Dr. Hayes Gaunter of the ladies' social committee is getting acceptance to the invitations that indicate an attendance of about 500. Either basket lunches or table d'hote dinners will be in order.

Quiet Man Springs Surprise.

J. W. Griffith is known among his associates as a retiring man, in fact, he has actually retired as purchasing agent for the Union Pacific railroad; but he sprang a big surprise among the clans of the Country club the other evening. Just in passing—it is no small feat to give the blue Country clubbers a new sensation.

Mr. Griffith did not plan to be sensational when he appeared at the dinner party given by Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Jones in a dainty, cream colored tuxedo made of pongee, the thin, silky, oriental fabric so popular with the debutantes. He simply got into the habit of wearing white suits of filmy material while in the orient in his recent trip around the world, and likes them so well that he intends to keep right on wearing them until Jack Frost interferes. When the well known rail-roader arrived in Omaha a week or so ago, he found the temperature in the home town was not much different from that of Manila and Hongkong; so he made up his mind to risk attracting attention, to don his light suits and keep cool.

The cream colored pongee, tuxedo attire, Mr. Griffith reserves for formal occasions. At home, when gardening, or looking after his private interests in his library, he wears white suits of less perishable material, similar to duck. They are of the sack variety, with military collar, and were mistaken at first by the neighbors for pajamas.

Mr. Griffith not only enjoys his tropical attire; he also likes shopping in the orient. He declares that the little brown tailors over in the eastern hemisphere are much more expeditious than those in the west. He and about a hundred other men on the tourist ship ordered their white garb in Yokohama one day and received them in perfect shape the next. Mr. Griffith had a delightful trip. He left San Francisco several months ago, circled the globe as far as Italy, where he left the ship at Naples and branched off into Italy, Switzerland, France and the British Isles.

Will Have Rural Wedding.

In order that everyone may keep cool at their wedding Miss Ina Baselin and Roy Bloom will hold the most important event of their lives out in some country church amid the flowers and trees and breezes—away from the hot city. The young people have not decided at just what rural point the marriage will be celebrated, but it will be between Omaha and Fremont. The bride and groom, their attendants, the minister, Rev. O. D. Baitzley, and the parents, will all go to the selected place in automobiles. After the ceremony the young couple will take a trip through the Yellowstone and farther west. After their wedding trip they will reside in Omaha. Miss Baselin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Baselin.

Hay Fever Sufferers Leave.

Many Omaha hay fever sufferers have already left for lakes and mountains, and some have gone or are going abroad. Mrs. J. E. Summers, who leaves each summer at this time to escape hay fever, is one of those who will go abroad. She and Dr. Summers and the two children, Jack and Stuart, will sail August 3 for a month or six weeks in the British Isles. They will tour England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales and the Isle of Wight. Mrs. Pierre Colon Moriarty has already left for Europe and is having a delightful time in foreign cities free from hay fever. Mrs. William Hill Clarke always leaves Omaha the first of August and remains away until October 1. This year she may spend the two months in the mountains of Colorado. Mr. Clarke will be with her during August. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Rosewater, who go away each summer on account of Mr. Rosewater's hay fever, may sojourn in either northern Minnesota or Wisconsin this year.

Alfred Ellik, who is one of the hay feverites, will take his wife and children, Josephine and Robert, and go to Vermilion lake, northwest of Duluth. They will occupy their cottage there from August 19 to the time of the first frost in the fall. Mrs. George H. Thummel has found relief from hay fever for many summers at the Thummel home at Richards' Landing, Ontario, Canada. She and her daughter, Miss Katherine and Stella Thummel, left early this month for the north. George Thummel, Jr., who also has hay fever, went there from his college in the east and opened the summer home.

Hiking in the Alps.

Miss Portia Swett, who has been traveling abroad this summer, has just completed a climb half way up Mount Blanc, after having finished a four days' walking trip through the mountains, a distance of fifty miles, over narrow goat paths and huge glaciers with guides. They traveled entirely by foot, with knapsacks on their backs, stopping at quaint little chalets on the mountains to get milk and provisions. Her party is now taking another eight-day walking trip from Interlaken to Lucerne, after which Miss Swett will spend the remainder of the summer in study in Paris.

It has oft' been said that clothes of white will soon look anything but bright, but there's one concern that will put them right, so that folks can't say: "My, what a fright!" The concern in question, called Dresher Brothers, has cleaning methods strange to others, and at their plant on the street called Farnam, they are gaining fame as great as Barnum. Your white waist or dress, your trousers linen, may be cleansed like the mind of one who's sinned. Now, Dreshers really know their biz, their cleaning methods with knowledge sizz; they want your white clothes to clean and press; they want you to preserve your cool neat dress; they take out spots; they alter, too; they want the trade of folks like you. Their phones are listed T. Thirteen Hundred; their pay one way if you ship from afar; if work worth $3 goes via car; remember, friend, it's true and right, Dreshers are the PROPER folks to make clothes "white."
