What Comon Honesty Demands. FRIEND, Neb., July 22.-To the Editor of The Bee: In an editorial entitled the 'Norris Proposal" the State Journal commends Mr. Norris for his courage and straightforwardness in proposing to resubmit his candidacy for the United States senatorship to the republican voters of Nebraska. I am compelled to say that it does not appear to me as being a fair proposition. Mr. Norris obtained a place on the ticket in the primary by virtue of his profession as a republican, and as a republican he received the nomination.... He has now apnounced that he has committed himself to the support of a man who has repudiated the republican party and even the name of republican, and who is devoting his energy to disrupting and disorganizaing the republican party. This is also true as to at least some of the presidential electors nominated on the republican ticket. As I understand the proposition made by Mr. Norris, he would subject the state to the heavy burden of paying for another primary to determine whether or not he is entitled to be honored by appearing as a republican party candidate. when he himself has declared that he is out of sympathy with such party and will do what he can to defeat it. Mr. Norris well knows, or should know, that another primary im impracticable and cannot, well be arranged for at this time. to say nothing about the injustice of compelling the taxpayers to bear the expense of a second primary. If Mr. Norris wishes to preserve his reputation for fairness and courageous action, it seems to me that the proper thing for him to do is to announce once for all, as others have done, that he is through with the republican party and will henceforth seek his fortune with the so-called progressive or by what other name that they may choose to call them-could be said to have the courage of his convictions. At the present time he, while apparently repudiating republicanism, seeks the benefit of the party appellation attached to his name in the present campaisn. It was well known before the primary that Mr. Norris was opposed to President Taft and his administration, but had; he publicly announced that in case President Taft was renominated he would lend his aid and influence to defeat and wreck the republican party, he could not have been the nominee of the republican party in Nebraska. This also applies to the presidential electors. Any presidential elector on the republican ticket who befleves he has a moral right to cast his electoral vote for Roosevelt should he become a member of the electoral college should immediately rid himself of, the idea. - Every candidate for presidential elector on the republican ticket who expects the support of republican voters should announce himself as being unreservedly in favor of the nominee of the republican party and his determination to cast his ballot as elector for William

H. Taft. This is the only course that I can see consistent with common honesty. R. M. PROUDFIT.
