Bullish Returns Expected from the Soft Wheat States.

SNAPPINESS IS SHOWN IN CORN

Opinions Difer on Crop Figures, but the Country Will Need Perfect Conditions to Carry Crop Through.

OMAHA, July 11, 1913. The entire northwest has low temperatures and cloudy map today. Trade exand threshing in the soft wheat states. More wheat will be moving from the southwest to this market now that the elevator differences have been settled. Best statisticians are figuring that the country will have somewhat less wheat supply all told than last year. Everything else will be secondary to the temperatures over the corn belt as a factor. Cash markets showed snap sterday and today. Shipping sales here are large. Opinions differed on crop yesterday and today. Shipping sales here were large. Opinions differed on crop figures, but giving the report its most bearish constitution, the country will need almost perfect conditions to carry crop through safely.

The big oats crop is so near maturity that the late months are almost certain to be under selling pressure.

Primary wheat receipts were 330,000 bu. and shipments 48,600 bu., against receipts last year of 1,142,000 bu. and shipments of 167,000 bu.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, July II.—Hints that rust had appeared in the northwest today unsettled the price of wheat. The close, although nervous, was 164c to 16c under last night. Corn at the finish ranged from 16c to 16c advance, oats down 166c to 16c and provisions unchanged to a decline of 16c.

A dip occurred at the outset in wheat because of cool and favorable weather for

A dip occurred at the outset in wheat because of cool and favorable weather for the development of the spring crop. Dry conditions southwest, favoring the movement of the winter yield, counted also against the bulls. Suddenly, however, quotations started on a rapid swing upward. Rumors were current that rust had been observed in two counties of southern Minnesota. Before there was time to investigate or reflect prices ran up 1½c a bu. Minneapolis experts nevertheless did not appear to be much exertheless did not appear to be much exertheless did not appear to be much exertheless did not appear to be much exertised. According to good authorities little wheat was growing in the section named and the chance of serious danger at this time was slight.

and the chance of serious danger at this time was slight.

Weakness prevailed in the last hour among wheat traders on account of talk that rust was present every year in the northwest and that detriment occurred only if the plant was prevented from filling. Such a contingency the bears asserted to be remote. Accordingly the September option, which had fluctuated from 304,609% to $1.0161.01%, was back to $1.00% all the close, $46% to lower than last night.

Betterment of demand from the east helped to sustain corn. September varied from 68% to 56% (Cash grades were firm. No. 2 yellow, 74674%c.

September oats ranged from 35c to 35% (Sec. with the close %c lower at 35%c.

Provisions sagged, owing to a larger run of hogs. Pork was the leader in the decline, but in the end the average drop for the list taken altogether did not exceed 5c.

on in Paris. NEW YORK, July 11.—Stocks today were characterized by alternates, declines and railies, with more or less hesitation at the end. Business was light except early on prospects of a manufacturers stringency. Call loans later went to 3½ per cent and induced some liquidation with a liberal admixture of short selling. Sentiment was largely bearish, this attitude being based, in part, on monetary uncertainty and the apparent lack of buying power in the market.

CATTLE—Receipts of cattle were very light again this morning, there really not being enough in sight of any one kind to make a good full test of the market. At the same time there was the usual demand and buyers were all out in the yards early in the morning, with the result that practibally everything. the result that practically everything had been sold and the yards deserted before 10 o'clock in the morning. freely.

The market continued extremely slow until the close. There were no sheep of any consequence on sale and for that reason the feeling on them was about steady. On the other hand lambs were in most cases 15@25c lower or 25@50c than the high day of the week, was Tuesday. It took right good lambs to bring $7.50. A bunch of fed yearlings sold at $6.00. and it was out of the same feed lot as yearlings that sold before this week at $6.60.

Greek Bootblacks Have Holiday; Are Guests of Y. M. C. A.

When you step into your favorite shining parlor this morning, Mr. Business Man, and notice an odd look on the face of the boy who polishes your boots, don't credit it to the recent rain Human beings may be something like flowers, and rain may have the power of chirking up the flowers, but there never has been a rain in the history of Omaha that could bring such a look to the face of the usually begrimed bootblack.

So little Demetrius, who shines you shoes today with extra vigor has a clean face from which a happy grin radiates,-a grin that may be seen. Sometimes these shine boys grin but the thick coat of shoe polish that they constantly use hides it from the sight

Some of the boys attended the night school at the association rooms last winter and were acquainted with the delights offered by membership in the association. The membership fee was prohibitory and never until last night had any of them actually tested the devices and athletic arrangemets so dear to the heart of the youth of this land. Many of the "boys" last night were bald-headed and past the thirtieth milestone of their life, but they were boys nevertheless and enjoyed their fun as keenly as did the "shine boys" of fifteen who are "boys" in the real sense

France Adopts New Reform Measure for Electing Officers

PARIS. July 11.-The chamber of deputies adopted tonight the government electoral reform bill by a vote of 339 to 217. The bill provides, first, for the abolition of the system of small French constituencies established in 1897 whereby each elector votes for one deputy only. and for a return to the system of list voting, whereby each elector votes for as many deputies as the entire depart ment has to select; second, for a system for the representation of minorities, whereby it is arranged that after the poll is taken the total number of actual roters in the department shall be divided by the number of seats to be filled, in order to obtain the electoral quotient.

As a first step, each list of candidates will obtain as many seats as the num into the total number of votes cast for that list. For the disposal of the remaining seats the different electoral lists in efore election to that effect. If, after more than half the total number of votes cast unless they already posses a majority of the total number of seats. The passage of the electoral reform bill is a notable triumph for Premier Poincaire, in view of the fact that a legislation of the powerful socialist radical group, which form an important part of the government's majority

DEBATE MOST STARTS FIGHT

House Members from Connecticut Give Expression to Their Views.

REILLY AND HILL HAVE IT OUT

Officers of the Legislative Body Take Positions to Stop the Battle that Did Not Materialize.

WASHINGTON, July 11 .- A fierce political debate which came perilously close to fisticuffs created a stir in the house yesterday. The participants were Representatives Hill and Reilly of Connecticut, the former a republican and the latter a democrat. Bitter feeling between them beginning with Reilly's election, increased last winter when Reilly attacked Hill in a speech in the house, The trouble today began when Hill, without warning, launched into a political speech criticising the labor views of Governor Woodrow Wilson. He said Mr. Wilson, in addressing the Princeton university graduating class in 1909, assailed labor organisations on the ground that they made "unprofitable servants" by hampering the individuality of their members. Hill declared that the re-election of President Taft was assured.

"Mr. Chairman," shouted Reilly, "the gentleman is much more confident of the election of William Howard Taft than he was at a recent meeting of Connecticut postmasters."

Reilly held aloft a letter which he said he had "providently" received this morning. His informant, who had heard Hill address the Connecticut postmasters, quoted Hill as saying that there would be many familiar faces missing from around the board "If they did not do better work in the next election than they did in the last" and as admonishing his hearers to "take off their coats and work openly for the continuation of the administration."

Angrily advancing down the aisle, Reilly declared that Hill had personally attacked him in that speech. He quoted from Hill's remarks: "Behold the man you have sent to Washington to represent this district. Do you know what he is doing? He is voting with the southern democrats to destroy the manufacturers of Connecticut. Near Fighting Point.

Reilly vehemently denied that his vote was cast for tariff measures that would jeopardize the manufacturing interests of the country. "I am sick and tired of hearing the gentleman from Connecticut," he cied. The knowall of tariff legislation with whom the distinguished gentleman from New York, Mr. Payne, is a mere piker. No one knows anything but the gentleman from Connecticut. I say I am sick and tired of hearing him, under the guise of protecting the American working-man, getting up here and feeding them with speeches on the tariff."

Reilly referred to Mr. Hill's speeches on the tariff as buncombe. Through his arraignment, Hill vainly sought to interrupt. When he got the floor he was trembling with anger. Standing in front of the speaker's desk, Hill shook a menacing first in his colleague's direction and charged him with having unfairly and knowingly assailed him in a speech last winter. "He did it deliberately," shouted Hill.

"He might have known his charges were ing from any man, republican or demothey were written on, but they make the man unworthy of any credence whatever, either now or in the future." The two Connecticut members, with eyes ablaze, were close to each other. A number of members shifted to positions nearer the center of action. The sergeant at arms also took up positions of vantage. Reilly then turned from Hill and sought his seat.

Patrons Who Violate Water Board's Order Will Be Dealt With

Water Commissioner Howell was authorized by the water board yesterday afternoon to cut off without notice the water supply of any patron found violating the orders prohibiting sprinkling except between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock in the morning. Before vote was taken on the resolution conferring this authority Charles R. Sherman suggested that the statutes be examined to determine if the board had Patrons of the plant who have been caught by the vigilant water commissioners in the act of sprinkling sunscorched lawns in violation of the rule may secure water service after it has been cut off only at the discretion of the water commissioner. Residents have been petitioning the water board to abandon its policy of prohibiting sprinkling in the evenings, but without effect. Improvement clubs, it is understood, are seriously considering the advisability of contesting the enforcement of the ruling. Commissioner Howell can promise no relief until the Florence water main is completed, which will not be in time to relieve the situation this year.

California to Have a Law on Prize Fighting

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 11.-Sports nen, who are represented here by A. L. Greenwald, are preparing initiative petitions for legislation to establish the legality of limited round boxing contests through the state. The ballot in the general election next November is likely to bear two proposals relating to the boxing game, one fathered by the church interests to prohibit absolutely all professional ring contests; the other, not only to pre serve the present status of the pugilists, but to extend their sphere within the
