those who sweltered, fumed and stewed today because of the hot weather might get some consolation out of the fact that a year ago on July 5 the mercury tried to climb out of the tube, registering 107 degrees. A year ago on the Fourth the temperature was 106. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon 92 was reached, fifteen degrees below the record of last year.

THREE ARE FINED FOR VIOLATING LAWS OF FOURTH

A. Freedman, a second-hand merchant at 116 Farnam street, was fined $1 and costs in police court for selling blank cartridges. The state statute prohibits the sale of these cartridges. Herbert Grondon and Isadore Migdol were fined $1 and costs for placing torpedoes on the street car track yesterday. Lee Lytle was fined $1 and costs for shooting a revolver.

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO STOP LIQUOR SALE

PIERRE, S. D., July 6.—(Special.)—It appears that the "ants" are getting busy with the liquor laws of the state, taking every opportunity so to speak to get a twist on the tail of "Demon Rum," through the courts, when they failed to accomplish what they wanted at the polls. The latest places to be dry by decree of the courts are Clear Lake in the eastern part of the state and Wall in the western part. In each of these cases the legal requirements for the election which authorized licenses was not complied with as required by law, and the saloons are barred for at least a year until another vote can be had.

FORMER OMAHA WOMAN IS DROWNED AT NORFOLK

NORFOLK, Neb., July 5.—(Special Telegram.)—Mrs. Guy Stockton, age 30, wife of a local photographer, while wading with her husband in the Norfolk river, stepped into a hole twelve feet deep and was drowned. Her husband was unable to swim and could not save her. She leaves a daughter 3 years old.

Mrs. Stockton was formerly Miss Anna West of Omaha, a nurse. Mr. Stockton's father, W. W. Stockton, is a business man of Omaha, residing at 325 Jackson street.

Sidney Man's Yawn is Cause of Death

FORT COLLINS, Colo., July 5.—(Special Telegram.)—While indulging in a yawn, John Cooney of Sidney, Neb., forced a gallstone through the abdominal wall, causing intense pain, from which he died a few hours later. Cooney was spending his vacation at Dale Creek. Soon after he yawned he suffered such intense pain that he was brought to a hospital here at once, but his condition became too precarious for an operation. Mrs. Cooney was at his bedside when he died and will accompany the body to Nebraska. Mr. Cooney was 59 years old and apparently in the best of health.
