TO CHANGE STREET FOR MAIN
City Council May Order New Pipe on Twenty-Eighth Street.

HOWELL SAYS EXPENSE MORE
More Pipe Will Be Required and More Private Property Must Be Crossed by the New Route.

Commissioner McGovern has introduced an ordinance in the city council fixing Twenty-eighth instead of Twenty-seventh street as the logical location of the new forty-eight-inch water main proposed by the Water Board as the only solution of the water problem at this time. The ordinance was referred and will be discussed in committee of the whole meeting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. If this ordinance passes it may necessitate additional delay to readvertise for bids for the construction of the main, contract for which has been let to Jackson & McKenna for $24,000. This will mean a delay of several weeks before the construction work begins.

Property Owners Object.
Property holders on Twenty-seventh street have objected to the main running on their street. Objection will now be raised by residents on Twenty-eighth street and further delay occasioned. This ordinance was introduced following a visit of the council to the two streets, accompanied by the water commissioner.

OMAHA HEIGHTS ASKS FOR FIRE PROTECTION
Richard Hensley, representing the Newport Belvidere Improvement club, has asked in the name of the club for greater fire protection for Omaha Heights. Commissioner Withnell of the department of fire protection and water supply has promised to purchase fire fighting apparatus if money can be secured.

Mr. Hensley is chief of a volunteer fire department and declares the volunteers would be unable to cope with a serious fire, the nearest fire station being at Thirtieth and Spaulding. Commissioner Withnell will also order two schools in that locality equipped with chemical fire extinguishers. He will talk up with the city commissioner the problem of purchasing the necessary equipment for an efficient sub-department at Omaha Heights.

THURSDAY EVENING STUNTS ENJOYED AT Y. M. C. A. PARK

The open house programs at the Young Men's Christian association park on Thursday evenings are proving very enjoyable and successful and the one last evening was perhaps the best of all. There were several numbers on the program, including reading, solos, fake boxing, match tumbling, psychic reading and a concert. These were genuine acts and called forth applause from a large and appreciative audience. The large porch of the club house was used as the stage. The program was as follows: Piano solo—Oris Richardson Solo—Miss Adele Davis Colored sketch—Miss Clara Davis Fake boxing and Albert Moore Songs—The Davis Sisters Contortionist—Lorito Solo—Mr. Whitcomb Reading—Miss May Morfarty Psychic reading—The Huntington Tumbling—Counaman and Liabie

MURRAY HOTEL BOUGHT BY PAXTON LANDLORD

Ralph Kitchen, owner of the Paxton hotel, will purchase the Murray hotel. This is now deemed certain, as Kitchen has secured permission to build viaducts across the alley from the Paxton to the Murray on the second, third, fourth and fifth floor levels. It is said that first payment has been made to Rome Miller and Mrs. Columbia Brown, owners of the Rome and the Murray hotels, and that all that was necessary to clinch the purchase of the Murray was permission to build these viaducts. Purchase of the Murray will give the Paxton owner 250 guest rooms. The first story of the Murray will be converted into stores. Office, lobby, dining room and grill room will be centered in the Paxton.

HOLT COUNTY PROSPECTS FOR HAY IS EXCELLENT

Holt county, the great hay producing county of the state, is expected to produce practically its normal amount of hay this year, even though drouth has visited that section within the last month as well as elsewhere. J. Coim of Ewing says the hay prospect is excellent and this is largely due to the early rains that started the grass well, and also to the heavy snow that provided abundant moisture for the stubble, so that the effect of the drouth that came later was not as blighting as it might otherwise have been. The crop prospect of the county is not especially good.

NEITHER PEYTON NOR HIS WIFE GIVEN RELIEF

Neither Lacey E. Peyton nor his wife, Cordelia, who have been airing their marital woes before Judge Howard Kennedy in the equity division of the district court, is entitled to any relief, according to the court's decision. Under the venerable legal maxim, as old as equity itself almost, that "he who comes into equity must come with clean hands," Judge Kennedy dismissed the case without finding for either party.
Mrs. Peyton asked separate maintenance and Peyton asked that her prayer be denied and that he be given a divorce. Each made ugly charges against the other. Judge Kennedy held that the allegations of both sides were proven sufficiently to show that both the husband and the wife were guilty.
Mrs. Peyton now will start an action at law to compel Peyton to support her.

LINCOLN WATER WIZARD PROPOSES LOCAL REMEDY

C. E. Kittinger, the "water wizard" of Lincoln, has written the city council that for $1,000 he will do away with typhoid fever in Omaha by locating subterranean streams of pure water to be used instead of the colon bacilli-laden wells from which water is now secured in several sections of the city. His letter has been referred to the health department.
