BULL MOOSERS ARE QUIET
County Convention Does Not Put Ticket in Field.

WAIT FOR STATE CONVENTION
Desire is to Learn Whether that Body Will Be of Fighting Caliber, Then Local Organization Will Have Cue.

The bull moose sheds its horns early in the summer or late in the spring. By the middle of the summer the new shoots are like velvety knobs, and the last thing the creature thinks of is to use them in combat.

It was an interesting gathering, for everyone present expected something to happen, but no one knew who was going to make it happen or what it was going to be when it did happen.

The appointment of the delegates to the Des Moines gathering was fixed at eighteen and Robert Bruce Wallace asked that Dr. Spaulding of Avoca be called upon to assist Chairman Adams in selecting them.

The next work was to select a committee of three to look after the organization of the new party. It was headed by W. B. Oshard, editor of the Council Bluffs Monarch.

county offices who had avowed their desire to go on the ticket, nothing further remained to be done but to talk a little.

Robert B. Wallace was less politic and a whole lot stronger. He was ready to chase after the bull moose wherever he might go.

Mr. Killpack, at the suggestion of Mr. Wallace, again took the floor to explain the word "regularity" as applied to the national ticket and the state ticket.

Democrats Name Graham and Richards For Two Judgeships

The democratic convention of the Fifteenth judicial district was held yesterday afternoon in the south room of the county court house, at the same hour when the bull moosers were tearing up the rubber matting in the north room.

The convention was very brief, and although the number of delegates present was quite small, it was found that all of the nine counties were represented with the delegates present instructed to cast the full vote of each county.

Fremont Benjamin nominated J. M. Graham of Audubon for the short term, limited by vacancy occasioned when Judge Green resigned to go to congress, and the nomination was seconded by a delegate from Shelby county.

Mr. Richards was present and was called out. He stated his willingness to do anything for the party, but declared his position was a peculiar one.

It was an embarrassing position and the convention adjourned five minutes while a number of the leaders gathered around Mr. Richards. A number of them were Red Oak men and they finally prevailed. The statement was then made by Secretary Hunt that he doubted if his fellow townsman, Mr. Graham, would consent to surrender his law practice, but it was decided to nominate him anyway.

Among the interested spectators was Judge L. J. Horne of Muscatine, one of the two democratic district court judges in the state.

SEEK TO SECURE GIRL BY HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

A writ of habeas corpus was secured from Judge Arthur in the district court yesterday to secure the release from the Christian home orphanage in this city of Miss Nellie Smith, who was alleged in the petition to be more than 19 years old, and whom, it was charged, was being held against her will.

The records of the home in the case are explicit and clear. Miss Smith was taken into the home a number of years ago, and is one of the most lovable of the many girls there. She is now slightly past 18 years old. About ten months ago, with her full consent, she was permitted to go to the home of a family at Fort Dodge, Ia., who had furnished satisfactory credentials to the home management.

Among the interested spectators was Judge L. J. Horne of Muscatine, one of the two democratic district court judges in the state.

among other heavy duties and to lift her bodily. Her strength was insufficient and she declined.

The matter was then dropped for three months. Last Thursday another woman came from Fort Dodge, a Mrs. M. A. Brown, and insisted upon adopting Nellie Smith at once.

"The Crimmon Drama" - From Start to Finish

IF YOU had a room 50 yards square, every wall lined with book shelves from floor to ceiling; and if you filled every one of those shelves with books on the Civil War, you would not have room for all those that have been written—they number more than 7,000.

Brady War Photographs

"For four long years," wrote the old warhorse Longstreet, "the history of this country was written in the blood of its strong men." At last the heritage those mighty soldiers left can be yours. "America's Crimmon Drama" is re-incarnated in the actual photographs taken while the Civil War was going on and now published and distributed by this paper under the title—

"The Civil War Through the Camera"

In Sixteen Superb Sections— One Each Week for Coupon and 10c

Each week this paper will issue one of these parts in its regular sequence, thus enabling you to follow the stirring events of half a century ago just as they occurred. In this way every important event and phase of the war are covered.

Another good feature—every part is complete in itself. You can obtain one or all, just as you desire. You don't have to keep in your head anything that went before. Each part tells the full, entire story of a whole battle, from the first straggling party to the last gun fired. You enter into all the hopes and fears of the grim generals lined up for the fight. You learn what forces they had, and what brought on the struggle. You watch the opposing lines gradually close in.

Then comes the first screaming bullet and the dull shock of conflict. Back and forth you see them; they surge until one side gives way. Another chapter in history has been written. And with all the thrill of an eye witness you come to know, as you never did before, the meaning of the words, Bull Run, Shiloh, Corinth, Fredericksburg and all the rest down to Appomattox!

in them all of the sketches and the paintings that have been made in connection with the Civil War. Yet all these shelves and all these galleries together could give no reflection of the war so vivid, so accurate, so real, so living as the just-discovered, Long-Lost

The History by Professor Henry W. Elson

This is far more than a collection of pictures—however unique and valuable. Not only is every picture completely described—a feature of the utmost value and true only of the present work—but there is also a clear, interesting story of the battle or events from the mastery pen of Professor Henry W. Elson, of Ohio University.

Like the photographs, the text of THE CIVIL WAR THROUGH THE CAMERA is surprising. It is absolutely different from any and all of the histories you are used to. It is the kind of history you will like—you will want your children to know—and, best of all, the sort they will read without urging. For it is as fascinating as a fairy tale.

It took fifty years and fifty historians to make possible the text accompanying the Brady photographs illustrating this great history. Half a century for the rising and cooling of sectional passions; then half a hundred brilliant authors, including veterans of both sides, to carry out the fascinating plan of writing a history for its universal human importance and interest.

"Northerners" like General Greely and Colonel Church, have joined with "southerners" like ex-secretary Herbert and Captain Wuth, to make this history one that represents the whole country. And great is the nation's debt to those veterans of Blue and Gray, without whose sympathy and co-operation this great work could never have been realized.

How To Get the First Real History of the Civil War

Each subscriber can obtain this wonderful work of Elson's and Brady's fascinating, beautiful photographs for such a trifling sum that it will never be felt. Just cut out the War Souvenir Coupon each week and bring or send it to our office with 10 cents to cover necessary expense such as cost of material, handling, clerk hire, etc., and get your copy. Three cents extra by mail.

SPECIAL NOTICE The series naturally begins with Bull Run, that first great encounter of armed troops of the North and South. If you haven't received this Section, or any of the others that follow it, cut out the coupon this week and we will supply you with either one or all of the first eight sections for 70 cents each and the one coupon.

"I Can't Spare This Man—He Fights" - Lincoln

Grant was described in 1861 as a man "who knows how to do things." In February, 1862, he captured Fort Henry and Donelson, thus opening the way for a Federal advance up the Tennessee River.

Section 8—Ready Now
Contains a Description of Two Great Sieges— Vicksburg and Port Hudson—Fully Illustrated by 16 Pages of War-Time Photographs

The photographs in this section show not only the siege of these two great fortresses, but preliminary events leading up to their capture and the country which was fought over, besides many of the photographs of the organizations participating in the battle, the gunboats and the war-time portraits of General Grant and Admiral Dewey, the latter as a Civil War Lieutenant in the Navy—and a Colored Frontispiece—a Remarkable Military Painting by E. Packbauer, "The Bombardment of Port Hudson"—ready for framing.

Remember, the ORIGINAL Brady War Photographs and Elson's Newly Written History of the Civil War Can Be Only Obtained in This City Through This Paper.
