own of Florence and the Florence school district to force the city of Omaha to pay taxes on water plant property in Florence will be made until the city of Omaha lets a contract for the new Florence water main in Florence. That contract will not be awarded until the controversy between the Omaha city council and the Omaha Water board over authority to locate mains has been settled.

"We shall do nothing further until they let a contract and start to dig up our streets to lay a main," said R. H. Oimsted of McCoy & Olmsted, counsel for the town of Florence. "Then we shall enjoin them unless the city agrees to pay taxes on its property in Florence. "So far they have contracted for the new Florence main only from Omaha to Miller park. When they let the balance of the job, the part in Florence, we shall start injunction suit against Omaha and against the contractors. If Omaha agrees to pay the taxes we will give it a permit to tear up our streets and lay the main: if it does not we shall fight." Corporation Counsel Ben S. and says no such injunction suit can

State Auditor Silas R. Barton was in Omaha yesterday and is optimistic in regard to the outlook for success of the republican ticket both state and national. Speaking of Woodrow Wilson, he said it was his opinion that a "pedagogue is not the man for the presidency of the United States." And he believed it was the opinion of a great many throughout the Speaking of the republican situation in the state he said, "I've been out in the state a great deal of late and especially in the Fifth district, and I found a great many pretty radical fellows both of the Roosevelt and Taft followers, and they all say the thing for us to do is to get together and win this fall." For this reason Mr. Barton says he does not anticipate much of a fight at the state convention in Lincoln July 30. He belives the factions will see the folly in a fight in the state and will tread lightly on the subjects that might precipitate

'If a Roosevelt party sould be organized in the state," said Mr. Barton. "I am sure it will simply endorse the rest of the ticket in the state and, so that no matter what we do with the head of the ticket we will elect the entire

DEMAND FOR STRAW HATS HAS DEPLETED SUPPLIES

Straw hat sales this year have doubled over those of last season and with the early rush just finished stock is the lightest in years and will probably have to be replenished before the summer is

The rough straw seems to be the most popular-the kind with the raised weave effect along the brim and crown. In the with a rather wide brim, which can be turned down around the edges to give a regular "punkin center" effect. Only a few of Omaha's younger set have taken to this style. Women and girls are wearing white straws, "Merry Widow" Panamas and colored straws, with the nonchalance of picnickers. When the little tots go out for a walk in the park on Sunday dainty creations with red and white bands top their heads. When Johnny goes fishing or sneaks away for a dip in the lake he pated, but it is felt that it would be use wears his old standby, a little frayed at the edges of the brim, but, nevertheless,

In short, nearly everybody in Omaha but the policeman is wearing straw lids mer-and he would if he could.

Average Half

Think what it means to have 50,000 yards, or a little over 28 miles, of the season's finest wash goods spread before you at an average half price-and the season only fairly begun.

If all these goods were laid end to end they would reach from here to Missouri Valley or Glenwood, Iowa, and more than six times as far as this store is from Pearl and Broadway, Council Bluffs. Think what a choosing that is for you-the largest wash goods stock ever placed on sale in Omaha and all so conveniently arranged that you can pick from the various lines in a very short time.

The entire silk department's display space as well as that belonging to the wash goods section proper, has been given over to the sale; extra salespeople have been provided; and yet the crowd is bound to be so great at such a wash goods festival as this that shopping in the morning will be more than advisable.

Mrs. Edna Turner, Fourteenth and Jackson streets, the lad's former foster nother, appealed to the judge for an order restoring custody of the child to her, but Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dickson of near Teksmah, who are caring for the child, are unwilling to give him up. Edward, the boy in the case, is 9. Mrs. Turner took him when he was an orphan 3 weeks old. For five years she cared for him. Then her husband died and the little fellow was taken into uvenile court. It was said the mother was unable to give him proper care. The Dicksons wanted a boy and the judge placed Edward in their custody. Now comes Mrs. Turner and says there is no longer any reason why she should not have the child. She is employed as a waltress. She has an aunt who is willing to look after the child during the day while she works.

Mrs. Turner wept as she begged the ourt to give her back the child. The judge took the matter under advisement.

AGED EXPRESSMAN IS THROWN FROM HIS WAGON

men in the city, living at 1630 North Thirty-first street, was severely injured when he was thrown from his wagon at Thirteenth and Harney streets about 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

Allen was driving east on Harney in the car tracks and a car was coming west. The motorman clanged his gong and Allen in attempting to get out of the tracks caught his wheels in the rails and was thrown from the wagon, alighting on his shoulder and side. He received a bruised shoulder and two broken ribs and may be internally injured. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was at-
