Plot to Murder Rosenthal Brought Closer to Police.

HUNT FOR A GUN FIGHTER

Jack Rose Says Mun Named Schiffs Was in the Auto When He Left It-Shapiro Talks to District Attorney.

NEW YORK, July 19 .- The murder plot that brought Herman Rosenthal to his death that the gambler might tell no tales, is today being brought closer to the "police system."

William Shapiro, part owner of the 'murder car," is giving the public secuter information that strengthens the belief that the slaver of Rosenthal did not spring from the enemity of samblers. Shapiro admits that when his motor car was engaged he was told that policemen had knowledge of what was going to happen and that nobody was in His name is Schipps and detectives are scouring the city for him. What Rose told Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty makes the police official quite anxious to know more about "Bridgie" Webber, pool room keeper and friend of Rosenthal. Rose said when he left the car uptown he dropped in on Webber, but later it appears that Webturned up at the Hotel Metropole just before Rosenthal was shot and there shook hands with the gambler. Webber also was seen at the hotel after the Shapiro, through his counsel, admits that he is in a bad situation and hopes that he will be dealt with easily if tells all he knows of the murderers and the killing. He is willing to take chances with the district attorney, but he won't talk to the police.

For the first time the name of "Big Jack" Zeeling, the East Side gang leader and gambler, who recently was shot by a "Chick" Triggs gangster, is brought into the case today. Detectives heard that Zeelig, who is known as the righthand man of Sam Paul, another East Side gang leader, was seen talking to Rose on the night of the murder. According to the story, Rose was trying to get Zeelig to do something for him and Zeelig was promised as a sort of reward concealed weapon, now pending against him. Zeelig's lawyer says he is not in town and has not been since July 10.

Developments are expected today from three hours' conference District Attorney Whitman had early today at his iome with a mysterious man said to be a well known gambler and friend of Rosenthal's. Mr. Whitman said after the meeting:

"I shall have nothing to say now concerning the man who called on me. Perhaps later I'll have matters so arranged that I shall be in position to give the details of what I have learned." Mr. Whitman, however, intimated that he had discovered important evidence and that today he will issue subpoenas on the strength of the man's statements. Whitman's visitor is said to be a well known gambler. Private citizens have promised funds for a private investigation by private detectives to clear up the mystery in which the police are involved. With the advent of private detectives, five distinct investigations will be under way in connection with the Rosenthal murder. The police and district attorney are detectives will make the fifth.

The city is offering meters at $8, but the plumbers infer the kind they will sell is far inferior to that they have been marketing. Plumbers duction of Rates at This Time, but Objects to Hours for Sprinkling.

Protests against the action of the Water board in ruling that property holders must pay part cost of construction of new mains and objections to the order prohibiting sprinkling between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock a. m., are pouring upon Water Commissioner Howell from individuals and improvement clubs." Riverview Improvement club, representing more than 100 citizens, consents to a non-reduction of rates at this time, but points out that laboring men have no chance under the sprinkling regulations, as the majority of them are on their way to work before 7 a. m. Central Improvement club has passed esolutions declaring the order in regard to main extensions a discrimination against property owners.

Riverview Club Objects. A letter, sent to the Water board, over the name of the Riverview club, by its secretary, A. P. Hansen, among other owners along new water main extensions with the cost of laying the same.

It is a fact, however, that the people now enjoying the advantages of having a water main in front of their properly did not have to pay a cent for them and it would clearly be an injustice to make those who want and need an extension of these mains pay for something which no one ever had to pay for when the no one ever had to pay for when the water works were owned by a private corporation. If this money was to be men will return to Omaha on the noon train. The car, which is a small one, is still lying upside down at the bottom of the gulch.

EIGHT SUFFRAGETTES IN JAIL

British Women Charged with Attempt to Burn Dublin Theater.

THROWS HATCHET AT ASQUITH

Mrs. Mary Leigh is Identified as Woman Who Attempted to Brain Premier While Driving to Hotel.

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 19.-Eight Eng-ish women have been taken into custody by the police in connection with the outbreaks here last night on the arrival of Mr. Asquith by suffragettes, who have been constantly dogging the heels of the British premier since he left England. The women are charged with complicity in the attempt to burn down the Dublin heater, where Mr. Asquith is scheduled to speak today. A blazing chair was thrown into the orchestra from a box occupied by two women, who then set fire to the box curtains. The fire caused panic among the audience.

The eight are also charged with complicity in the attempt to injure Mr. Asquith by throwing a hatchet at his carriage as the party was proceeding from the wharf to a hotel.

Hatchet Thrower Identified. Mrs. Mary Leigh, one of the suffragettes under arrest, was identified today as the thrower of the hatchet. It is aleged by the police that she intended to brain Mr. Asquith. Mrs. Leigh has long been a leader in the violent tactics of the militant suffragettes. As far back as July, 1908, she was arrested for breaking windows in a demonstration in London. At that time, on being sentened to two months in prison at hard labor, Mrs. ligh told the court: "The next time we come out you can expect bombs."

A year later Mrs. Leigh was again senenced to two months at hard labor at Birmingham, and on being released brought damages against the government for forcible feeding while in prison. The woman is described by the police as "the most troublesome suffragette" they have had to deal with. Mrs. Leigh was convicted for the eighth time in London last November for smashing windows and was sentenced to two months in jail without the option of a fine. The magistrate warned Mrs. Leigh that if she were again convicted she would be sent to jail for term at hard labor.

One of the women arrested last night gave the name of Gladys Evans and said the came from England.

Police Find Explosives. The police found quantitles of gunpowder, kerosene and other inflammable materials in the rooms occupied by the arrested suffragettes. The officials claim to have evidence showing that the plans of the militant women contemplated serious outrages.

Mary Leigh, Gladys Evans, Lizzie Baker and Mary Coffer appeared in the police court here today and were committed for trial.

The police testified that a canister, which apparently contained gunpowder, had been exploded in the theater. They had found on Gladys Evans a bag of gunpowder, a portion of the theater carpet saturated with petrol and a basketful of lighters. Three bottles of benzine and a tin of gunpowder also had been discovered by the police authorities. Their testimony brought out the fact that many lives had been endangered by the fire. hatchet at Mr. Asquith's carriage.
